TAFT ENDS HIS FIGHT.

Finishes Campaign in Ohio.

Delivers Many Speeches in Which He Exposes Gompers.

Repeats Pledge to Continue President's Present Policies.

Closing Day of Struggle Is One Long Ovation to Ohioan.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

YOUNGSTOWN (O.) Nov. 2.—The last word of his campaign has been spoken by William H. Taft, and he is now speeding to Cincinnati to cast his vote tomorrow.

"Vote the Republican ticket and preserve prosperity, protection to American industries, business integrity and the rights of labor."

This was the message with which Mr. Taft finished his fight.

The close of the campaign in this city tonight was, in magnitude and enthusiasm, a fitting climax to all that had gone before. The six and one-half hours Judge Taft spent in Youngstown were crowded with political events, resplendent with the pomp and show of party organization and a carnival of hilarity, noise and general abandon by the populace to the occasion.

Three speeches were required of the candidate—in the Park Theater, the Grand Opera house, and the public square.

Preceding these he reviewed a parade miles in length, composed of thousands of uniformed marchers. He was then guest of the prominent Republicans of the city at the Youngstown Club at a dinner.

ENTHUSIASM GROWS.

The last day of the campaign was remarkable, in that there was an increase rather than a diminishing of the crowds and enthusiasm wherever he went.

Beginning his work at Dunkirk, N. Y., this morning, he made addresses at Westfield, N. Y.; Erie, Pa., Ashtabula, Garrettsville, Cleveland and Youngstown, O.

The Cleveland meeting was a monster affair, and was preceded by a parade which was reviewed by the candidate, who passed through the lines in an automobile with Mrs. Taft.

The meeting in the Cleveland Armory was presided over by A. L. Faulkner, president of the National Order of Window Glass Makers.

Judge Taft's speech here was a repetition of his arguments to show why there should be no change in the policies of government, as applied by the present administration. He also took advantage of the opportunity to emphasize, as he had done throughout the day, that, notwithstanding opposition to him and the Republican party by Samuel Gompers, he would, if elected, maintain his great sympathy for and interest in the welfare of organized and unorganized labor, which, he maintained, his previous record sustained.

GOMPERS DISCREDITED.

"I want to say," he declared, "that it does not make any difference how much Mr. Gompers may misrepresent my position; it does not make any difference how much he misrepresents the position of the Supreme Court of the United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these gentlemen had the patience and justice to read by decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of running for the Presidency, they would have found that I have not changed from the principles I stated then.

"I have not turned back an iota from the principles I then established, and those principles, and those principles alone, are the basis upon which trades unionism can flourish in this country.

REPUBLICAN WEATHER.

Official Forecast Is Fair in All But Eleven States, Mostly Southern.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Fair weather in all but eleven States is the final forecast for election day, made tonight by the Weather Bureau.

Moderate temperature will prevail in all States. Showers are indicated for Tuesday in Georgia, Alabama, Western Florida, Mississippi, Eastern Louisiana, the mountains of Tennessee, the Carolinas, Washington, Oregon and Northern Idaho.

THE ONE HOSS SHAY.

Copyright, 1908, by The Mail and Express Company.

HIS PAST PREDICTIONS PROVE W. J. BRYAN FALSE PROPHET.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mr. Bryan, on the eve of election in 1896, made this prediction:

"We will sweep the East and we will sweep the West. After our opponents have found themselves driven from every battlefield upon which they have dared to fight in the closing days of this campaign, they are now resorting to fraud and forgery. . . . Since I left Nebraska early in September, I have been as far East as the Kennebec River, and I want to tell you there is a silver sentiment in Massachusetts and Maine as intense as it is in Nebraska. This is no sectional fight."

This is what developed:

| | |
|---|---|
| McKinley's popular vote | 7,104,779 |
| Bryan's popular vote | 6,502,925 |
| McKinley's electoral vote | 271 |
| Bryan's electoral vote | 176 |

Mr. Bryan, on the eve of the election of 1900, said:

"The fight has been made and won. Money and coercion robbed us of a victory in 1896, but they will be powerless to change the result this time. The people are in earnest and very few can be bought. Our organization is much better than it was in 1896, and therefore there is less danger of frauds. So far, attempts at intimidation have been very rare this year, where they were very common in 1896; and even where intimidation has been attempted it has angered the employees rather than coerced them."

This was the people's answer:

| | |
|---|---|
| McKinley's popular vote | 7,217,812 |
| Bryan's popular vote | 6,357,826 |
| McKinley's electoral vote | 292 |
| Bryan's electoral vote | 155 |

Mr. Bryan in Chicago yesterday said:

"I believe we will have votes to spare in the electoral college, and a considerable majority of the popular vote. I am more confident than ever before. My estimate is a minimum estimate. If the reports we have received directly from the Democrats and indirectly from the Republicans are half true, we will surely have a large majority in the electoral college and in the popular vote."

EAGER.

RAILROAD MAN ASKS DIVORCE.

SAYS HIS WIFE SPENDS TOO MUCH ON CAB RIDES.

Mrs. Burns Admits in Her Answer That She Likes to Ride, But Denies She Is a "Habitual Drunkard, Like Other Society Women," She Knows.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Circuit Judge Matt G. Reynolds here today took under advisement the divorce petition of George M. Burns, former general manager of the Wabash Railroad between Detroit and Chicago, from Mrs. Clara M. Burns, who has been living with her brother in Detroit, since she and Burns separated.

Mrs. Burns was in court with her Detroit attorney, and is not opposing the divorce if granted on a simple charge of desertion. Burns certified she quarreled with him about trivialities, went to hotels and boarding-houses, concealed her whereabouts from him, left him after he objected to her drinking and her habit of spending money for carriage rides. In her deposition she says he knocked her down and shook her until hair pins dropped from her hair.

"I was not a habitual drunkard, like other society women," she deposed. "I took something to drink when I went out in company with my husband."

She admits in the deposition that a man estimated as worth $18,000,000 gave her a $11,000 diamond cross while she was at Wauwatosa (Wis.) Sanatorium. This same man asked her to get a divorce and marry him, but she told him she was not that kind of a woman, and returned his present. She admitted driving six blocks with a Mr. Keyes, and she also drove with Walter McBride, and borrowed $20 from McBride for needed car fare.

The Burnses were married in Detroit in 1906, and separated April 23, 1907.

JAPANESE HOPEFUL.

TOKIO, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Jiji Shimpo alleges that the conclusion of an American-Japanese agreement is imminent. However, there is good authority for saying that negotiations with that end in view have not even been opened.

It is felt that the idea is a good one and that steps toward realizing it may be taken after the Presidential election in the United States. While the Japanese fervently hope for a formal cementing of the national relations with America this does not imply that they have any misgivings because there is no written alliance, as they recognize the difficulty America would have in entering into any foreign compact.

BOYCOTT WAR.

RIOTERS CUT OFF MERCHANTS' EARS

Mobs Attack Hongkong and Singapore Men Who Break Compact to Refrain from Handling Japanese Goods—Cash Rewards for Thugs.

HONGKONG, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] All through the day, starting at early morning, the rioting consequent on the revival of the boycott against Japanese goods, has been continued. The streets were crowded with excited mobs, and serious clashes occurred, the populace fighting the police with sticks and stones.

It is reported that the outbreak was planned in Canton, whence five hundred coolies were dispatched to destroy the shops of merchants here who broke their compact to refrain from importing Japanese goods. They were offered, it is asserted, in case of arrest and imprisonment, a dollar a day for the time of their sentence, fifteen dollars for every merchant's ear cut off and presented to the organizers of the movement, and two hundred dollars for every merchant killed.

This afternoon the rioters attacked the police, who were unable to cope with them. Two shots were fired, wounding two Chinese, and then the military were called out to patrol the streets.

Two merchants who infringed the boycott compact were captured today and their ears were cut off by the mob.

It is believed now that it will be difficult to suppress the boycott. Today more than a hundred Chinese, charged in the police court with having taken part in the riots, were sentenced to terms of imprisonment ranging from a week to three months. The Japanese community is alarmed lest the rioters attack them.

They are arming themselves with knives in lieu of fire-arms, which cannot be purchased. Military patrols are now doing duty in the streets, and tonight all the police are armed with ball cartridges. But the crowds are quiet and the disturbances appear to be over for the time being.

At Singapore similar riots have occurred and a number of merchants said to have shown a desire to discontinue the boycott and otherwise favor Japanese have been branded as traitors, and in several instances marked by having their ears slit.

The riots were organized primarily by the students of Hongkong, and the disturbance evidently is widespread.

ELECTRICITY FOR IRRIGATION.

Small Farmers in Plumas County Will Avail Themselves of New Power Development.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A thousand small farmers in Plumas county, Cal., north of here, are to irrigate their lands with water pumped by electricity, according to announcement made by Charles K. Reid, who is one of the managers of the Round Valley Land and Power Company, with offices in Greenville. Contracts for power are already being made by the corporation, and notices are being sent out to all the farmers, telling them of the plans. The power company is establishing its plant west of Greenville, where a fall of 900 feet of water can be used for generating electric power. Reid estimates it will develop 2000 horse power.

Six of the Northeastern California towns which have heretofore burned petroleum for lighting will install electric lights by the first of the year, when it is proposed to string wires from Greenville as the local point.

TOMALTY CASE FIRST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—The grand jury met today, and after deciding to give the case of James C. Tomalty, former book-keeper in the City Treasurer's office, and now at liberty on bail on a charge of raising a check in connection with the treasury shortage, first place on the calendar, adjourned to meet again November 9.

It was decided that the treasury shortage should be looked into before the several jury tampering cases pending in the Ruef investigations were taken up.

"THE TIMES" ELECTION BULLETINS.

The Times has made the most elaborate arrangements in its history to provide its patrons this evening with the election news from all parts of the country. The Associated Press bulletin service will be supplemented by special Postal Telegraph and Western Union bulletins transmitted from the telegraph instruments direct to the canvas.

Bulletins will be displayed in two places, from The Times building, at First and Broadway, and also at the branch office at No. 531 South Spring street, between Fifth and Sixth. The service will be begun at dusk and continued to 1 o'clock a. m.

The Bulletins at First and Broadway can be read both ways on Broadway and also on First street, will be very plainly and sharply lettered and will be "good, easy reading."

In addition, on 100 bulletin boards of The Times about the central part of the city bulletins will be posted once an hour up to midnight.

ALL FOR TAFT.

BATTLE IS WON.

People's Decision to Be Known Soon.

Final Careful Canvass Shows Strong Majority for Taft.

Personality of Big Ohioan and Republican Issues Will Triumph.

Bryan's Sincerity in His Wild Bank Guarantee Scheme Doubted.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] More than thirteen million men will march to the polls tomorrow to decide who will be the next President of the United States.

The work of the party leaders is done. Over the land the light of the red-fire and the sound of the band and orator's voice is stilled. The battle for one candidate is won; for the other it is lost.

Who will win? All indications point to the election of the Republican candidate. The last canvass that has been made shows that a majority of the voters will cast their ballots for William Howard Taft, the big man from Ohio, who has been so much before the people in his public life for the last twenty years.

The newspapers all over the country, whether friendly to the Republican candidate or not, admit that "it looks like Taft."

NO ONE BACKS BRYAN.

In New York, the estimates vary. Some political writers declare that Mr. Bryan will carry the State, others that Taft will win. Most of those who forecast the outcome base their conclusions on confidential reports from the various doubtful States have indicated that Bryan could gain the support necessary to carry off the honors.

"Only a landslide can defeat Taft," is the consensus of opinion. There does not seem to be any foundation for the thought that there might be a landslide.

It has not been a fight over issues that have not been fought over before. Mr. Bryan's campaign on free silver was lost because a great majority of the people did not like the idea of the money standard being tampered with. There was a landslide away from him.

There has been much said about a bank guarantee, but the people have no notion that any such legislation is seriously anticipated, even by its most ardent admirer.

"Let Oklahoma try the experiment," shouts a business man. "We will see how it works out there. Better go slow."

One student of politics has said that this campaign was based more than anything else on the personality of the candidates. And it seems that he was right. This same writer, after studying the two leading candidates, has said that Taft should win.

Debs, the candidate of the Socialists, returned from his tour over the country today, declaring that Taft would win. He said that he found the Democratic party disorganized and marked with factions.

Hearst, the editor and father of the Independence party, says that Taft will win, at the same time advising the people to vote for his party's man for the moral effect.

Chafin, the nominee of the Prohibition party, says that Taft will win, but that the vote for the "water wagon" party will be the largest in the history of the organization.

Bookmakers, the men who wager money, not from a feeling of loyalty to any party traditions, but to add to their bank rolls, show their belief in the claims made by the Republicans, by asking the bettors to risk seven dollars to gain one in addition, at the same time, offering to give seven dollars for every two wagered on Bryan's election in the event of the success of the Nebraskan.

The last days have not been marked by any "roorbacks" that have had any effect. The statement that J. D. Rockefeller was supporting Taft came in time to be shown to be a canard—a small trick that probably reacted against the men who played it.

NO BLOCKADE YET ORDERED.

Holland Will Not Take Drastic Action Against Venezuela Until Reply from Castro.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

THE HAGUE, Nov. 2.—No blockade of the ports of Venezuela by The Netherlands government has yet been ordered, nor will any definite action be taken until the government receives the official text of President Castro's reply to the second Dutch note.

WOMAN KILLS POLICE CHIEF.

SEATTLE, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A cablegram received here today says that at 10:30 o'clock this morning Blanche Duvall shot Al Miller, chief of police, at the Pioneer Hotel, Fairbanks, Alaska. The revolver bullet entered the left breast, took a downward course and lodged in the pelvis. Miller died tonight. The woman came from Seattle last summer. She is now in jail.

NEARING END.

MORSE WINS ONE POINT.

Misappropriation Allegation Thrown Out of Court.

Lawyers Begin Arguments in the Celebrated Case.

Ice King Neither "Welcher Nor Coward."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—One of the most important allegations in connection with the charges against Charles W. Morse and A. H. Curtis was thrown out of court today.

The misappropriation allegation was made in connection with a $100,000 note given by Calvin Austin. It is said that the charge was thrown out on the ground that the National Bank of North America was not damaged by the transaction.

Before the arguments were begun today but two witnesses called by counsel for Curtis were examined. They were James Lyon and E. A. Hubbs, clerks employed in the National Bank of North America.

Their testimony concerning the method of entering checks when they came to the bank was designed to show that there was nothing unusual in the certification of the Heinze check for $214,000 on the morning of October 16, and that it would not be strange if President Curtis did not know of the existence of the check until 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mr. Littlefield opened a lengthy argument for the defense. The case will go to the jury tomorrow. The lawyer was very bitter in his denunciation of the men Morse had helped, who had "shared his bounty," but who, when the panic came, "turned upon him."

These men, whom Littlefield characterized as sycophants, had gathered about Morse and shared in his bounty when the markets were good, but who, when dark days came, were ready to jump on his back and at his throat.

"Mr. Morse is neither a welcher nor a coward," vehemently insisted the lawyer.

CALHOUN DENIES RUMOR.

Announcement That Certain New Yorkers Are Backing New Traction Company, False, He Says.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railways of San Francisco, commenting on advertisements appearing in San Francisco papers in which the announcement is made of the formation of a syndicate of New York capitalists to finance the new street railroad corporation, for which a franchise is being sought, declared tonight that, insofar as the mention of G. W. Harriman and John D. Lindsay as backers of the new company was concerned, the advertisements were misleading and unjustified.

Mr. Calhoun claims to have the personal assurance of Mr. Harriman that he is in no way connected with the new company. As for Mr. Lindsay, his partner, former District Attorney, Delancey Nicoll, is according to Mr. Calhoun, authority for the statement that he has no interest, actual or in prospect, in the corporation in question.

MRS. EDDY BUYS AUTO.

Head of Christian Science Church Gives Up Fat Horses and Carriage Used for Years.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON (Mass.) Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, head of the Christian Science Church, finds her fat, staid and comfortable horses, with the famous carriage that has been the means of her daily rides for years, altogether too slow, now that she has moved from the country into the city and today she purchased a magnificent imported French car of ninety-horse-power and had it sent out to her Chestnut Hill home. A chauffeur from the agency went along and this afternoon he spent several hours giving Secretary Coachman Frye lessons in driving. Mrs. Eddy will have her first experience in automobiling tomorrow.

MORE OUTLAWS KILLED.

Band Which Has Caused Much Trouble on Island of Mindanao Overtaken.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

MANILA, Nov. 2.—A force of constabulary of the town of Iligan sent in pursuit of a band of Moros which had been raiding plantations and causing other depredations in the province of Misamis, on Mindanao Island, overtook the outlaws, killed the leader and is following the rest of the band, according to a dispatch received here today. This band has caused much trouble in the province and with its capture it is believed quiet will be restored in that part of Mindanao Island.

ELKS PREPARE FOR REUNION.

Cincinnati Lodge Appoints a Committee to Represent It Here Next Summer.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Exalted Ruler James Richardson of the local lodge of Elks today appointed a committee of fifteen members of that organization to represent Lodge No. 5 at the annual reunion at Los Angeles the second week of July next. This committee consists of Thomas J. Cogan, chairman; A. B. Dumlap, William Bodemer, W. A. Hopkins, John Galvin, E. L. Lewis, Dr. L. Grear, Dr. C. F. Winton, Dr. W. A. Leach, J. P. Brennan, C. A. Zimmerman, John G. Roth, Benjamin Greenwald, E. T. Allen and Thomas J. Logan.

August Hermann will be pushed for the office of Grand Exalted Ruler of the national organization. The committee will leave in a private train.

UNEMPLOYED PARADE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—A parade of unemployed in which about 100 joined, was held here today under the auspices of the National Unemployed Committee. The men marched from Duane street to Cooper Union, where a meeting was arranged, presided over by J. Eads Howe, chairman of the committee. Letters in response to invitations were received from Louis Chanler and Governor Hughes, stating that other engagements prevented them from being present. Several local leaders addressed the meeting.

PITH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Seasonable weather prevailed today throughout the Middle West, except in a few southern points. In Chicago the day was delightful. Temperature was cool and sky clear, with a humidity of 80 per cent., and a wind of only ten miles an hour from the Southwest. The forecast for tomorrow for the whole Middle West is fair weather and mild temperature. Chicago's maximum temperature today was 54, and the minimum 43 deg. Middle West temperatures:

DEER STOPS BIG MILL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAULT STE. MARIE (Mich.) November 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A frightened deer dashed into the rolling mill at the plant of the Algoma Steel Company and leaped into the rolls which were turning out steel rails. As a result, 1000 men were idle several hours. A buck and a doe emerged from the river near the plant and wandered about the yards. When a yard engine came steaming by, the buck deserted his companion and plunged into the river again. The doe, trembling with fear, ran in the direction of the mill, rushing along the tracks and leaping over the heads of the startled workmen, landed in the steaming rolls.

ARKANSAS RIVER ON RAMPAGE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PINE BLUFF (Ark.) Nov. 2.—Owing to a sudden rise in the Arkansas River, the high banks in front of this city are caving in rapidly, and the eastern section of the business district is threatened with destruction.

BURGLARS PLAY POKER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CLEVELAND (O.) Nov. 2.—Burglars enjoyed a fine lunch and then played a game of poker for their victim's money in his own home. The rattle of the poker chips aroused the family of Leroy Gleason of this city. Gleason stole down the stairs and saw the burglars busily taking his own money. "I bet thirty," said one burglar. His companion happened to glance up at the door, and saw Gleason. "I pass," he yelled, and shot through the open window. The other burglar grabbed the stakes and followed him. Two men answering their description were arrested shortly afterward.

CIGARETTE PAPER SAVES LIFE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CENTRALIA (Mo.) Nov. 2.—The only known instance where a package of cigarette paper saved a life occurred here last night, when Clyde Younger, a young man employed by a grocery house, was attacked by a burglar in the rear of his employer's store. Younger was closing the store for the night, when he discovered the would-be robber behind a salt barrel. The man attacked Younger with a long knife. A murderous thrust cut its way through the coat, vest and a book of cigarette papers, and inflicted a slight wound. The book was heavily padded with cardboard.

Step Up Will Come Next Month, Probably on the Date of the Publication of His New Book on His Recent Explorations in Ruwenzori, Africa.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Duke of the Abruzzi will be promoted to the rank of rear-admiral about November 15, a date which coincides with the publication of his book on the Ruwenzori expedition in Africa.

Your correspondent is assured that the delay of the Elkins-Abruzzi wedding is not due to any hitch or to fresh difficulties raised by members of the royal family who are opposed to the union.

The objections of Dowager Queen Margherita, it is said, are absolutely powerless to prevent the marriage or to persuade the Duke to break his engagement, as his determination and aptitude for overcoming obstacles is well known.

Queen Margherita opposed the marriage. She disapproved of the match, but as the King, who is the head of the family, gave his consent, her formal disapproval disappeared.

Plan of Campaign for Ending Boer War Drawn Up by Emperor William Never Communicated to British War Office—Irishmen Angry at Implied Slight on Lord Roberts.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—In spite of the fact that Crown Prince Frederick William visited Chancellor von Buelow this morning, which is an indication that the Chancellor retains the imperial favor, there are many rumors current that the Chancellor will persist in retiring.

Various statesmen are mentioned to succeed him. H. von Kiderlin-Weachter, the German Minister to Bucharest, Roumania, has been summoned to act as foreign secretary during the illness of Herr von Schoen, which promises to be protracted.

IRISHMEN ANGRY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, Nov. 2.—It became evident today that the plan of campaign for ending the Boer War which was drawn up by Emperor William and sent to Queen Victoria, according to the interview with His Majesty that appeared last week in the Daily Telegraph, was not communicated to the British War Office.

This matter has aroused the ire of the Irishmen, who affect to see therein an attempt to rob their fellow countryman, Lord Roberts, of the glory attached to his success. William Redmond, the Nationalist, tackled War Secretary Haldane on the subject in the House of Commons this afternoon. The Secretary replied that the archives of the War Office contained no such document and that he could find no record of its ever having been in the possession of anybody connected with the War Office.

Mr. Redmond wound up his question by suggesting that Mr. Haldane propose to Premier Asquith the propriety of offering Emperor William a seat in the British Cabinet, thereby making the situation regular.

FLEET AT MANILA.

MANILA, Nov. 2.—The flagship Connecticut and the Vermont, Nebraska, Kansas and Georgia of the first squadron of the Atlantic battleship fleet came to Manila today from Olongapo for coal and stores. The Vermont returned to Olongapo tonight.

The calibration of the guns on the ships is about completed, and the squadron will soon begin target practice.

No plans for the reception of the officers and men of the fleet at Manila have as yet been made. It is expected that Rear-Admiral Sperry and Gov.-Gen. Smith will confer about the reception plans shortly, and arrive at some conclusion as to when the officers and men can be given shore leave.

There continues to be an average of three new cholera cases a day in Manila, but the disease is now largely confined to outlying districts.

The cholera situation, it is believed, is now under complete control.

"DOUGH DAY" AT TAMMANY HALL.

DISTRICT LEADERS DRAW MONEY FOR ELECTION DAY.

Vicinity of Wigwam Thronged With Murphy's Lieutenants and Their Heelers, All on Hand to Get Sacks of Coin—Fifty Thousand in Cash Passed Out.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] This was "dough day" at Tammany. Fourteenth street was blocked with the motors and cabs and carriages which brought the Tammany leaders for their election-day money. Tammany Hall itself was filled with them, big, sleek, shrewd-looking chaps, as they sat about in soft chairs and smoked good cigars and told each other what they really expected to do in their districts tomorrow and what they were telling the public they would do.

The pavement in front of the hall was filled with the heelers who came along as guards for their leaders, for $50,000 or more was being passed out in cold cash today, and there is always a chance that some one not connected with Tammany might take a chance on getting away with a bundle if the custodians were not protected.

Charley Murphy reached the hall at 9:30 o'clock. He sat for a moment at his desk, while leader after leader walked up and exchanged a few words with him. Then he entered the inner executive room, where the coin was being handled. Here the sum apportioned to each district had been placed in a canvas sack. On the exterior was stencilled the number of the district and the name of its leader. "Big Jim" Gaffney sat in the executive room with the boss and aided him in his preparations. The money was all in clean bills of small denominations.

At 11:30 o'clock the word was given and the leaders began to file into the executive room. Each paused for a moment at Murphy's desk, where he shook hands, chatted for a moment, was given the final orders by the boss of Tammany Hall, and then moved out and on, carrying a bag, each of the common potato sort.

No one would say, of course, how much money was actually passed out. It is estimated, however, that each election district leader will have $40 or more tomorrow. As there are 735 districts in the greater city and 156 in the Bronx, the total will be a very formidable sum.

MRS. HAINS PROTESTS.

Declares Publication of Letters Is Attempt to Blacken Her Character by Husband.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—The publication of extracts from letters purporting to have been written by Mrs. Claudia Hains to her husband, Capt. Peter C. Hains, has elicited a declaration from Mrs. Hains that Capt. Hains and his brother, T. Jenkins Hains, are seeking to blacken her character, "in their attempt to save their own lives."

Mrs. Hains, in her statement published today, asserts that the obvious reason for the attacks is that they were the only way in which the Hains brothers could justify themselves before the public and "manufacture public sympathy in the community in which they are to be tried."

Mrs. Hains alludes to the letters as having been forged and garbled and declares that the charges against her suggested by the letters are false.

TRIAL GOES OVER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Affidavits were today presented by counsel for the Hains brothers, charged with the killing of William E. Annis, to sustain a motion for the postponement of the impending trial. The documents contained declarations of expert witnesses stating that Capt. Hains was not in fit mental condition. Judge Aspinall granted a postponement of a week.

Joseph A. Shay, counsel for Peter Hains, Jr., said today that if Claudia Hains would come to New York and make an affidavit that the letters and diary which have been published are false, Hains's counsel will pay her $100. Mr. Shay declared that he was anxious to have Mr. Hains go on the witness stand.

QUESTION AWARD.

British Aero Club Protests Against Decision Giving Swiss Balloon Prize in Recent Race.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The British Aëro Club is protesting against the decision of the German Aëro Club in awarding the first prize to Col. Schaeck, the pilot of the Swiss balloon Helvetia, which was towed ashore by Norwegian fishermen and failing to recognize the pilots who obeyed the rules of the club. The British Aëro Club says it has definite information that the Helvetia fell into the sea and was towed ashore, thus being disqualified for the prize. The Aëro Club has also protested.

OPEN BIDS FOR SUBMARINES.

Eight New Torpedo Boats to Be Constructed.

Three Concerns Enter Names in Competition.

Appropriation Is Three and a Half Millions.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Bids were opened at the Navy Department for the construction of eight new submarine torpedo boats, for which Congress has appropriated $2,500,000.

There were three bidders. The Electric Boat Company of Quincy, Mass.; the Lake Torpedo Boat Company, Bath, Maine, and the American Laurenti Company of Philadelphia.

The Electric Boat Company bid for both boats of 435 tons displacement from $414,000 to $444,000, according to the class and number of boats built on the Atlantic Coast. For constructing the same boats on the Pacific Coast their prices range from $446,000 to $461,000.

For a boat of 275 tons displacement their price ranges from $360,000 to $390,000 and for the same boats constructed on the Pacific Coast from $388,000 to $403,000.

The Lake Torpedo Boat Company bids on boats from 518 tons from $435,000 to $460,000 the same boats built on the Pacific being from $483,000 to $500,000.

On vessels of 410 tons displacement the price was from $382,500 to $410,000 built on the Atlantic, and from $425,000 to $435,000 built on the Pacific Coast.

The bid of the American Laurenti Company was for one or two boats of 535 tons displacement at $437,000.

PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT.

INCREASE FOR OCTOBER SHOWN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. — The monthly statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business October 31, 1908, the debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $376,775,625, which is an increase for the month of $8,511,975. The debt is recapitulated as follows: Interest-bearing debt, $897,203,980; debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, $3,738,235; debt bearing no interest, $392,465,652; total, $1,293,457,873. This amount, however, does not include $1,344,315,869 in certificates and treasury notes outstanding, which are offset by an equal amount of cash held in the treasury for their redemption. The cash in the treasury is classified as follows: Gold reserve, $150,000,000; trust funds, $1,344,315,869; general fund, $140,464,793; in national bank depositories, $131,692,492; in treasury of Philippine Islands, $4,029,615; total, $1,770,502,682, against which there are demand liabilities outstanding amounting to $1,453,621,429, which leaves a cash balance on hand of $316,881,252.

COMPTROLLER'S STATEMENT.

NATIONAL NOTE CIRCULATION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The monthly statement issued by the Comptroller of the Currency shows that at the close of business October 31, 1908, the amount of national notes in circulation was $665,844,192, an increase for the year of $55,863,726, and a decrease for the month of $9,768,135. The amount based upon circulation of United States bonds was $26,778,555, and the amount secured by lawful money was $39,065,637, the amount of bonds on deposit to secure circulation notes was $652,324,950, and to secure public deposits, $138,803,510.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

INCREASE IN BOTH IS SHOWN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The comparative statement of the government receipts and expenditures for October, 1908, shows an increase in receipts of $1,711,000, and an increase in expenditures of $7,000,000, as compared with September, 1908. This increase in expenditure, however, is due entirely to the payment to the Postoffice Department of $7,000,000 on account of the quarterly deficit in the postal revenues. The total receipts for the month were $49,317,724, and the expenses, $60,038,762, leaving a deficit for the month of $10,721,038. The increase in the public debt during October, less cash in the treasury, was $8,511,975.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A sensation was sprung by the defense in the Ruef case today when Henry Ach announced that he was willing to give up the seemingly futile attempt to get two other regularly qualified jurors, and was ready to fill the box with two lawyers agreed upon between himself and Heney.

"If you can get two good men to serve, I'll agree," responded Heney, who he had somewhat recovered from his surprise.

"I have discussed the matter with Mr. Dosier," Ach continued, "and would be willing to get a number of men and take the first two whose names come out of the box. Or we would be willing to take two Superior judges."

Judge Lawlor objected to the idea of two members of the bar, though they be two judges, sitting with ten jurymen.

"You might agree upon two laymen, however," he said.

The suggestion of counsel did not prevent the court from ordering a special sheriff's venire of sixty to be returned on Wednesday morning, and if nothing comes of Ach's offer, the heavy work of asking citizens if they have an opinion in the case will be continued indefinitely.

RENO (Nev.) Nov. 2.—Because their houses had been declared unsanitary by the grand jury, about a hundred Chinamen of Reno were made homeless today when the shacks in which they had lived were torn down under the direction of city officials. Work of demolition started early this morning with a small force of men at work. Chinese inmates who refused to vacate had their homes torn down over them.

When several houses had been torn down and burned the fire chief gave permission to set fire to the rest in places where the fire could be controlled. Before the day is over it is expected that some forty shacks covering over a block of ground will have been razed. What will become of the homeless Chinamen the municipal authorities are unable to say.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Nov. 2.—Press opinion received by the steamer Antilloch today, of the welcome by the Japanese to the American battleships, collected from the press of Japan, from the Kuriles to Nagasaki, contain most eulogistic expressions.

The Kokumin Shimbun, of Tokio, says: "The cordial relations between America and Japan are a guarantee for the world's peace, the keystone of a pervading civilization and a ladder to the higher development of humanity."

Yoenodzu Choho, of Tokio: "We regard the United States as our best friend. From her we have received so much favor during the last fifty years that we cannot regard her as anything other than that. We heartily welcome the United States battleship fleet to our shores, and hope that its visit will further cement the close friendship now existing between the two nations."

Nichi Nichi, of Tokio: "With hearts overflowing with pleasure and with the deepest sincerity do we extend our welcome to the battleships of our ever-friendly neighbor."

Miyako Shimbun, of Tokio: "The most cordial relations between America and Japan are well established and while we take great pleasure in joining our hearty welcome to those of others, we do so with the devout prayer that those relations may ever increase in sincerity and that through this happy event a new bond may bind the hearts of the two nations."

Hochi Shimbun, of Tokio: "Looking back to the time of the gallant Commodore Perry's arrival at Uraga, now about fifty-five years ago, we joyously welcome this new American fleet, and only trust that this happy event may prove a stepping stone to a still higher friendship and a deeper significance of our national intercourse with our friends of Shimbun."

Osaka Mainichi Shimbun, of Osaka: "Believing that this is a rare opportunity for us to be able to show the depth of our feelings toward the United States—this intimate visit of the American fleet to this country—we desire to offer to it our hearty welcome, while at the same time we pray that the always friendly relations of the two countries may thus be brought still closer."

Shugai Shogice Shimpo, of Tokio: "The two most memorable events this country has experienced so far as its foreign intercourse is concerned are first, the visit of Commodore Perry's fleet, now more than half a century ago, and now, again the coming of the present American fleet. Therefore our welcome to this great fleet is both sincere and heartfelt."

Drowned in Flood.

VICTORIA (B. C.) Nov. 2.—News was brought by the steamer Antilochus of heavy floods and great loss of life by floods in Formosa. In the rivers in the neighborhood of Keelung, Ciran, and Tanko, overflowed, forty junks were wrecked or washed away and a large number of lives were lost.

Receiver for Road.

PORTLAND, Nov. 2.—Charging that the Central Railway Company of Oregon is insolvent and has defaulted in the payment of interest installments since January 1, 1907, on mortgage bonds to the amount of $500,000, the American Trust Company of Boston has filed foreclosure proceedings in the Federal Court and the road has been placed in the hands of Chester V. Dolph and Henry N. Berry, as receivers.

Asks Financial Balm.

TUCSON (Ariz.) Nov. 2.—Civil suit was filed in the District Court here today by Sidney Bieber, Republican National Committeeman to the District of Columbia, against the Arizona Daily Star, for $100,000 in alleged libel. Bieber has taken a prominent part in the campaign for delegate. Articles upon which the suit is based attacked him upon political grounds.

Tale of Wrecks.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—The British ship California, which arrived yesterday, 199 days from Rotterdam, brought word of the loss of the British ship Palgrave, near Coquimbo, Chile. The Palgrave was abandoned by her officers and crew after she had sprung a leak in a heavy storm on October 16. The men reached Coquimbo and the ship sank. At the same port there was a rumor that the German ship Henrietta had been lost, but this was not verified.

Log Kills Man Who Stumbles.

ATLIN (B. C.) Nov. 2.—Joseph Peno, a young Spaniard, engaged in mining on the Pine River, met a violent death near Discovery on Saturday. Peno had gone into the bush to get out firewood. He was returning home carrying a heavy log on his shoulder. When crossing a sheet of ice he slipped and fell. The log rolled across his head, crushing the skull.

EDITORIAL NOTE.

SUED FOR LIBEL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN JOSE (Cal.) Nov. 2.—This afternoon supervisors Henry Mayer, A. L. Hubbard, and Frank E. Mitchell filed complaints in Justice Brown's court against Charles M. Shortridge, editor of the Morning Times, for alleged criminal libel, based upon an article that apeared in that paper this morning, attacking the integrity of those officials.

The Times has been charging in its columns for several days past that these supervisors have made and allowed for themselves overcharges in mileage and expenses in connection with their duties, and this morning that paper was especially emphatic in its denunciations of these members of the board.

TWO INJURED.

CAR TURNS TURTLE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

OAKLAND, Nov. 2.—Two men were severely injured, narrowly escaping death, in an automobile accident near San Leandro bridge, in this county, yesterday.

Sherrill W. Windsor, a retired pottery manufacturer, and W. F. Dickerson of Oakland, were riding in a car which turned turtle and rolled down an embankment. Windsor had several ribs broken and sustained a fracture of the right hip. Dickerson was cut and his shoulder was badly wrenched.

FIREMAN IN ENGINE SHOT.

MYSTERIOUS CRIME IN NEVADA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

RENO (Nev.) Nov. 2.—John Middaugh, of Sacramento, a fireman on the Southern Pacific, was mysteriously shot last night while running between there and Sparks. The bullet ploughed through his shoulder and into the lung. He fell unconscious to the floor of the cab and laid there while Engineer Christensen rushed at full speed to Sparks, where Middaugh was taken to a hospital. His condition is critical. His parents live in Sacramento.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Train Kills Unknown.

TACOMA, Nov. 2.—A Northern Pacific train struck and killed an unknown man in Dead Man's Cut near here late Sunday. He was dressed in a corduroy suit and heavy loggers' shoes. In his pocket was a tax statement issued to W. C. Harris, Tuolumne county, Cal., dated March 31, of this year.

Governor Resting.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 2.—Worn out in mind and body as a result of his strenuous campaign tour throughout the State in the interests of Taft, Gov. Gillett is resting at the gubernatorial mansion, having decided not to go to Eureka, his home town, to vote.

HIS SKYWARD ROUTE WRONG

Member of Seattle Synagogue Suspended for Disrespect Toward Church.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For using levity in his dealing with the congregation of Temple De Hirsch and refusing to apologize, I. E. Moses, a prominent real estate dealer, was indefinitely suspended yesterday afternoon.

The board of trustees of which Leo Kohn is treasurer, temporarily suspended the offending member some weeks ago. He appealed to the congregation and after a hearing the board was sustained.

Mr. Moses, in sending a check for the payment of the rent of two seats in the Temple indorsed it "For two seats, celestial transportation route."

This was regarded as disrespectful and the check was returned. Mr. Moses sought relief in the courts and brought mandamus proceedings to compel the board to restore to him what he regarded his rights. Judge George Morris, who heard the case, decided that the church had a right to make its own rules and denied the writ.

ARIZONA.

CHARGED WITH MURDER PLOT.

Sheriff Accused of a Plan to Kill Miner.

Globe Stirred Over Amazing Accusations.

Witness Breaks Down and Makes Confession.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

GLOBE (Ariz.) Oct. 31.—A formal charge that two of the town's most prominent residents had plotted to kill George Palmer, a local mining man, has stirred the entire city.

The accused were Sheriff J. H. Thompson, affectionately known as "Rimrock," who has been completely exonerated, and Jack Newman, one of the wealthiest mining men of the district. Thompson now is a candidate for reelection.

The accusation was made public through the arrest at Tucson of Willis Woods, a Globe miner, charged with criminal libel, the complaint against him being subscribed to by Newman. While intoxicated, in Globe, Woods had darkly hinted at murderous plots and Newman promptly proceeded to look further into the matter.

The preliminary examination was before Justice of the Peace Hinson Thomas. Palmer testified how he had been told by Woods that he had been approached by agents of Newman and Thompson and had been asked to sign some "crooked papers," affecting a mining property over which Palmer had had some trouble with the men accused. He said that Woods had refused to sign and swore he had been offered $2000 and then $5000 to assassinate Palmer.

The case, after taking a couple of days of the court's time, came to an abrupt end yesterday afternoon, when Woods took the stand and was sworn in his own behalf. His testimony might be condensed into a couple of sentences:

SHERIFF IS INNOCENT.

"Henry Thompson is as innocent in this as a ten-year-old kid. It was Palmer's make-up and mine, together." Woods declared that he had been asked by Palmer to help him "get a whack" at Thompson and to make him quit the town. "He wanted me to swear that Henry Thompson and Jack Newman had hired me and Billy Taylor and Fagin and Ed McGee to kill him (Palmer)—and that's a lie and any man who tells it says a lie."

"Palmer says," Woods proceeded, "you had better swear, you boys, that they took you down to a big hotel—this hotel Newman owns a part of—in a hack, and that they offered you $1500, then $2000 and then $5000 to kill me."

Woods testified, in addition, that Palmer discussed with his own attorney a plan for assassinating Newman and for fixing the evidence so that it would appear that the murder had been done in self-defense.

Woods has been discharged from custody, but interest is keen over the next stage of the controversy, for it is probable that action will be taken by Thompson and Newman directly against Palmer.

FIGHT GAMBLING.

Globes' City Council is considering the passage of an ordinance prohibiting every form of gambling. The Territorial law takes care of banking games, such as roulette and faro, but in many places games such as poker still are tolerated. Even this form of amusement will be abolished here according to indications at present.

WIFE'S CHANCE NOW.

In the Gila County Jail is one prisoner who has little desire for freedom. He is John Massey, a miner, charged with attempted seduction of a young girl. A part of the punishment allotted him is to permit his wife to see him daily and to freely speak her mind through the bars. This she does with rare appreciation of the opportunity. At the time of his arrest, her sympathy was shown by her forceful remark, "Oh, I want to take you home and break your head in two pieces." It took a couple of officers to save the prisoner from damage at her hands.

LIFE'S SEAMY SIDE.

SELF-POISONED, SINGER DIES.

DESPONDENT AT LOSS OF HER SWEETHEART.

Drinks Quantity of Bichloride of Mercury Shortly After Receiving Package Containing Her Presents to Him—Sister in Los Angeles Scouts Story of Man's Desertion.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OAKLAND, Nov. 2.—Miss Ada Beamer, the Oakland singer, who was taken from the Hotel St. Marks on Sunday suffering from the effects of bichloride of mercury, died this morning in a sanatorium in Alameda.

It is now thought by the police that the woman committed suicide because of a love affair. It is believed that she belongs to a wealthy family in Pennsylvania. Coroner Tisdale will take charge of the case this afternoon.

Several weeks ago the woman was operated upon in a hospital.

Those who were the friends of the dead girl decline to talk much about her. It is generally admitted that Miss Beamer was infatuated with a young man of this city and that she was engaged to wed him.

Three days ago she received a telephone message from her lover, whose identity is withheld, telling her that all was at an end between them. A short time later she received by messenger, presents which she had given to her betrothed. Since then she became utterly despondent and admitted that there was nothing more in life for her.

Miss Beamer was a Canadian by birth. She had lived with her parents in both New York and Pennsylvania and came to this city, it is said, with Nellie Nicholls, of a musical comedy company and for a time she roomed in apartments where she kept house and later moved to the Hotel Adams.

SISTER HERE TOLD.

Mrs. Lee Johnson, No. 2917 Halldale avenue, was seen last night. She had just received a telegram notifying her of her half-sister's death.

"I do not believe this story about her being thrown over by a man," said she. "I never heard anything about her being in love with a man in Oakland, and she is not the kind of a girl to kill herself over a love affair.

"My theory is that some mental condition resulting from the operation caused her to take her life. This operation was of a serious nature, and was to remove some growth from her stomach. She was very headstrong and left the hospital a week after the operation against the advice of every one."

WANT MORE LAND.

Yuma Folk Fight Ruling of Government, Anent Subdivision of Reservation.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

YUMA (Ariz.) Nov. 1.—Deep opposition has developed locally against the ruling of the Interior Department that twenty acres will be the maximum size of subdivisions of the Yuma Indian reservation, across the river from this place, in California. The Indians are to be given five acres apiece, but family combinations will make sizable farms for the redskins. The common remark is that the government expects the settlers on the opened land to be gardeners and not farmers, for it will take intensive cultivation of the closest kind to make a living on twenty acres, according to local ideas. Farmers here, accustomed to at least eighty acres, fail to see how any pasturage or hay land can be provided under the regulation.

The Yuma Heights Fruit Company has been shipping oranges to Los Angeles and San Francisco since October 17, and the crop is ripening rapidly, near Yuma. It is claimed that this section has led any part of California in the date of the ripening of its first oranges.

It is understood that the Reclamation Service has concluded to dig a small canal out from the Laguna dam to cover land lying in Arizona, north of the Gila River, to be complete in time for irrigating crops planted this winter and spring. Two or three thousand acres can thus be readily covered and made productive.

Rev. George Shelby of Globe has been transferred to Yuma, to care for the Episcopalian congregation here. Preparations are being made for the building of a church, to cost at least $4000, on a lot already owned by the congregation.

Ventura Carmiero, a workman on the Laguna dam, a few days ago was caught under a swinging cement bucket and so injured that he died in the hospital last night. A workman named Kilmer, about the same time, was badly hurt by falling from a headgate, sustaining an injury to the spine that may result fatally.

Thursday night Alonzo Martin of Riverside, Cal., fell from a passenger train at the Yuma depot, sustaining severe bruises on his head and body. He received care from the railroad surgeon and was sent on to his home.

MONNETT CRITICISES OIL MEN.

Prosecutor of Standard Addresses Methodist Clergymen—Carnegie Gifts Opposed.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frank Monnett, who was appointed by President Roosevelt special prosecuting attorney in the trial of the Standard Oil Company before Judge Landis, resulting in the imposition of the $29,000,000 fine, addressed a meeting of Methodist preachers today at No. 150 Fifth avenue, reviewing some of the things connected with the oil litigation. No one knew Mr. Monnett until he arose in the audience and introduced himself. He was asked to the platform to speak and he criticised men behind the Standard Oil, including the Rockefellers, H. H. Rogers and J. D. Archbold.

Mr. Monnett also spoke of J. J. Hill and other railway men in connection with the government's attempts to regulate railway rates and abolish rebates.

Mr. Monnett is trustee of the Methodist Wesleyan University, Ohio, and is in this city on business connected with that institution. The clergymen were very much interested in what he said in his speech.

Dr. Henry A. Nicholson, at the same meeting, opposed the proposition affecting denominational charters, to comply with the terms of Carnegie gifts for educational purposes. He said that Mr. Carnegie was giving money to some denominational institutions when and wherever the sectarian features were modified, so that citizens of all denominations might be placed on a board of control of this fund. Dr. Nicholson said the Methodists should maintain the principles of the church and keep them above any money consideration and retain the strict sectarian purpose of its founders.

POLITICAL.

BOTH MANAGERS ARE CERTAIN OF RESULT.

Heavy Vote Indicated by Advices from All Parts of the Country—New York, Ohio and Indiana Will Be Watched Closely Today.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—With election day at hand, with fair weather and a heavy vote indicated throughout the United States, the rival managers of the Republican and Democratic national campaigns closed their desks at headquarters tonight, declared respectively that Bryan and Taft would win, and then hurried away on late trains to cast their ballots, Mr. Hitchcock at West Newton, Mass., and Mr. Mack at Buffalo.

Both chairmen feel that when their votes shall have been deposited tomorrow they will have done all that they could do to further the interests of their parties and of their leading candidates in the momentous campaign of 1908.

The tasks of the national chairmen have been many and tedious. They have involved long railroad journeys and many midnight vigils. There will be many details to be looked after when the voting is over, but the nerve-racking tension, the uncertainty and suspense will be gone, and with either victory or defeat will come an eagerly awaited cessation of political worries.

HITCHCOCK'S LONG WORK.

For Mr. Hitchcock it will mean a rest for the first time since he set out to round up Taft delegates to the Republican National Convention last spring. It will be rest after a campaign which he declares has been conducted strictly along the lines agreed upon at the very start.

Mr. Mack gives up his prediction work with the satisfaction, his associates say, of having brought the Democratic party together in closer unity than for many years past. He has conducted a vigorous campaign from the start, and says he believes the party to be in a better position to win the election than at any time in its history.

Mr. Hitchcock remained late at Republican headquarters, delaying his departure for Massachusetts until midnight. He will return tomorrow night to receive the returns.

Mr. Mack left for Buffalo shortly before 10 o'clock, and will be back in the city tomorrow night.

EYES ON NEW YORK.

The polls in New York City will open at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning and close at 5 p.m. The same rule holds throughout practically every part of the State, and the indications are that the New York State results will be the first to be flashed over the wires tomorrow night, as giving an indication of how the election goes. This at least will be true of the counties and cities outside of Greater New York.

Voting machines are used extensively up the State, and the result will be known almost as soon as the polls close.

It was four years ago that Erie county, in which Buffalo is located, first told President Roosevelt of his approaching victory. The returns from Erie county this year will be watched with the keenest interest, both as to their bearing on the national and New York State result.

The count of the vote in New York City, Brooklyn and surrounding boroughs is likely to be slow and long delayed.

CANDIDATES STILL AT IT.

The end of the campaign tonight found Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan still on the go, and if apathy should be apparent in the volume of the vote throughout the country tomorrow it will be no fault of theirs. Both have traveled many thousands of miles and have spoken in more than a score of States. New York, Indiana and Ohio have been the scenes of greatest efforts of the two candidates, and naturally the returns from those States will hold the greatest degree of interest.

What effect the Independence party, organized by Hearst, and in the national field for the first time this year, will have upon either of the old parties is a matter of conjecture, to be decided by tomorrow's balloting.

The Socialist leaders, basing their claims upon the reception given to Eugene V. Debs on his "red special" tour of the country, are confident that they will poll a greater vote than ever before.

Republican Chairman Hitchcock declared today that late reports received from national committeemen and State chairmen strengthened his faith in the estimate of 325 electoral votes for Mr. Taft, made on Friday night.

HITCHCOCK CONFIDENT.

"I believe this contest is won," he said. "It has been worked out as systematically as it is possible to apply a system to a National campaign.

"The chairmanship of this committee was not of my seeking. Those who are on the inside can testify to this. I had been involved in a work previous to the opening of the campaign, which naturally I thought should have relieved me of this work. I accepted. As I expected, there was much criticism in the beginning, but I think that the way in which the work has been done justifies me in saying the results show that the object has been attained.

"At no time have I indulged in any personalities. I have studiously endeavored to be fair in all my estimates, and to treat those who differed from me in the same spirit of fairness.

"If conditions are normal throughout the country tomorrow," he concluded, "I expect to see my forecast verified. If conditions are otherwise in certain sections, my forecast may be reduced, but I rather think that it will be increased."

MACK SEES GOMPERS.

Before leaving for Buffalo tonight, Chairman Norman E. Mack, at Democratic National headquarters, gave out a final statement claiming victory for Bryan and Kern.

He asserted that New York State would give the national ticket a plurality of 50,000, and that Ohio and Indiana would surely go Democratic. He declared that the party would carry most of the other doubtful States, and in addition would carry some States that had not been claimed. He adhered to his forecast of 333 for Bryan.

During the day, Mr. Mack talked with Sam Gompers, and as a result of their conference the national chairman said he was convinced the labor vote would remain true to the party.

"All that is needed to win," said Mr. Mack, "is to poll our vote and see that it is honestly counted."

In this connection the chairman announced that a reward of $1000 would be paid by the National Committee for the detection and conviction of any person engaged in election frauds.

NEXT CONGRESS SAFE.

Secretary Loudenslager, of the Republican Congressional Committee, closed his headquarters here at noon today. He said he was confident the returns would verify his predictions as to the next Congress. This forecast, given out last week, is as follows:

Republicans, 227; Democrats, 164.

The New York State campaign did not end until well toward midnight tonight, Gov. Hughes making ten speeches in Greater New York during the day and evening. His Democratic opponent, Lieut.-Gov. Chanler, spent the day in his home county of Dutchess and made a number of speeches to his neighbors.

The puzzle as to the outcome of the State contest was apparently no nearer solution tonight than at the beginning of the campaign, and both sides were claiming the State by overwhelming majorities.

At Democratic State headquarters confidence was expressed that New York would go for Bryan and Kern, and Chanler.

Chairman Woodruff, of the Republican State Committee, said tonight:

"I have given out no figures on the result in New York, but I believe that Taft and Hughes will win by substantial pluralities. I believe Hughes has been gaining every day."

FAILURE TO VOTE A CRIME.

Prelate Calls Man Who Does Not Vote a "Skulker and a Coward."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—"The man who does not vote is a criminal, a skulker and a coward."

Thus declared Bishop Samuel Fallows yesterday in St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal Church in his sermon prelude. His topic was "The Citizen's Duty at Election."

Disfranchisement of the man who has the power to vote and fails to execute it, was suggested by the divine as a remedy for the apathy on the part of the voter.

"The pulpits of the land ought to ring out the strongest utterances on the high crime of not voting. It would be a drastic measure, which, doubtless would not carry, to disfranchise the man who had the power to vote and deliberately refused to exercise it.

"The voter is a soldier of the republic. Its affairs cannot be carried on without his aid any more than the conduct of an army without the soldier's loyal response to the word of command. And he is a skulker and a coward in the civil ranks of life who does not vote, as the soldier is who hides or shows the white feather, in time of an engagement."

BIG STICK BUSY IN MEXICO.

MEXICO CITY (Mex.) Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Federal government has imposed a fine of $100,000 on the Atlix Company and the San Antonio Abad Cotton Mills Company for certain violations of the stamp law. The man who furnished the government with information of these violations will receive a reward of $30,000.

SCARED.

BETS GO BEGGING IN BRYAN HEADQUARTERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Pop" Freeman, the picture man who has been all over the country since last June supplying political parties with transparencies and campaign photographs, walked into the Hoffman House this afternoon with a hatful of $1000 bills and announced that he was willing to do some betting. He said that he represented a syndicate of prominent Republicans.

Making his way into the stronghold of the Democracy, Freeman quietly offered to bet anywhere from $1000 to $50,000 that Taft will have more than 280 electoral votes. He could find no takers. Then he offered any money at evens that Taft will carry New York by 75,000. Still no takers. He offered to bet even that Taft will carry Ohio and did not get a bet. Then he offered to bet that Taft will carry Indiana, and failing to get a rise on this offer he volunteered to bet even that Taft would carry New York, Indiana and Ohio.

Charley Mahoney had considerable money placed in his hands by bettors, but he refused to make any display with it, saying that he was afraid of getting into trouble with the District Attorney. After nearly an hour of unsuccessful attempt to place a bet, "Pop" Freeman stored his roll in his clothes and departed.

Something that came close to a panic occurred at the Hoffman House late this afternoon when Republican emissaries from the Metropolitan tower and the Republican Club began to offer 10 to 7 on Hughes. A rumor gained currency that Charles F. Murphy and "Fingy" Conners had received confidential advices to the effect that Chanler would be buried up-State. Hughes money went begging at 10 to 8 and 10 to 7. Offers of 10 to 3 were made that Hughes would poll a bigger vote in the State than Taft, but these offers were not accompanied by real money.

Supporters of Chanler today placed $30,000 at 8 to 10 in the financial district. It was the largest wad of Chanler money offered since early in the campaign. It is supposed that the money was put up by a pool headed by a well-known Albany Democratic politician who has large money interests in this city. In just what sums the money was placed could not be ascertained, but it is thought that it was taken in lots of $1000 to $800 by the Hughes people, who had to furnish $25,000.

On the curb a wager of $1000 to $800 was laid on Hughes and there was also a bet of $3750 on Taft against $500 on Bryan on the curb.

FORECAST BY STATES.

FIFTY THOUSAND FOR TAFT IN CALIFORNIA.

Secretary Teller Wires Confident Prediction to Hitchcock—Democrats Promptly Declare Bryan Will Win by Same Figure—In Other States.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Answering a telegram from National Chairman Hitchcock, asking for latest estimates on California's verdict at the polls tomorrow, Phil Teller, secretary of the Republican State Central Committee, wired today that there would be no change in the figures already given—that the State would go for Taft by 52,000.

Mr. Teller said this estimate was based on conservative reports from county chairmen.

At Democratic headquarters, Committeeman Murray predicted the State would give Bryan a majority of 50,000 at least. He said the general indications, as reported by county campaign officials, pointed to the probability of a landslide for the Nebraskan.

Both parties claim San Francisco, the Republicans predicting a Taft majority of 3000 to 5000, while the Democrats say Bryan will be 8000 ahead when the votes have been counted in the city.

State Chairman Stone is the authority for the Republican figures, while Committeeman Murray contributed the Democratic estimate.

A Republican rally, addressed by Congressmen Hayes and Kahn, occupied the attention of that party in this city tonight, while at Oakland the Democrats gathered to hear the last words of former Mayor Phelan of San Francisco, who closed the Democratic fight there.

WASHINGTON.

PREDICT TAFT VICTORY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Nov. 2.—The eve of election finds both the Republican and Democratic parties confident of success in the State of Washington. A careful poll by counties has caused the Republicans to predict that the State will go at least 20,000 for Taft and Sherman. The Democrats expect to carry the State by at least 4000. East Side Democrats declare they will elect William C. Goodyear to Congress instead of Miles Poindexter.

The illness of S. G. Cosgrove of Pomeroy, Republican nominee for Governor, is made the most of by the Democrats, and they say it means the election of John Pattison.

John Y. Terry, chairman of the King County Democratic Committee and representing the largest county organization in the State, declares his party will beat the Republican party in this, their stronghold.

OREGON.

REPUBLICANS EASY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 2.—With their interest centered far more on the result in doubtful States of the East than on Oregon, the voters of this State await tomorrow. Great interest is expressed in the size of the Socialist vote in Oregon. Debs secured 7614 votes four years ago, and estimates on tomorrow's results range from 10,000 to 15,000. There is a total registration of about 133,000 in the State, and the general estimate is that there will be about 107,000 votes polled if the weather is bad, and about 115,000 if the weather is fair.

IDAHO.

COMPLICATED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BOISE (Idaho) Nov. 2.—With the Independence candidate for Governor declaring himself for the Republican national and State tickets, the Independence State chairman lining up with the Democrats, t... Democrats fighting for the direct primary and the Republicans out for local option, election day will dawn on a complicated situation in Idaho. The Republican chairman claims the State for Taft by 20,000 and for Brady, Republican, for Governor, by 15,000. Ryan and the Democratic gubernatorial candidate will have 10,000 majority, according to the Democratic chairman.

UTAH.

REPUBLICANS LEAD.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SALT LAKE (Utah) Nov. 2.—The campaign in Utah closed tonight with meetings of both parties in nearly every city and a dozen or more in Salt Lake City and county. Both parties confidently claim the State, the Republicans by 20,000 for the national ticket, the Democrats by 5000. The fight for the Governorship and that in Salt Lake City county between the Republican and American (Anti-Church) parties monopolize interest. Spry, Republican nominee for Governor, will undoubtedly be heavily scratched in favor of Knight (Democrat) by the American voters in Salt Lake county, but the open fight of church leaders in favor of the Republicans is expected to more than offset this.

MONTANA.

ABATES CLAIMS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BUTTE (Mont.) Nov. 2.—Probably the most significant feature of the eleventh hour political sentiment in Montana is the greatly-reduced claims of the State Republican chairman. Last Tuesday Chairman Lanstrum claimed that Montana would give Taft and Edward Donlan for Governor and the balance of the State ticket majorities ranging from 8000 to 10,000. Today Mr. Lanstrum's estimate places a plurality for Taft and Sherman at not less than 2000, with 5000 for Donlan. State Democratic Chairman W. B. George's estimate tonight is that Montana will give Bryan a popular majority of at least 10,000 and a majority of 6000 for the State ticket.

COLORADO.

BOTH CONFIDENT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DENVER (Colo.) Nov. 2.—At State Democratic headquarters 17,000 is given as the probable plurality for Bryan and the Democratic State ticket. The Republicans figure the same estimate of the plurality for Taft and their State ticket. Both parties lay claim to the three Congressmen and the Legislature which will elect United States Senators. The Supreme Court refused today to appoint watchers at the polls in Huerfano and Las Animas counties, where the Democrats assert the Republicans intend to return fraudulent majorities, and a number of Democratic candidates, including John J. Shafroth, nominee for Governor, will personally watch the election in those counties.

WYOMING.

FOR TAFT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Nov. 2.—Republican forecasts indicate that Taft will carry Wyoming by 5000, a reduction of over one-half from Roosevelt's majority four years ago. The Democratic leaders are hopeful that the Republican defection will prove sufficient to give the State to Bryan.

NEVADA.

HEADED WRONG.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

RENO (Nev.) Nov. 2.—Both the Republican and Democratic headquarters were busy today settling up affairs and distributing badges. More badges have been given out this campaign than any previous year. Floods of literature have been sent broadcast and on this is counted most confidently. There is no change in the claims of both Republican and Democratic chairmen, but from a conservative view it is probable Nevada will give Bryan her three electoral votes and that Nevadans will go to the Senate with the fight close for Congressman. There is not much doubt about the rest of the Democratic ticket.

ARIZONA.

HESITATES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Nov. 2.—Arizona votes tomorrow for delegate to Congress, twelve members of legislative council, twenty-four members legislative assembly and for county officers. The campaign has been exceptionally hard fought and bitter, and the result is much in doubt because of the large influx of new voters. Chairman Joseph Dillon of the Democratic Territorial Committee, claims the reelection of Marcus A. Smith of Tucson (Democrat) to Congress by a plurality of not less than 2000 over Ralph H. Cameron of Flagstaff (Republican.) Chairman Hoval A. Smith of the Republican Committee declares that Cameron will be elected by about 1200 plurality, with large gains in the heaviest Democratic counties. The Independence party's candidate for Congressman, W. R. Cleary, is expected to draw several thousand from the Democratic strength. Smith had a plurality of 2000 last election over Cooper (Republican.) Both parties strongly advocate single Statehood and there has been no other material issue. The Legislature is in doubt, though the Lower House probably will be Democratic.

MAINE.

REPUBLICANS STRONG.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORTLAND (Me.) Nov. 2.—Maine people are not concerned about the vote in the State, believing it to be Republican by the usual plurality, which is about 25,000.

VERMONT.

BIG TAFT VOTE EXPECTED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MONTPELIER (Vt.) Nov. 2.—It is believed between 50,000 and 60,000 ballots will be cast in Vermont tomorrow, and that Taft will carry the State by about 25,000.

GEORGIA.

DEMOCRATS ENTRENCHED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ATLANTA (Ga.) Nov. 2.—The Democrats of Georgia are serenely confident they will carry the State for Bryan and roll up the usual Democratic majority.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

CONCEDED TO BRYAN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

COLUMBIA (S. C.) Nov. 2.—The State is conceded to Bryan by about 75,000 majority. The Republicans put up candidates in only three Congressional districts.

VIRGINIA.

ONE TAFT DISTRICT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

RICHMOND (Va.) Nov. 2.—It is conceded the Democrats will carry nine of the ten Congressional districts. They claim Bryan will carry the State by a majority of 25,000 to 25,000.

ARKANSAS.

BRYAN STRONGHOLD.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.) Nov. 2.—The Republicans concede the State to Bryan and a full Democratic Congressional delegation. The Democrats claim the State by the largest majority in its history.

DELAWARE.

BOTH PARTIES CLAIM STATE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WILMINGTON (Del.) Nov. 2.—The Democrats claim the State, but give no estimate, while Republican Chairman Du Pont says Taft will have 3000 to 4500 plurality.

MISSISSIPPI.

STATE FOR BRYAN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

JACKSON (Miss.) Nov. 2.—The Republicans have not been very active during the campaign and Mississippi will give Bryan probably 50,000 majority. The entire Democratic Congressional delegation will be returned.

LOUISIANA.

RAIN MAY CAUSE LIGHT VOTE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2.—Heavy rains in Louisiana today caused some apprehension of a light vote.

IOWA.

SAFELY FOR TAFT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DES MOINES (Iowa) Nov. 2.—Iowa may be counted as safely for Taft. There is only the question as to the size of the plurality. Apart from the result of the national ticket, chief interest lies in the Republican primary to name a successor to the late Senator Allison. Both Governor Cummins and former Congressman Lacey are claiming the State.

The Democrats are making a close fight in the First, Second and Sixth districts. The entire Republican State ticket seems likely to be elected.

KENTUCKY.

VOTE VERY CLOSE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Nov. 2.—The Democratic and Republican leaders in Kentucky still confidently claim the State for their respective candidates by comfortable figures, while impartial observers see no reason to change their prediction of a close vote, with the chances favoring a modest plurality for Bryan.

Chief interest attaches to the Congressional races in the Fifth and Seventh districts, both at present held by the Democrats. The Republicans, spurned on by reports of Democratic disaffection, in those bailiwicks, have displayed great energy and probably will make gains, but in the Fifth alone have they a chance to win. In the other districts, three, now represented by Republicans, the Democrats may take one.

OHIO.

TRUST CUTS FIGURE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CINCINNATI, Nov. 2.—In addition to voting for or against one of Ohio's native sons, electors in this State will cast their ballot tomorrow on the full State official family and members of both houses of the Legislature.

Temperance legislation, present and prospective, has cut a large figure in the State office contests, notably between the Republican and Democratic candidates for Governor, and it is said the complication resulting from internal party differences on that issue will cause much delay in learning the result.

The various departments that seemed to bring the Standard Oil Company more or less into politics, as indicated by published letters and statements, were followed closely, the mention of Senator Foraker and other prominent leaders in that connection having much complicated the calculations of experts on advance information. The Legislature to be elected will name a successor to Senator Foraker, for which place the Senator is candidate.

INDIANA.

UNCERTAIN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 2—There has not been an election in Indiana in years in which there was such a feeling of uncertainty as to the outcome as exists tonight. Both parties are claiming the State.

WISCONSIN.

IN TAFT'S POCKET.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 2.—Republicans, Democrats and Social Democrats all claim they will win in tomorrow's election in the main battle ground of Wisconsin—Milwaukee county. Each party claims also that it will elect Congressmen in the Fourth and Fifth districts, which take in parts of the county.

To carry that State the Democrats will have big odds to overcome, the plurality for Roosevelt four years ago having been close to 150,000. The Republican chairman claims Taft will have 100,000 plurality and the Democratic chairman says Bryan will win with 50,000 votes to spare.

The Republicans are reasonably certain of electing six Congressmen, and the Democrats one, leaving four districts in doubt.

PENNSYLVANIA.

AS USUAL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—Chairman Andrews of the Republican State Committee stands on his prediction that Judge Taft will have a plurality of more than 250,000 in Pennsylvania.

Chairman Dimeling of the State Democratic Committee says his reports indicate that the Republican plurality will be greatly reduced, if not entirely wiped out. The Democrats expect to win several districts from the Republicans in the Congressional race, but the Republicans will still have a majority.

MASSACHUSETTES.

TAFT'S OF COURSE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—Republican managers predict that Taft will have a plurality tomorrow of more than 90,000 and that Draper for Governor will defeat Vahey (Dem.) by more than 60,000.

MICHIGAN.

TAFT LEADS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DETROIT, Nov. 2.—It is generally conceded Taft will carry Michigan by a large majority.

CONNECTICUT.

TAFT ALONE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Nov. 2.—The Republicans claim Taft will carry Connecticut by 25,000, and Lilley, for Governor, by 10,000.

The Democrats say Bryan has a chance to carry the State and that Robertson will be elected Governor by 10,000.

KANSAS.

ESTIMATES SAY TAFT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Nov. 2.—With the actual close of the campaign in Kansas, Chairman Dolley of the State Republican committee, increases his claims, saying the Republican State and national tickets will be elected by pluralities of close to 35,000, and that all eight Republican Congressmen are safe.

Democratic Chairman Martin reiterated his statement that the entire Democratic ticket would be successful.

A conservative forecast gives the State and Legislature to the Republicans.

FAIR PROPOSAL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2.—Rev. A. C. Dixon, corresponding secretary of the National Reform Bureau this afternoon sent the following telegram to Rev. F. Stockwell, Prohibition nominee for Governor of New York:

"You will throw your strength by public announcement in favor of Charles E. Hughes for Governor of New York, the International Reform Bureau will, if necessary, stand expense

COST OF FREAK ELECTION $150.

Full List of Officers Necessary to Take Vote of Two Citizens.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To find out the political preferences of John Leary and John McGarvin, laborers, residing on Eleventh avenue, Brooklyn, $150 is expended annually. These two men are the only voters in the twenty-ninth election district of the Sixteenth Assembly District, and Leary owns the house in which the registering and polling take place. The home of McGarvin is on the same avenue.

This is known as the "freak district," and although the election authorities have been frequently reminded that it might be well to merge it with another, the full complement of registration and election officers is annually sent to the Leary house and paid $5 per day each for doing practically nothing.

The actual number of men required to register these men is six—two clerks, one judge and three censors—and, though registration is finished a few minutes after the opening of the booth on the first day, the law requires that all these officers must be on hand during the entire four registration days.

to petition to replace Prohibition party on official ballot next year."

The International Reform Bureau has been active in the support of Gov. Hughes in his fight against race-track gambling.

HEAD OF BOSTON METHODISTS SUPPORTS HIM.

Bishop Hamilton Makes Public a Letter in Which He Advocates the Re-election of Speaker Cannon and Refutes Silly Charges of Disrespect to the Church.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—The bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church are not of one mind respecting the case of Speaker Cannon.

A number of them some time ago declared their disapproval of his attitude during the last Congress on the question of legislation applicable to the liquor question as it touched prohibition States.

Last week the board of bishops was in session in Indianapolis. Bishop Hamilton of Boston, formerly located in San Francisco, prepared a letter while in Indianapolis to the Northwestern Christian Advocate, in which he distinctly declined to oppose Mr. Cannon's reelection, and expressed his confidence in the Speaker's uprightness and correctness on the liquor question.

It is known, too, that Bishop Hamilton does not stand among the bishops alone in his view on Mr. Cannon. More than one of his colleagues is said to have urged him to write the letter dissenting from the criticisms of the Speaker.

The Christian Advocate on Wednesday, it is expected, will print the Hamilton letter. In order that his views might be known before election day, the bishop gave for publication here a copy of his letter, which follows:

"To the Editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate: I have been asked, as several of the bishops have been, for the reason why I did not join some of my colleagues in protesting against the reelection of the Hon. Joseph G. Cannon to the House of Representatives.

"I have resided for eight years in San Francisco, and have not had the same opportunity to become familiar with the intricate political understandings among the politicians in the Eastern and Middle States.

"I did know that certain members of the committee of the General Conference which visited the Speaker of the House of Representatives in Washington in May felt that they had been cavalierly treated, or more humorously entertained than comported with the serious mission upon which they had been sent, and they felt that the denomination representing fully one-fifth of the population of the entire nation deserved more respectful consideration.

"I was quite as willing to rebuke trifling in high places when the evil in question was one that had cost the world, as Mr. Gladstone asserted, greater suffering and loss than had been incurred by war, pestilence and famine combined.

"And much as I respected the chief officers of the government, I was as ready to help defeat any one of them who by 'hint, squint or silent conspiracy,' as Mr. Taft said, had intimated that he preferred the support of the saloon to that of the church. We have a notorious example of one such politician, who was once ambitious to be the candidate for the Presidency, but who is now completely stranded.

"I knew Mr. Cannon personally, and could not believe that he would lend himself, or the influence of his high position, to oppose any honest endeavor to secure a fair expression of the will of the people on the one subject so much in the mind of the whole country.

"I therefore wrote to Mr. Cannon a straightforward 'interrogatory letter,' asking him if he had 'directly or indirectly' sought to hinder legislation in the Committee on Judiciary, or in Congress, in the matter of the Federal government in relation to its traffic in intoxicating liquors in the prohibitory States.

"He replied so candidly that he had not opposed the legislation and had not intended to treat the General Conference Committee disrespectfully that I was bound to accept his statement. And when his declaration was confirmed promptly by Mr. Littlefield himself, in reply to the letter I addressed him on the same subject, I felt justified in declining to oppose Mr. Cannon's reelection."

SURE OF VICTORY.

SHERMAN ENDS HIS CAMPAIGN.

Says All Signs Point to Taft's Election.

Governor Hughes Is Cheered by Crowds.

Speaker Confident of Result in New York State.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

KINGSTON (N. Y.) Nov. 2.—Predicting a Republican victory in State and nation tomorrow, James S. Sherman, Republican candidate for Vice-President, closed his campaign here tonight, speaking at two meetings, where his reception was equaled only by the enthusiasm displayed at the mention of Gov. Hughes's name.

"I have no doubt that at this time tomorrow night," said Mr. Sherman in his speech, "the people of the nation will have spoken in unmistakable terms, and we will know that for the next four years the Republican party will rule in this country under the leadership of W. H. Taft.

"I have no unkind words for Mr. Bryan. He is a good, Christian gentleman, who practices what he preaches; but if called upon to act upon national policies or national finances, would he not then practice what he has been preaching for twelve years?

"Mr. Bryan said only a few years ago that he was more radical than ever and we can assume that he would, if elected, return to his silver policies."

Referring to the State situation, Mr. Sherman said:

"Nowhere in the State is there more than a handful of men who believe that in every act Gov. Hughes has been guided otherwise than by his conscience, his oath of office, and clear-headed judgment of what is best for the people of the entire State. His record as Governor has elevated the moral tone of the entire State. Not to elect him is to tell the whole country that we do not know a good thing. But we are going to keep him. We are going down to the Harlem bridge tomorrow night with 170,000 majority, and I predict that all the cohorts of Tammany Hall, with all their schemes for subverting the people's will, cannot overcome it."

WHETTED.

KNIVES OUT IN ILLINOIS.

BUT EVEN MALIGNANTS CONCEDE DENEEN VICTORY.

State Is Perfectly Secure for Taft and Conservative Forecasters Predict That the Big Ohioan Will Roll Up a Plurality of One Hundred and Fifty Thousand.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A smashing victory for Gov. Deneen, a big plurality for Judge Taft in Illinois—these were foregone conclusions in the State political situation on the eve of election day.

As the sun set, a swishing sound, as of the sharpening of knives, arose from the Lorimer wards, but even as they whetted their blades, the "irreconcilables" muttered: "Foiled again! What's the use?"

With conservatives among the Republican leaders forecasting the Deneen plurality at from 120,000 to 150,000, the malignants, who have worked hand in glove with the Democratic State machine in a frantic effort to line up the Yates following against the Governor, concede that Deneen's plurality will be fully 35,000. Of all the certainties in the election, they admit, the greatest is the certainty that Taft and Deneen will sweep Illinois.

At the utmost the number of Taft votes which the Sullivan-Lorimer workers can capture from Deneen is estimated at 30,000. This would mean a variation of 60,000 in totals, but it is not as dangerous as it looks. Down State party leaders say that the defection caused by the malignants will be at the highest not more than 20,000 votes. If Taft gets one-half Roosevelt's plurality down-State, he will have more than 70,000 above Bryan. Deneen could lose 20,000 Taft votes and still lead Stevenson by 30,000 on the basis of this estimate.

The indications are that Deneen will get a large Bryan vote, which will be cast for him in resentment of the manner in which the Sullivan State machine has attempted to trade off Bryan for Stevenson votes down-State. This vote will be a large factor.

Furthermore, the executive will run better with union labor and with the negro voters than will Taft. The strength he will gain from these three sources is expected to offset all knifing and slashing and keep him well up with Taft.

In Cook county the election of the Republican county ticket almost in its entirety is looked for.

Gov. Deneen will vote in Chicago tomorrow morning and expects then to leave for Springfield, where he will receive the returns at the State House.

BETTING TABOOED.

TAKER ARRESTED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Police raided a cigar store here tonight, and arrested Ed Dietrich, a clerk, for acting as stakeholder for election bets. Officers spied Dietrich making out receipts for two men who were placing money on the election tomorrow and placed him under arrest. He was taken to the Police Station, and charged with gambling. He was released on $20 bail.

Since Portland has put the lid on everything it seems that even betting on an election is taboo. The sports have been accustomed for years to lay wagers at Schiller's cigar store, where tonight's arrest was made, and thousands of dollars have been left there in election and prize-fight bets in the past.

NEIGHBORLY.

BRYAN'S HOME-COMING IS MADE AN OVATION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LINCOLN (Neb.) Nov. 2.—The greatest demonstration in the history of Lincoln was given to Bryan by his fellow-townsmen tonight on his return to his home city at the close of his campaign.

Non-partisan in character, it was participated in by Democrats and Republicans alike, and when the Democratic candidate was escorted through the streets he was cheered by almost the entire population of the city.

The reception was tendered to him as a citizen of Lincoln rather than as a candidate and in the speech that he made he avoided all reference to partisan issues.

In the parade which followed his automobile from the Union Pacific station, however, many political transparencies were carried.

Mr. Bryan reached his home city at 5:30 p.m. His train was met by a tremendous crowd and as the score of carriages and automobiles forming his immediate escort started across the viaduct from the railroad station, the parade fell into line behind him.

The procession moved through the main street of the city, through solid masses of cheering humanity and returned to the Hotel Lincoln, where Mr. Bryan spoke, overlooking the public square.

Mr. Bryan's speech was greeted with vociferous cheers. The candidate was moved to tears as he made an affectionate reference to his wife, and when he closed the demonstration accorded him was such as he rarely had experienced in his three campaigns.

SURE OF RESULT.

"I believe I am going to be elected," he said.

"More than that, I believe it is going to be more than a bare victory, I believe that there is a stirring of the conscience of the American people; a moral awakening, an uprising that means a sweeping victory, and I will swear in your presence that no one who votes for me will ever have occasion to be ashamed of the vote he casts."

In the course of his speech, Mr. Bryan said: "There are unpleasant features in public life, but its rewards far outweigh its unpleasant part, and nothing has occurred in my life that I appreciate more than the cordial reception that you have given me in my home city at the close of this campaign.

"To have lived among you, with the publicity that attaches to the present campaign, and then to have this evidence of your good will, makes this night memorable in my life. While it has sometimes been humiliating to have it thrown up to me in other parts of the country that my city has never given me a majority, yet as a matter of fact, I have always had a large complimentary vote from the Republicans of Lincoln.

"Without the votes of many Republicans I would not have been elected to Congress in 1892, for my majority was only 140, and without that election I would not have been nominated for the Presidency in 1896, and, therefore, I can feel grateful to the Republicans who gave me my start, and whose votes were absolutely necessary to my election on that occasion. And whatever the Republicans of Lincoln do in the future, they have done enough in the past, by laying the foundation for my political career, to make me their debtor while I live.

"My friends, I am at the end of my third Presidential campaign. Tomorrow, when millions of voters will decide whether I am to occupy the seat that Washington and Jefferson and Jackson and Lincoln occupied, you will have your part in that victory or that defeat. It may be that the election will turn on Nebraska, and it may be that Nebraska will turn on votes so few in number that the city of Lincoln may decide my fate. If fate decrees that I shall be added to the list of Presidents, and Nebraska added to the list of States that have furnished a President, I shall rejoice with you. If, on the other hand, the election shall be against me, I can feel that I have left nothing undone that I could have done to bring success to my cause. And, my friends, I shall find private life so full of joy that I shall not miss the Presidency.

"I have been the child of fortune from my birth. God gave me immediately into the keeping of a Christian father and a Christian mother. They implanted in my heart the ideals that have guided my life. When I was in law school I was fortunate, as I was in my college days, to fall under the influence of men of ideals, who helped me shape my life; and when, but a young man not out of college, I was guided to the selection of one who for twenty-four years has been my faithful helpmate. No Presidential victory could have brought her to me, and no defeat can take her from me. I have been blessed with a family. My children are with me to make glad the declining years of their mother and myself."

"When you first knew me they called me in derision, 'the Boy Orator of the Platte.' I have outlived that title and my grandchildren are now growing up about me. I repeat that I have been fortunate indeed. I have been abundantly rewarded for what little I have been able to do and my ambition is not so much to hold any office, however great, as it is to know my duty and to do it either in public life or as a private citizen.

"My friends, I shall be among you. It will make the stay more pleasant, if I can feel that this city has at last relieved me of the sneers and criticisms that are cast at me when I travel away. And, my friends, I simply want to say this. If you, among whom I have lived, who have known my every word and thought, and act, if you believe me worthy of that high office, I will swear in your presence, that no man who votes for me will ever have occasion to be ashamed of the vote he casts."

TAFT ENDS FIGHT.

"The question of today is how far Mr. Gompers is able by deed of grant executed to transfer what he has not got. Every attempt made by misrepresentation and otherwise as to the attitude of the Republican party has been made to prejudice the wage earner of this country against the party and its candidate."

MESSAGE GARBLED.

In this connection it was made known that Representative Burton had information from Daniel Keefe, president of the Longshoremen's Union, that the telegraphed published statement from John Mitchell to Samuel Gompers, in which Mr. Mitchell declared himself in sympathy and accord with the policy of the American Federation of Labor, was garbled, inasmuch as it left out two important words, these words being "non-partisan political." The text of the telegram as it should have been published was read as follows:

"CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Samuel Gompers, Washington. Telegram quoting what purports to be an extract from speech delivered by Taft at Buffalo last night received. His statement, so far as it relates to me, conveys a wrong impression. I am in full sympathy and accord with the non-partisan political policy of the American Federation of Labor, as it has been outlined and promulgated by the executive council. [Signed] John Mitchell."

This city was alive with political activity throughout the day, meetings being in progress long before the Taft special train arrived, at 4 o'clock p.m.

Among the prominent speakers at the several meetings were Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, Secretary Garfield and Representative Burk of Pennsylvania.

Judge Taft's special train left shortly before 11 o'clock p.m. for Cincinnati, where it will arrive early in the morning.

OVATION IN CLEVELAND.

At Cleveland Judge Taft was the central figure in the final big Republican demonstration in that city. The Republican Presidential candidate arrived there at noon from Buffalo. He made several addresses en route.

A meeting of thousands in Central Armory was later addressed by the candidate, who made a general political speech paying particular attention to the trusts. In this connection Mr. Taft referred to Mr. Bryan's recent utterances and gave a clear analysis of the different methods for control possessed by the Democratic and Republican parties.

Both the street and armory demonstrations were enthusiastic.

At the conclusion of the meeting here, the Taft special left for Youngstown, where the closing speech of the Republican campaign of 1908 was made.

One or two back-car platform addresses were made before Youngstown was reached.

SEES NEW YORK HIS.

Judge Taft predicted today a great and decisive victory in New York for the Republican ticket.

"I have just come out of New York State with the conviction that tomorrow will bring with it a Republican majority which will not only give the electoral vote to me, but will elect Gov. Hughes by a round majority," said Mr. Taft.

"We all of us recognize New York as a pivotal State, and I speak advisedly when I say that the Republican ticket will prevail there. The Democratic plurality in New York City will not be sufficient to overcome the Republican vote which will be rolled up in the rural districts.

"The Madison Square Garden meeting was regarded as the climax of the campaign, but in the meetings which have been held since there had been the same enthusiasm, the same huge crowds, and the same firmly implanted conviction that New York will again go Republican.

"I am satisfied with the situation, and I await with confidence the election tomorrow, for I am as certain of victory as a man can well be of anything here below."

TALKS TO THOUSANDS.

At Dunkirk, an audience numbering thousands listened to Taft this morning.

Standing on the rear platform of his car with Mrs. Taft by his side, he said:

"I have been attacked as unfair to labor. I wish I could stop and demonstrate to you that of all the public men you know there are very few who have done more in the interest of labor than I have, and I want it understood that if I am elected the fact that Mr. Gompers has attempted to deliver the labor vote to the Democratic party, and has attacked me bitterly and with others has done me injustice, will not deprive me of the interest I feel in labor in its attempt to get to higher things.

"It will give me the utmost pleasure to follow along in the path of Theodore Roosevelt as I have been associated with him in the last four years, and to bring to the attention of Congress and by executive measures, to put labor on an equality with every other class in the community. If I understand the position of labor, they don't ask to be put on an advantage. They ask a square deal, to be put on a level. The Republican party in the last few years has passed many statutes in the interest of labor.

"Under these circumstances I ask you to consider carefully the question whether you wish to put in the Democratic party, with its record of promises unfulfilled, or the Republican party, with its record of things done."

SUTOR DIMS ALL-STARS.

Big Leaguer Pickles Invaders of the Orient.

Pick of Pacific Coast Players Win Easily.

International Troubles Seem Far Distant.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mike Fisher's All-Americans, who start tomorrow for the Orient, looked like a plate of stewed tripe after the game with a picked team from the Coast League at Recreation Park today.

The Pickles, with Sutor in the box, threw the harpoon into each and every one of the stars and twisted it around. Unless the salt ozone does the bunch something on the way across the Pacific there is no danger of their starting any international difficulties with Japan.

The men who will wear the red, white and blue barber pole effects in stocking in foreign lands began to get St. Vitas dance in the third inning. In the fourth the symptoms became alarming and it looked like something one can see after a week's hard drinking.

Flaherty, who started to bend them for the Stars, was wilder than a March hare, and passed two. Then the infield and the outfield of the All-Americans had their worst fit of the Willies. The Stars got on the map just once in the fourth. Delehanty, of the famous clan Delahanty, clouted the leather on the nose for two bags and Henry Heitmuller, the terrible German, sacrificed. Then little Dansig, the cute littje infant who acts as mascot on the side, popped a long fly to center and Delahanty came over the plan.

This is the sad story of the score sheet:

CHANCE LEAVES, MURPHY IS ILL.

RUPTURE WIDENS BETWEEN THE BIG CUB MOGULS.

Trade to Cincinnati Club Would Be Good Thing for Baseball as Redville Is Great Ball Town and for Years Has Been Looking for Manager and Pennant.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frank L. Chance may never again be seen in action as manager of the World's Champion Cubs. Chance left for California for the winter tonight, but before going he said unless certain changes were made he would never again act as manager of the Cubs while Charles W. Murphy was their president.

"Husk" appeared determined in his stand, and it is likely more serious developments may follow. Chance and Murphy have quarreled over the handling of the club, and the manager says he wants no more to do with Murphy.

President Murphy is ill, and his physician refused to allow him to be interviewed. Perhaps the attitude of Chance is the cause of his illness. The Cub fans may have to wait several days before Murphy makes a statement concerning the difficulties.

"Under present conditions I feel it will be next to impossible for me to continue as manager of the Cubs under the direction of President Charles W. Murphy," said Chance.

It was rumored today in baseball circles the break between President Murphy and Manager Chance might result in a trade with Cincinnati, whereby Husk would go to the Reds in exchange for Hans Lobert, Hobby Hobiltzell, and a good-sized bag of money. The owners of the Cincinnati club have been on the lookout for a high-class manager for some time, and Chance added that in case of a show-down Cincinnati looked good to him.

State League Trouble.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ban B. Johnson, president of the American League, announced today that the National Commission will meet in Chicago on November 14, in conference with representatives of the California State League. The Coast organization, it is understood, will petition for admission to organized baseball, and the National Commission will consider its petition at this meeting. A report on the charges made against officers of the Chicago National League club of collusion with scalpers in the sale of world series tickets will also be made at the coming meeting.

FEAR RISK.

LOSS OF JOHNS IS SEVERE BLOW.

CALIFORNIA 'VARSITY STAR IS SUFFERING OF INJURIES.

Coaches Take Step to Prevent Future Tragedy as the Great Three-Quarters Complains of Pains in the Head—Outlook to Beat Stanford Is Looking Bright.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Nov. 1.—On the best authority that can be obtained, outside of the coaches and trainers, who are non-committal, it is reported that Johns, the star three-quarters, will not be permitted to play any more this year. This decision is said to have been reached as a result of the injuries Johns sustained to his skull about a month ago in a game with the Olympics.

Johns was tackled by Snedigar, and in falling hit his head. He was unconscious for some time and passed the week following in the infirmary. Since then he has been out for practice, and has been playing a brilliant game, but his head has troubled him so that the trainers have come to the reported decision.

The loss of Johns will be a big one to the California 'varsity, for last year he was the fastest man on the team, and was responsible for several of the California trys. His place will probably be filled by a freshman.

With the annual football game with Stanford but two weeks off, the feeling of victory is steadily growing stronger on the local campus.

Practice during the last week has been strenuous, marred slightly by heavy mud on Friday. If the day of the big game is rainy, California seems to have an excellent chance to win. Taylor has had the second team playing the first fifteen all week and good games have resulted, although the first team has been victorious.

The second team this year contains several of last year's 'varsity, and for that reason alone puts up a fast game. The men are also stirred by the incentive of getting back on the 'varsity.

The passing and kicking have improved wonderfully, and the weakest point is breaking up dribbling rushes. The games with the Vancouver team have given much practice in this, however, and next week the 'varsity is expected to put up a perfect defense when necessary. As an offensive fifteen, the 'varsity seems to do well, putting lots of snap into every move. The heeling of the scrum can stand improvement, but otherwise the general work is very good. Budelman, Sorenson and Barnicott are notable among the scrum men as having learned to not only play as forwards, but to get into every play, and they pass and kick nearly as well as the backs.

Five freshmen have achieved the distinction of being added to the 'varsity training table. They are Evans of Pomona, Mr. Harris, Elliott, captain of this year's freshman team; Phleger and Watts. All of them played on the victorious freshman team of two months ago and have been used in every 'varsity match since. Phleger seems to have secured a place in the front rank of the scrum, while Harris is generally expected to be played as center three-quarters. He is woefully weak in his tackling, however, and unless he improves, it may keep him from making good. Elliott seems to have a good chance as a five-eighths and Evans and Watts are three-quarter men. Evans also plays a good game at half, and should Dwiggins be hurt, will probably get into the big game if he doesn't make a regular place.

Twitchell, a 'varsity scrum veteran, has been added to the training table, played on the 1911 freshman team. Pauly seems to be a 'varsity certainty. He has been playing fine Rugby all year and has improved steadily.

At present the men who are on the training table are Capt. Butler, Paul of Hollywood, Pauly of San Diego, Evans of Pomona, Farmer of Hanford, Swartz of Fresno, Sorenson of Fresno, Budelman, Elliott, Cerf, Twitchell, Barnicott, Freeman, Harris, Watts, Phleger and Barnicott.

From present indications the final 'varsity line-up will be: Forwards, Barnicott, Farmer, Phleger, Budelman, Sorenson, Freeman, Pauly and Twitchell; half, Dwiggins; five-eighths, Cerf and Elliott; center three-quarters, Harris; wing three-quarters, Watts or Paul, and Webster or Evans; full, Capt. Butler.

UNIQUE MOTOR STUNT.

Election Day Endurance Run Will Be Held in More Than One Hundred Cities.

When the polls open in 110 cities of the United States this morning, one of the most unique motor car "stunts" ever held will be inaugurated. In these many cities Chalmers-Detroit Thirties will start on 200-mile non-stop runs.

Two cars will make the test in Los Angeles. They will leave The Times office and proceed about the city for a distance of twenty-five miles and then make the run to Pasadena. After a short trip about Pasadena, the route will lead back to Los Angeles, and thence over a route of twenty-five miles, leading through the residence and business sections. Both cars will then return to Pasadena, the plan being to finish the 200 miles in the afternoon about the hour the last votes are being cast.

In a non-stop run the car itself can come to a stop, but at no time after the crank is first twisted can the engine stop. When being filled with fuel or water or when the drivers stop the engine must continue chugging on.

CELEBRATING ELECTION.

TWO FOOTBALL GAMES ARRANGED FOR TODAY.

THE Occidental College football team is to meet Pasadena High School at Baer Park this afternoon. The Pasadenans scored an easy victory over the Presbyterian "preps" two weeks ago and are anxious to try their skill against the 'varsity.

Coach Gorton is slowly drilling class into the Presbyterian squad. The men are learning a large variety of plays and in the fine points of the game are displaying skill that is encouraging the students to believe that the team will make a clean sweep in the three big games yet to be played. Gorton has been handicapped by the presence of a squad too small to permit the forming of a second team, but the 'varsity has been holding scrimmages with the "preps" and Manager Goodell has secured a large number of practice matches with high school teams that have helped considerably in the development of the team.

The students are concentrating their interest on the U.S.C. game, which will be played at Bovard Field Saturday afternoon. The memory of the overwhelming victory the Methodists scored two years ago is still rankling in the bosoms of the Presbyterian student body and as the elevens did not meet last year the team will make a strenuous effort to take advantage of the first opportunity to get revenge.

POMONA SHAKE-UP.

TRAINING RULES BROKEN.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

CLAREMONT, Nov. 2.—Owing to the loss of two men through the breaking of college and training rules, an entire shake-up of the Pomona preparatory football team has been necessitated, on the eve of the game against the Occidental preps.

Crawford, end, and Wire, fullback, who both played good games against the U.S.C. academy eleven, have been dropped from the squad. To fill the gaps Hendrich will probably be taken from right guard and put in at left tackle, while Merriam, tackle, will go to full. Jones, or possibly Butler, will start in at right guard. Steizner will go from quarter to the end position, while Kingman will be brought into the game to give the signals.

The preps have been working hard since their U.S.C. game, under the direction of Coach Pierce, and expect to put up a good game against Occidental, in spite of tre recent shake-up.

PREPS TO MEET.

OCCIDENTAL AND POMONA.

The Occidental Academy football team and the Pomona "preps" are to meet this afternoon, at Claremont in their first annual game. The past performances of the elevens indicate that the Presbyterians will have a hard time to break even with the Congregationalists, although the Occidental boys have been storing up energy for the match and intend to make a strong bid for first honors.

A small band of rooters will accompany the Presbyterians to Claremont this morning and the team will return to this city tonight.

Bob Spurgeon, the Pomona halfback, played on the 'varsity two years ago and probably is the best player in both line-ups. Merriam, fullback, is a former Occidental student.

The teams will present the following line-up:

| Occidental. | | Pomona. |
|---|---|---|
| Church | R.E.L. | Garrison |
| McDowell | | |
| Walters | R.T.L. | Hendrick |
| Gilkie | R.G.L. | Perrin |
| Lane | C. | Allen |
| Driscoll | L.G.R. | Jones |
| Clayton | | |
| McNary | L.T.R. | Miller |
| Underhill | L.E.R. | Stelzner |
| Gifford | Q.B. | Kingman |
| Dieterle | R.H.L. | Barnes |
| Bradbeer | L.H.R. | Spurgeon |
| Moore | F.B. | Merriam |

TOO GOOD FOR 'EM.

L. A. CAN'T GET GAMES.

Coach Noble and Manager Mitchell of Los Angeles High School have been unable to arrange a game with Santa Ana High School or Whittier College for next Saturday, but an attempt will be made to get a match with some other local team. The High School boys are anxious to pit their skill against Harvard Military School, but the cadets thus far have declined to enter into a contest with the Nobie men.

In previous years the teams have met regularly and played interesting games, but in the last two seasons the Harvard team has refused to continue football relations with the Blue and White eleven, on account of a considerable difference in the weights of the elevens. However, High School has a comparatively light team this year, and although the boys outweigh the cadets several pounds to the man, the Harvard boys have been showing class against other local teams, and should be able to hold High School to a small score.

Stan Mitchell has been forced to leave school for two weeks in order to undergo rigid treatment for rheumatism, with which he has been afflicted for some time. Coach Noble will attend to the managerial work on the eleven in Mitchell's absence.

SLEEPING PILL.

PICATO BEATS EDDIE MILLER.

San Francisco Boy Knocked Out in Thirteenth.

Jap Oyamo Finally Is Given Decision Earned.

Frank Picato knocked out Eddie Miller of San Francisco in the thirteenth round of their battle before the San Pedro Athletic Club, last night.

Picato had the better of the bout throughout and jabbed Miller with his left until he had the northern boy helpless when he uppercut him to the chin with his right in breaking from a clinch and Referee Tommy Walsh counted Miller out.

As early as the ninth round Picato had his man going, and from then on he cut his face to ribbons with left jabs and a wicked cross with left right, splitting his lip and bringing the blood from the mouth and nose.

In the eleventh and twelfth Miller was groggy and although he fought gamely and swung vicious rights, he was unable to land on the clever Picato and the end came early in the thirteenth.

For three or four rounds at the beginning of the fight the San Francisco boy made a pretty good showing, landing a few good body blows, but he never worried Picato, who began a systematic attack on the face with his shifty left, and he beat Miller to it in every exchange.

Miller seemed to be about eight pounds heavier and appeared to be in ratner poor condition. He said a week ago that he feared he did not have time to become acclimated and in condition in time, but from the appearance of the battle last night it is doubtful if he would stand any show with Picato if he were in the best of shape. Picato certainly put up a clever fight and came out of it unmarked.

Jap Oyamo of Los Angeles received the decision over Kid Martin of Long Beach at the end of six rounds.

Kid Arcy of Wilmington and Young Dougherty of Milwaukee boxed ten pretty rounds to a draw in the first preliminary, at 116 to 118 pounds. Arcy was handicapped by a very sore finger on his left hand where he was bitten by a bulldog the day before the fight. He showed the makings of a good boxer.

Charlie Ainslinger refereed the preliminaries. A crowd of about 500 persons was present; special cars being run from Los Angeles.

SAME OLD GRIND.

ROAD WORK IS POPULAR.

Jim Barry and Jim Flynn are nearing the end of their training for the ten-round boxing contest which is scheduled to take place at McCarey's pavilion Friday evening.

Barry went on the road yesterday morning and in the afternoon he did his usual exercising at the Southside Athletic Club quarters, ending up with seven rounds of boxing with George Herberts. Flynn also did road work, making a total of ten miles before he beturned to the Eastside Athletic Club. In the afternoon he skipped the rope, punched the bag and boxed six rounds with Johnny O'Keefe.

BRITT IS WINNER.

TEN ROUNDS WITH SUMMERS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Jimmy Britt, the California lightweight, defeated Johnny Summers of England in ten rounds tonight at Wonderland. The conditions of the fight called for ten rounds at 133 pounds. The men weighed in at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Summers had the better of the first two rounds and Britt, seeming to realize his disadvantage, put more energy into his work and shaped up much better in the succeeding rounds.

The Englishman showed great cleverness and in the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds looked to be a winner.

Britt came back, however, and fought his man to the ropes, having a considerable advantage in the ninth and tenth rounds. The American was the winner on points, although a considerable number of the spectators questioned the referee's decision.

For several minutes there was every indication of a riot and it was with the utmost difficulty that quiet was restored. Britt and the referee were loudly hooted as they left the hall.

BURNS GETS HIS'N.

JOHNSON TAKES SHORT END.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Tommy Burns likes Australia, according to a letter received in Chicago from the heavyweight champion, but what is of more importance, he tells about his battle with Jack Johnson for the title, which will take place December 26, at Sydney.

"You know that I have signed to meet Johnson," Burns says, "but you may not know that I am getting my price, as I always said I would. I get £6000 ($30,000) and it is all put up in the referee's office in London. Johnson gets £1000 ($5000) win or lose, an extra £100 ($500) for his end of the moving pictures and three round-trip tickets from London."

Coulon Barely Wins.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Johnny Coulon, bantamweight champion, barely succeeded in outpointing Young O'Leary in their six-round fight at the Roma A. C. tonight. O'Leary succeeded in dropping the champion to his knees twice in the second round and helping him to the floor in the fifth. O'Leary was sent to his knees once in the fifth, but Coulon kept forcing the fighting, and at the end appeared to be the fresher of the two.

Davis and Yost Draw.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jeff Davis and Joe Yost fought a six-round draw at the stag of the Manhattan A. C. tonight. For three rounds Yost had an advantage, but in the last three rounds Davis overcame the lead of his opponent. The club was protected by an injunction, and the police made no attempt to stop the fights.

Morris and O'Keefe.

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 2.—Billy Morris, a Los Angeles fighter, and Jack O'Keefe, managed by Teddy Murphy, the "boy manager," have been matched for a fight in this city Thanksgiving Day. They are to weigh 148. Morris is being handled by Frank Carrillo, a local sporting man, who thinks the lad is a comer.

SOPHOMORE CHAMPIONS.

U.S.C. Second-Year Girls Defeat Picked Academy Team in Basketball Game.

The sophomore girls' basketball team of U.S.C. won the college class championship yesterday afternoon by defeating the fourth picked academy five by the score of 22 to 11.

The contest was fast and much closer than the score indicates, and the enthusiasts were kept on the qui vive every moment. The sophs lead from the start and were never headed, the preps coming within two points of tying the score in the last of the first period, when the score was 9 to 7.

Miss Tucker of the sophs was the star of the game, throwing field baskets in rapid succession, and with unfailing accuracy. Miss Asher assisted in piling up the collegians' count by sure shots on free throws.

Miss Oertly, for the preps, was also clever in ringing the baskets, and threw all the goals but two free throws made by Miss Duignan. The showing of the preps was good, and the coaches are confident of turning out a strong five to represent the academy in the coming league games. The line-up of the teams was as follows:

| Sophs. | | Preps. |
|---|---|---|
| Asher (c.) | forward | Oertley |
| Tucker | forward | Duignan |
| Dennen | center | Knoles |
| Jacobs | center | Gibson |
| Speicher | guard | O'Neil |
| Winstantley | guard | Walters |

Referee, Osborn; umpire, Yoch.

NEW PITCHING FIND.

Young Lockwood Is Expected to Take Place of Thacker at Occidental College.

Lockwood, who has been the regular pitcher for the Pasadena High School during the last two seasons, registered at Occidental College yesterday, and the Presbyterians believe he will be able satisfactorily to fill the vacancy left by the loss of Roy Thacker, the 'varsity twirler. Lockwood is a southpaw and was considered one of the best scholastic pitchers in the south last year.

The Presbyterians are to open baseball season simultaneously with the beginning of track season this year as the increased number of students will make this arrangement possible. Coach Gorton will have charge of the baseball and track teams as well as the football squad. He engaged in all departments of athletics during his college course at Colgate, and has had experience as a coach in all branches of college sports.

FINE REVOLVER SCORES.

Twenty-eight Consecutive Bullseyes Made by A. B. Douglas on Bishop Street Range.

The monthly handicap shoot of the Los Angeles Revolver Club was held Sunday afternoon on the Bishop-street range.

A. B. Douglas made the largest score that has ever been shot on the range, having a total of 274 points. He made 28 consecutive bullseyes, and 29 out of a possible 30. W. E. Smith made the next highest score, having a total of 260 points.

The following are the results: A. B. Douglas, 92, 94, 88, total 274; W. E. Smith, 83, 90, 87, 260; W. R. Cutts, 80, 85, 82, 247; C. W. Linder, 87, 86, 97, 244; J. B. Fox, 91, 80, 73, 244; J. E. Holcomb, 77, 81, 70, 228; H. J. Norton, 77, 56, 70 (handicap 45,) total 248; H. S. Foudersmith, 69, 55, 53 (handicap 60,) 237; H. D. Phaxter, 79, 81, 73 (handicap, 15,) 248.

NEW AUTOMOBILE CLUB.

To Take All Control of Racing and to Handle the Vanderbilt Race Hereafter.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—William K. Vanderbilt and Jefferson Demont Thompson are leading spirits in a new automobile club, which is being formed and which, it is said, will fill the same position toward automobile racing that the Jocky Club occupied toward horse racing.

Under the agreement between the Automobile Club of America, and the American Automobile Association, the former at the end of the year is to retire from the control of racing, and is to turn over to the new club the grand prize race, while the association at the same time is to turn over to the new club the Vanderbilt Cup race.

Record Is Approved.

LONG BEACH, Nov. 2.—Physical Director Merwin of the local Y.M.C.A. today received notice from the International Committee of the Y.M.C.A. physical department that the record of Bert Dodd of this city for the 880-yard run, made at the triangle meet of Pasadena, Los Angeles and Long Beach last May, had been approved and credited officially, and also counts as a Pacific section outdoor record. Young Dodd is a Y.M.C.A. boy and a High School freshman. He broke the national Y.M.C.A. record for half-mile, making it in 2m., 3s.

Britons Are Scandalized.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Much dissatisfaction is expressed in the newspapers and in circles where the fight is discussed, at the referee having pronounced Britt the victor over Johnny Summers in last night's fight, but according to Sporting Life, although it was a splendid exhibition on both sides and Summers showed remarkable speed and cleverness at long range fighting, the referee gave Britt credit for an immense amount of infighting, the value of which he was in a far better position to judge than a majority of the spectators.

WISE TALKS
BY THE "OFFICE BOY"

A teacher in a public school in Ireland asked the pupils who was the best friend Ireland ever had. One of the boys replied, "I don't just now remember the gentleman's name, but he discovered America." You and I are fortunate in the knowledge that we are living in the choicest section of this great country. Here we have no winter blasts to cool our blood. Everywhere we look, we see beautiful flowers. Our trees and lawns are always green. Nature is kind to us in every way twelve months in the year. We have the greatest transportation facilities of any part of the globe, and then there is the Silverwood Stores. If you are one of our customers that name looks better every time you see it. It is back of every article we sell, and every good word you say about it. Every article of merchandise we sell is insured and if it fails to give perfect satisfaction, you are requested to return it and get the matter adjusted to your entire satisfaction. Every once in a while, a man writes us that a salesman refused to adjust a matter to his satisfaction. We like to get those letters and the Old Man will greatly appreciate it if you report any discourtesy direct to him. We want you to feel that there is at least one firm in the West that does business on the Golden Rule plan, because we do. We respectfully solicit your patronage.

TO ELECTRIFY GIANT TUNNEL.

Pennsylvania Awards Five Million for Work.

Westinghouse Company Is Successful Bidder.

Must Complete the Task in Twenty Months.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A $5,000,000 contract to electrify the Pennsylvania Railway Tunnel under the North River, was awarded today to the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. The work involves placing all the electric paraphernalia in the tube extending from Harrison, N. J., through forty-fourth street and out to Jamaica, L. I., and equipping the train service.

The railroad company stipulates that the work must be completed in twenty months. It is the present hope to have trains running in the tunnel within two years.

The Westinghouse Company will build one hundred electric locomotives, the largest ever made, each with a capacity of four thousand horse power. It is estimated that, hauling the heaviest train that may be made up, they will be capable of 120 miles an hour. The tunnel will be able to handle 1600 trains a day.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NORWICH (N. Y.) Nov. 2.—Receivers were today appointed for the Hudson River Electric Power Company. The corporation was organized in 1903 and controls the Hudson River Water Power Company, Hudson River Electric Company, and Hudson River Power Transmission Company, together with various subsidiary companies owned by the last two named supplying Central and Eastern New York cities with power.

The authorized capital stock was $15,000,000, of which $5,290,000 was issued. The total funded debt of the corporation, according to its last statement, was $9,982,500. Net earnings for 1907 were $484,500.

INCREASES CAPITAL.
HEAVY FEE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 2.—The Clear Lake and Southern Railroad Company, operating in Mendocino county today increased its capital stock from $3,500,000 to $10,000,000. For the privilege of doing it paid a filing fee to Secretary of State Curry of $50000. The Clear Lake and Southern, it is said, intends to increase its possessions considerably, and compete with the Napa-Lake Port lines.

READ AS THEY RUN.

Bulletins Will Post Election Returns on Trains This Evening.

Among the history of Presidential campaigns are the arrangements made by some of the railroads to furnish election returns to passengers on their limited trains, on election night. To do this western roads will run a special service of their own, while eastern roads have contracted with the various newspapers for an election news service.

The passengers on the Santa Fé's California Limited, the Los Angeles Limited on the Salt Lake, and the Pacific Coast Line trains on the Southern Pacific, will be supplied with the bulletins.

The reports will be sent to all stations along the line and copies will be handed to the conductors at each stop, in this way the travelers will receive the news only a few minutes behind the people who watch the newspaper bulletins.

The most elaborate preparations to give returns to passengers have been made by the Burlington route. The road has installed a direct railroad telegraph wire in the office of the Chicago Tribune over which their own operators will flash the Tribune returns to trains over all parts of the system. These bulletins will be posted at conspicuous places in each train. The innovation is one which will be very much appreciated by the voter who has made a special trip to his home town for the sole purpose of voting and who is obliged to depart the same day.

MINING PARTY.

Commander Donald McEvoy, a well-known mining man of this city, gave a birthday party to a score of his friends in the Angelus Grill last night. It was his forty-eighth anniversary, and he gathered around him some of those he has met during his long career in the gold mines of North and South America.

Steffanson-Anderson Arctic Expedition Sends Tidings from Point Barrow by Letter.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The anxiety of the authorities of the American Museum of Natural History regarding the fate of the Steffanson-Anderson Arctic expedition, who at last reports were short of supplies, has been relieved by news from Point Barrow, Alaska.

Frederick H. Sherwood, secretary of the museum, announced today that a letter had been received from Mr. Steffanson, dated Point Barrow, August 29, saying that the expedition ship had come after all and had broken and that from the wreck about four tons of provisions had been obtained.

Mr. Sherwood said these provisions meant that the expedition two years hence. Mr. Steffanson wrote that he had chartered a small sloop, and, laden with supplies, had started east. His plan was to go back to Herschel Island and make connections with the rest of the party, Dr. R. M. Anderson and Mr. Storkerson, and spend the winter in the Colville River district west of Herschel Island.

NEARLY TIME.

HOW TO VOTE ON THE AMENDMENTS.

FOURTEEN Constitutional amendments and three acts are submitted to the people to be voted on in today's election.

The Times has painstakingly explained all these propositions and given its judgment as to their merits. It now summarises them, and its counsel as to how voters should act—of course, it being the first suggestion of The Times that each voter study them carefully and form his own conclusions.

Senate Amendment No. 1, relating to a change in the system of taxation of railroads, banks, etc. VOTE NO.

Senate Amendment No. 26, relative to the tax on mortgages. THE TIMES HAS FAVORED THIS AMENDMENT BUT SOME EXPERTS SAY THERE IS A BUG IN IT. VOTE NO.

Assembly Amendment No. 3, to provide for direct primaries and abolish conventions. VOTE NO.

Senate Amendment No. 24, relating to lotteries and bucket shops. VOTE NO.

Senate Amendment No. 14, advancing the salaries of State officers. VOTE NO.

Senate Amendment No. 16, regulating the length of legislative sessions and fixing the pay of legislators. VOTE YES.

Senate Amendment No. 29, extending credit for public improvements. VOTE YES.

Senate Amendment No. 31, extending the lives or certain corporations. VOTE YES.

Senate Amendment No. 33, limiting the daily expense account of the Legislature. VOTE YES.

Senate Amendment No. 32, fixing the credit of exposition companies. VOTE YES.

Assembly Amendment No. 7, making a technical change in the manner of appointing township officers. VOTE YES.

Assembly Amendment No. 8, cutting all but "elementary schools" out of benefit from the State school tax. VOTE NO.

Assembly Amendment No. 28, extending the time in which the Governor may sign or veto bills. VOTE YES.

Assembly Amendment No. 34, changing the manner of organization of the State Board of Education. VOTE NO.

Act removing the State Capitol from Sacramento to Berkeley. VOTE NO.

Two acts relating to San Francisco harbor, the Seawall Act and the India Basin Act. VOTE NO.

Many thoughtful citizens, realising that the present State Constitution is a fearfully patched and inconsistent instrument, have resolved to vote against all further patching, stamping "no" against every amendment, and to agitate for a convention to formulate an entirely new Constitution.

CHAFIN QUITS JOKING.

Predicts Party Defeated Today Will Never Put Another National Ticket in the Field.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 2.—Eugene W. Chafin, prohibition candidate for President, closed his campaign tonight in Milwaukee, speaking in his native State to an audience which included the famous Phantom Outing Club, of which he is a member.

"On the eve of the election," he said, "I make this prophesy: The party that goes down to defeat tomorrow will never again put a candidate for President in the field. The entire face of the politics of the nation will change before another four years is passed.

"The Prohibition ticket tomorrow will receive the largest vote it has ever been given by tens and tens of thousands, and the old parties will awaken on Wednesday morning to the realisation that there is something more than a body of what they call fanatics backing this anti-liquor party.

"The old parties will realize that the political battles of the future will be waged over this question, and that this liquor issue will be the great issue until the day when the saloon is abolished forever. Then, and not till then, will we stop our fight for the wiping out of the liquor traffic."

HEARST'S ANSWER.

NOT GUILTY, OF COURSE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—W. R. Hearst, in a statement tonight, replied to the charge made by Democratic National Chairman Mack today that Hearst had organised a new party to obtain revenge upon Mr. Bryan for the latter's failure to aid Hearst in his Presidential aspirations four years ago.

"It was not at all necessary for me to have been 'nominated,'" declared Hearst. "I was willing to support any other progressive Democrat. If the anti-Parker forces had united on any one man Parker would have been defeated for the nomination."

Mr. Hearst declared his loss of confidence in Mr. Bryan prompted him to form a new party.

"I have abandoned Democracy," his statement says, "because it is no longer the party of reform. I am not in favor of Mr. Taft. I never have been in favor of him. I am not in favor of Mr. Bryan, although I was once a supporter of him. Even then I was a supporter not of the man, but of his principles, and I am at variance with him now, as I have said, not because I have changed my opinions, but because he is continually changing his mind.

"Those who believe as I do, have formed a new party and I declare that the new party is the only one which earnestly and sincerely advocates reform and the only one which has in this campaign done anything whatever to expose corruption and promote reform. I am proud of the work of the Independence party in this campaign. It has done the only work that has been done that will really inure to the benefit of the people. It has laid the foundation for great reform. It has made history. It has done much for one campaign and sown the seed for a rich harvest in future achievements."

PLAN SUSPENSION BRIDGE.

San Francisco Chamber of Commerce Will Advocate Building One Across Carquinez Straits.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VALLEJO, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] During the visit of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce to Mare Island yesterday, Frank R. Devlin made the first mention of a new project that will be advocated with great noise by local boosters from now on. It is for building of a State bridge across Carquinez Straits from South Vallejo to Vallejo Junction. The bridge would be a suspension affair, from bluff to bluff, and without any impediment to water navigation. It would be erected by the State and leased to the railway companies. A road for wagons and foot passengers would be constructed, and it is said that it would be self-supporting from the start.

Vice-President Calvin of the Southern Pacific, Traffic Manager Bissel of the Santa Fé and other railway men were present when the matter was brought up, and they seemed to favor the proposition, although they refused to commit themselves at this time.

Sunday Pattern Section.

Each subscriber and purchaser of the Sunday Times will hereafter receive a four-page TRANSFER PATTERN SECTION. It is a unique, exclusive, attractive feature of particular interest and value to women. It will not injure the most delicate fabrics, and is simple that a child can successfully manipulate the process.

PROHIBITIONISTS WHOOP IT UP.

PICTURESQUE PARADING ENDS THEIR CAMPAIGN.

Many Women and Children in Line and Water Wagons and Banners Help to Make a Unique Display. Three Meetings All Going at the Same Time.

The Prohibitionists made a great showing in their campaign-closing parade last night. It was possibly short on voters, but it was long on all that goes to make up a parade. The major portion of those who walked in line were women and girls, and the boys came next, and there was no lack of enthusiasm. With banners and flags flying, they marched down Spring street, between masses of people lining both sides of the street, and assembled at the Monarch Rink, Fourth and Hill streets.

The parade was led by a dozen men and women on horseback, the leader carrying a banner which read: "We are the Chafin and Watkins Club of Bell."

The consolidated Salvation Army Band, a really good musical aggregation, was followed by a large body of men and women of the army, and the Veteran Drum Corps headed a large body of boys and girls, who proclaimed themselves the coming citizens of a rum-free country.

Three street-sprinkling wagons were in line, decorated with banners of various kinds, suggesting that men "get on the water wagon."

One float was made up of a big hay wagon, on one end of which was a barrel of whisky and on the other a man dressed to represent Uncle Sam. The two were connected by a big cable rope, and the banner read: "Prohibitionists, cut this rope." Cheers greeted the float all along the line.

The Herman contingent carried a banner proclaiming "Hermon, the Banner Prohibition Precinct in the United States."

Another banner bore the following: "Wine is a mocker, and at the last it biteth like a saloon." The last word was formed by the coils of a serpent.

The Woodlawn Loyal Temperance Legion and the Boyle Heights Loyal Temperance Legion each occupied large floats, the latter driven by a young man puffing at a cigarette.

There was something pathetic in the little group that marched under the banner of the Spanish Prohibition Club. Right in front were two dark-skinned mothers, each carrying a baby in her arms.

There were several automobiles and carriages filled with men and women, and enthusiasm ran high all along the line of march.

At the rink there was room for only a portion of the crowd, and soon two overflow meetings were in progress at the corner of Fourth and Hill streets.

The speakers in the rink were Rev. L. F. Lafontaine and M. W. Atwood, while J. H. Blanchard and others were dug up to speak on the street.

A fine-looking, gray-haired woman held a crowd, while she eloquently told them of the duplicity of the politicians, who had many words of praise for their "lovely, horny hands," just before election times, but were too busy to notice them afterward.

Mr. Lafontaine declared that the time is not far distant when the national platforms of the old parties will contain a Prohibition plank, and the declaration caused pandemonium to break loose in the rink. He assailed the record of both the leading candidates on the Prohibition question, and declared that the only salvation for the nation is in the election of Chafin and Watkins.

A young Spring Street Business Man wanted to buy a home of his own.

His business was growing rapidly. Aside from his living expenses, he felt obliged to put back into his enterprise the profits it was making.

He did not feel justified in taking out of his business sufficient money to purchase a home.

He therefore determined to cut down his personal expenses by a certain sum each month—and thus accumulate money for a home fund.

He thus became a depositor at this Bank, and every month he added to his account.

His savings, together with the interest earned here, in time became more than enough to make a handsome first payment on his home.

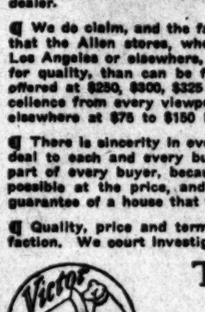
What he formerly paid as rent is now taking care of the balance due.

But he hasn't stopped saving.

The experience taught him something.

He found that he could save—that he could put by a reserve fund, which might protect him sometime, if his business affairs required.

Month after month he is doing this. While it is safe here, it is growing.



This Bank has a service for the business man.

No matter how properous his affairs may be, he should create a reserve fund to protect him in an emergency.

As a Savings Deposit in this Bank, this reserve fund will be earning interest. It will be available when needed.

Term Deposits earn four per cent; Ordinary Deposits three per cent interest in this Bank.

German-American Savings Bank Spring and Fourth Sts.

Sincerity Pianos

¶ There is not a piano shown on the floors of any store of The Wiley B. Allen Co. which will not bear the closest scrutiny and the most rigid investigation as to its quality, musically and mechanically, its structural character, and its monetary value. There is no piano marked higher than its actual worth in honest dollars, and there is no deception in values, no effort to convince the uninitiated that a $480 piano may be bought for $300—a manifestly impossible proposition, no matter by whom or where offered, or by what store or dealer.

¶ We do claim, and the fact is apparent to any discriminating buyer, that the Allen stores, whether in San Francisco, Oakland, Portland, Los Angeles or elsewhere, show better pianos, price for price, quality for quality, than can be found on the Pacific Coast; that the piano offered at $250, $300, $325 or at any price, is in real quality and excellence from every viewpoint, equal, if not superior, to pianos shown elsewhere at $75 to $150 higher.

¶ There is sincerity in every piano shown on our floors, and a square deal to each and every buyer. There is genuine satisfaction on the part of every buyer, because he knows that he has bought the best possible at the price, and that back of the piano purchased is the guarantee of a house that for thirty-two years has made good.

¶ Quality, price and terms tell the whole story—the story of satisfaction. We court investigation and invite your criticism.

Classified Liners.

Times Classified rates: the rate for inserting "Want" ads in The Daily Times is 1c per word for each insertion; in the Sunday issue 1½c per word, each insertion; minimum charge 25c; except under following classifications the rate for which is 10c per line, minimum charge 30 cents: "Society Meetings," "Personals," "Special Notices," and "Baths and Massage."

"Liner" (classified) advertisements for Sunday insertion received over the counter or by telephone after 11:30 o'clock Saturday nights will be inserted under heading "Too Late To Classify."

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 10:30 o'clock Saturday night. Rate 1½ cents per word.

The Sunday circulation of The Times exceeds 77,000 copies, and more "liners" are regularly printed in its columns than in the five other Los Angeles newspapers combined.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up "The Times" any time of day or night and secure prompt and careful attention.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

THE TIMES will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times in payment for "Liners," as no mistakes can be rectified without them.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

News and Working Boys.

The annual meeting of the Lark Ellen News and Working Boys' Society will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at No. 438 East Twentieth street. Officers for the coming year will be elected, and other matters of business will come before the meeting.

Door of Hope Reception.

A public reception and sale of articles made by the girls of the Door of Hope will be held at that rescue home, No. 3600 South Main street, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, from 2 to 5 o'clock. Some of the articles are very fine, and the collection to be disposed of is worth over $100.

Operas for School.

For the announced purpose of making the Normal School students familiar with the various Italian operas the Senior A music class yesterday gave a varied recital with the help of talking machines, provided by the Wiley B. Allen Company. Prof. Clubb was in charge of the recitations.

Election Night Dinner.

The Fishermen's Club, of which T. C. Horton is leader, has issued over 400 invitations to young men for a turkey dinner to be given tonight at 7 o'clock at the Bible Institute, Third and Main streets. In addition to the feast, addresses will be delivered by Dr. Charles Edward Locke and W. E. McVay.

Expensive Whisky.

Thomas Meanes and Henry Wilson of San Bernardino, pleaded guilty to charges of selling liquor to Indians, yesterday, in the United States District Court. Meanes was fined $100 and sentenced to four months in the County Jail. Wilson received the same fine, but his term of imprisonment was made two months.

Comes Back.

W. M. Cline, formerly local agent for the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, who has been in the San Francisco office two years, has come back to this city. He takes the place of W. B. Pinneo, who resigned. Mr. Cline stated yesterday that he returned south because his wife's health was impaired by the northern climate.

All Ready for Torrey.

The Torrey meetings will open in the tabernacle on next Sunday night, and during the four succeeding weeks services will be held every afternoon at 2:30 and every evening at 7:30, except on Saturdays. It is expected that a choir of 500 voices will be present every night, and Dr. Torrey will bring with him a special soloist and pianist. The tabernacle is now practically complete.

From Business Man Abroad.

The Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce received a letter, yesterday, from J. J. Bergin of this city, a member of the party of business men which is investigating the commercial resources of Japan. Bergin writes that the voyage from San Francisco to Yoyohama was pleasant. A permanent organization was effected of the representatives of the Pacific Coast commercial bodies. J. J. Bergin, J. T. Fitzgerald, A. C. Bilicke and S. S. Merrill of this city were elected to various committees.

"Dry" Day.

Los Angeles will be dry today. Chief of Police Kern instructed his men to enforce the liquor laws to the letter. The saloons will be closed from 6 o'clock a.m. until 6 o'clock p. m. The restaurants will not be permitted to sell liquor or give it away with meals. Liquor cannot be obtained in any public house, store or office. Any violation of this law will meet with arrest, according to the Chief's orders. A special force will be on duty at the polls to prevent disturbances of any kind.

One of Injured Carrolls Dead.

Patrick Carroll, who was run down by a car at Eighth and Main streets on October 16 and terribly injured, died at the County Hospital yesterday. Thomas Carroll, who, by some trick of fate, was struck by the same car at the same moment of the Patrick Carroll accident, is suffering with pneumonia and a complication of internal injuries and may not recover. The two men met in a saloon that night. They had many drinks, and then tried to cross the street. A north-bound car going slowly struck them both and threw them directly in front of a south-bound car.

Returns at Y.M.C.A.

Anticipating a great crowd to receive election returns, the Young Men's Christian Association has arranged for three separate displays of the telegraphic reports as they come in. The general public is invited to assemble in the lobby, where it is estimated 1500 can be accommodated; on the fifth floor, the young men of the Triangle Club have invited a large number of students to be their guests, where they will be entertained with special music attractions; in the auditorium on the third floor, where a meeting will be in progress under the leadership of Mr. Jacoby, assistant to Dr. Torrey, the returns will be announced from the platform.

New Postage Stamps.

The Postmaster has received notification from Washington that the department has in course of preparation a series of postage stamps of new design. The denominations will run from one to fifteen, and there will also be 50-cent and $1 stamps. The subject of the one-cent stamp is the head of Benjamin Franklin, in profile. All the other denominations bear the head of George Washington in profile. The border designs of all the denominations are identical, the head being an ellipse on end, with laurel leaves on either side. Above the head are the words, "U. S. Postage;" below it, the denomination. The size and shape will be similar to the present series.

HOME CURE FOR ECZEMA

Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, Glycerine, Etc., Used as a Simple Wash.

It really seems strange that so many people suffer year in and year out with eczema, when it is now no longer a secret that oil of wintergreen mixed with thymol, glycerine, etc., makes a wash that is bound to cure.

Old, obstinate cases, it is true, cannot be cured in a few days, but there is absolutely no sufferer from eczema who ever used this simple wash and did not find immediately that wonderfully soothing, calm, cool sensation that comes when the itch is taken away. Instantly upon applying a few drops of the wash, the remedy takes effect, the itch is allayed. There is no need of experiment—the patient knows at once.

Instead of trying to compound the oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., in the right proportions ourselves we are using a prescription which is universally found the most effective. It is known as the D. D. D. Prescription, or Oil of Wintergreen Compound. It is made by the D. D. D. Co. of Chicago, and our long experience with this remedy his given us great confidence in its merits.

An ULTIMATUM
From The
Victor Company

The Victor Talking Machine Company has issued an ultimatum which requires that all dealers who desire to handle their goods must handle the Victor to the exclusion of every other disc machine.

This action was taken because many dealers have been handling the Victor only as a matter of convenience, but pushing goods of other makes which show a larger profit.

These dealers will now be forced to drop all other makes and give the Victor its proper place. These dealers will have to sell the Victor because the public demands the best and it is simply impossible to conduct a Talking Machine business without carrying the Victor.

We have consistently and repeatedly advised the purchase of the Victor—have identified ourselves with the Victor—have always maintained in both verbal and written statements that the Victor is the best Talking Machine in the world. By reason of this consistent policy we have become the Victor headquarters for Los Angeles.

We carry the Victor in every size, style and finish. Priced from $10 to $500 each. Victor Records from 35c to $7.00. We offer very easy installment terms—$1.00 a week and up. We deliver machines and records free anywhere. See us and the Victor before deciding upon the machine you are going to buy.

The Edison Phonograph Company has also issued an ultimatum similar to that referred to above. We have always recommended the Victor as the best of all cylinder Talking Machines—priced $12.50 up. Easy terms.

CHEERFUL.

REPUBLICANS IN GOOD TUNE.

Local Situation Looks Fine to the Well-Informed.

County Democrats Making Some Absurd Claims.

Betting Strongly in Favor of Republican Racers.

Cheerful confidence in Republican victory, national, State and county, was the dominant note last night wherever Taft men gathered. The ante-election campaign closed with roseate prospects for the election of the whole ticket.

On the streets, in the clubs and about the cigar stands there was but one sentiment; the Democratic onslaught has failed and it is only a question of comparative majorities.

Early in the evening a few Democrats appeared on the old row along Spring street, between First and Third streets, and tried to stir up sentiment for Bryan. One Democrat flung out a challenge from the bar of the Nadeau Hotel that he was ready to wager $25,000 on Bryan.

The scouts made for him in a body; the hotel lobby resembled a college rush. Finally the frightened boaster, minus hat and tie, found refuge in the elevator. He had lost all desire to wager on Bryan.

W. J. Burke of the Democratic League came along later and said he was looking for Republican money. The scouts turned after him and begged of him to bet; they offered him odds on any contest in the county. Burke placed three bets on majorities and retired.

More than $5000 of three-to-one Taft money was deposited with Ellis Cohn. The depositor kept it for eight hours and succeeded in getting but $75 of Bryan money. On the State even money was wagered on $5,000 plurality for Taft; the Republicans offered even money of a 14,000 plurality in this county.

The lowest odds prevail in the Fifth Supervisoral District, where several bets were placed on Pridham at 10 to 7; all the other contests are backed at 2 to 1. A few even bets were placed that the Republicans will elect every one of their candidates on the ballot in this county.

DAFFY.

Chairman Norton of the Democratic League and a few of his committeemen still claimed that they will carry the county and the State. They appear to be daffy. Norton has gone to the extent of hiring Shrine Auditorium for Saturday night for a Democratic celebration of victory. He has paid $300 for the evening. To a representative of The Times he explained his action last night by saying: "We finish the campaign with money to burn."

It certainly will require a lively conflagration today to take this county out of the Republican column, where it has reposed ever since the first Bryan campaign.

LEGISLATIVE TICKET.

The Republican legislative ticket looks like a certain winner. Nothing short of the landslide which the Democrats have been predicting ever since the first Bryan convention can prevent the election of the nine Republican Assemblymen and the two Senators. The opposition of the Democrats has been centered in the Seventy-first and Seventy-third districts. P. A. Stanton has taken the measure of his opponent in the Seventy-first District, and appears to have distanced him.

J. P. Transue is having a more difficult fight in the Seventy-third District. The proportion of Democratic registrations from this district is greater than from any of the others, and Transue is not an especially strong candidate. In the present race he appears to have the better of his Seventh Ward opponent, Ben Hard, and odds are offered that Transue will win. This is the only district where the Democrats appear to have even a fighting chance.

There is nothing to either Senatorial contest; the election of N. W. Thompson, in the Thirty-fifth District, and H. M. Hurd, in the Thirty-seventh District, is conceded by conservative Democrats.

JUDGES.

The opinion prevails here that Frank J. Murasky, Democratic candidate for Associate Justice of the State Supreme Court, will lead the Democratic ticket in the State. He is nominated on three tickets and he has a strong following about the Golden Gate. Southern California will probably pile up a rousing majority for his opponent, Judge Henry A. Melvin of Oakland.

There is a marked difference of opinion over the result of the judge contest here. The Democrats are pinning their faith on single-shooting Justice Stephens. Many have expressed surprise at the personal campaign which Justice Stephens has conducted. It came to a fitting finale last night when he was introduced to the change of watch at the Police Station, just an indication that the administration is back of Stephens.

VOTE FOR FIVE.

If the Republican electors vote for the five judges in the Republican column and leave the Democrats severely alone it means defeat for Stephens. Some Republicans are likely to be confused because five names of nominees

NOTES VS. BEAMS.

DEPLORES ABUSE OF OFFICIALS.

AGAINST WASHING DIRTY LINEN OF CITY IN PUBLIC.

Dean of Pro-Cathedral Voices Vigorously His Opinion of Harm Done Los Angeles by Giving Notoriety to Her Worst Features—Better Than Most Towns.

Much attention was attracted by the statement made by Rev. Dr. William MacCormack, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal parish, and dean of the Pro-Cathedral, on Sunday, when he denounced the abuse of city officials as a detriment to Los Angeles. He said that "if every man and woman in the city would go home, draw a circle in the middle of his or her room, kneel down inside it and pray the Lord to purify the city, beginning inside the circle, there would be no vice here."

The dean further said that, by comparison with other cities, he could honestly and emphatically declare that Los Angeles is not wicked, and he referred to the long-standing stagnation in Christian work in San Francisco.

Rev. Dr. MacCormack expressed freely yesterday his feelings concerning people who insist upon "washing our dirty linen in the front yard." He said:

"I think it is most unfortunate, don't you know, that some one objectionable thing in our city should be taken up and scattered broadcast over the country, to the exclusion of all the things that have made Los Angeles in many respects the most beautiful city I have ever seen.

"Certainly we have shortcomings, but there is no use watching our dirty linen in the front yard. It is a great wrong to the city and her people.

"I could name a city (meaning San Francisco) on the Pacific Coast that has been made a stench in the nostrils of the people of the United States by parading her wrongdoing, and I am quite sure that if a man is seeking a home in which to rear his family, he will not go to that city, unless he has some other special reason for doing so. We would not wish to see Los Angeles have that sort of a reputation.

"I do not like to hear any man publicly, assail our officers; it would be much better if we were all to help them in every way possible.

"The millennium is not here; we have vices, but to a much less degree than most other cities. When I first came here, some years ago, there was a terrible evil visible to all travelers as the trains passed through the city, but that has been happily removed. Ascot Park has been driven out by an incensed public sentiment, and while we have saloons, they are fewer in number than in other cities of like population and they are fairly well regulated. I do not know, but I am informed that liquor can be purchased in Pasadena, where they have no saloons.

"Los Angeles is a city of churches, and all denominations are bound together in the Church Federation in a most remarkable way for the accomplishment of good. This federation is absolutely unique, and this might be heralded over the country greatly to the city's credit. It is most unwise to select an evil that exists to some extent and make it appear as the dominant characteristic of our people. I do not pretend to defend the evil, but I do say that assailing the officers of the city is not the way to get rid of it.

"The church has for ages been trying to convert the world to Christianity, and I need not say that the work is not yet complete, but the church is more strongly than ever united in the effort. This has ever been a work against all kinds of vice, will continue unceasingly and will succeed as rapidly as men purify themselves."

KISSEL "SIX" IS HERE.

The six-cylinder Kissel roadster reached here yesterday. The handsome machine is on exhibition at Leon T. Shettler's garage on Grand avenue. Shettler claims the stock car will do seventy miles an hour on the road. He will send the car after several road records. Bert Latham will drive.

"THE TIMES" ELECTION BULLETINS.

The Times has made the most elaborate arrangements in its history to provide its patrons this evening with the election news from all parts of the country. The Associated Press bulletin service will be supplemented by special Postal Telegraph and Western Union bulletins transmitted from the telegraph instruments direct to the canvas.

Bulletins will be displayed in two places, from The Times building, at First and Broadway, and also at the branch office at No. 531 South Spring street, between Fifth and Sixth. The service will be begun at dusk and continued to 1 o'clock a. m.

The Bulletins at First and Broadway can be read both ways on Broadway and also on First street, will be very plainly and sharply lettered and will be "good easy reading."

In addition, on 100 bulletin boards of The Times about the central part of the city bulletins will be posted once an hour up to midnight.

BRAVE MAN!

SIKH'S VIEWS ON FAIR SEX.

Thinks That Our Women Are Over-Indulged.

Matrons of India Influence Husbands More.

Visitor's Mission Is Uplift of His Own Race.

B. K. Singha, a high caste Sikh and the first of his fighting race, it is believed, to visit Los Angeles, is staying at No. 610 Maple avenue. He arrived in the city yesterday, from Rawhide, Nev., where he has been studying the mines. He is a man of fine education, speaks English fluently and says he is in this country to learn better ways of living for his own people.

He said yesterday that one of the things he most admires in America is the freedom of the men and women. "In our country," he continued, "we are going down, down, down under the tyranny of Great Britain. Yes, I fear for my people. But in America, ah, what a land this is! What promise here! Everyone is free in your country, sir, and especially the women have the greatest social privileges. May I say that on the whole our women, down-trodden as they are, really exercise more influence over us than do the American women over their husbands. True, true, sir. Here, the women are seeking new ways of enlarging their liberties, and your men are so generous, so kind, that nothing is too good for your women, who, as I see it, are the most over-indulged, petted and pampered of any women I have met in my trip around the world.

Referring to his own tribe and its customs, the visitor said:

"You observe, I do not wear the turban any longer. I dress as you do in America. I am no longer a vegetarian, either. I am progressing in your democratic ways. All true Sikhs, though, must wear the turban. Our sect originated hundreds of years ago, during a civil war. The Mohammedans were trying to convert us by force, and we rebelled. A Hindu leader came up, named Guru Gobind Singh, whose followers wore a new style of dress and they took the name Singh, but I have for certain reasons, in America, added the extra 'h,' spelling my name 'Singha.' Under the Prophet Singh's leadership, my people became good soldiers. They are a faithful, honest farming people and have furnished, I regret to say, many good soldiers for England.

"BRITISH CURSE OF INDIA."

"The British, sir, are the curse of India. There is no need of denying it. Do they not drain the enormous sum of $225,000,000 each year out of our people in the form of taxes? This money is sent to England, we think, and about $100,000,000 comes back to support the British army against us. This is Great Britain's shame. No, my people will never be free as long as England keeps plundering us and allows us to grow up in ignorance. It is pitiful. It is shameful.

"What I hope to learn from the United States is your advanced ways of agriculture; also your school work and laws—your compelling every child to attend.

"I think the natives of India, especially from my province, would do well in Southern California. There is considerable similarity between your soil and ours. But the few Hindus that are in San Francisco are of a degraded caste, not even knowing their own language. They give you no idea of the high-caste Hindu.

"There has been a great religious awakening in India in the past few years. The doctrines of the Society of the Good and Noble, as we call ourselves, are spreading. The new sect is really one of the oldest in the world. It was reintroduced by one you would call a Christ, I suppose. But there have been many Christs and the religion of Swami Sanyasi is another of the inspired religions, so we, the followers of Sikhism, believe.

HIS TEN COMMANDMENTS.

"He preached a revival of the Vedas, the sacred books, but he taught that the books make no difference, as books, for the true Vedas is a series of laws to keep the universe going. The religion that I follow in my own country is known as Arya Samaj and it has its Ten Commandments, as you call them in the religion of Christ." These are: "God is; God is eternal; God is just; the Vedas is an inspired religion; seek truth; do good; be brotherly; hate the unscientific; love one another; be independent in your own life, but at the same time cooperate for the good of all."

Singha's home in India is at Amritsar. Asked where he had been in the United States, he said: "In Vacaville, Solano county; San Francisco, Rawhide and Denver. I expect to be in Southern California for some time." He is a skillful assayer.

FATE FOILS CUPID.

Accidents Three Times Prevent Marriage—License Secured for Fourth Attempt.

After seven years of courtship, and after arranging for the wedding three times, John Corcoran and Mary A. Daly are fearful that something will again happen to prevent their union.

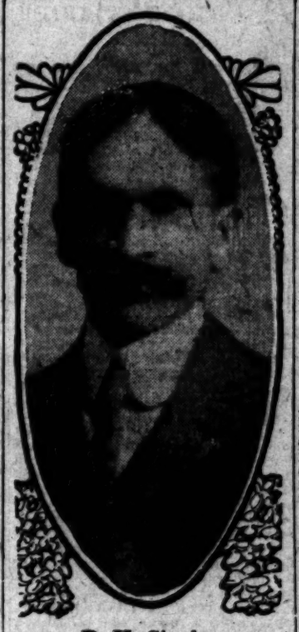
On each previous occasion when arrangements had been made for the ceremony, Corcoran has met with some accident and narrowly escaped death.

About a year ago they were to have been married in Quebec. Corcoran was working on the large bridge that collapsed, and was among the severely injured. He was in a hospital for eleven months. He has now recovered, and yesterday afternoon secured a marriage license.

He is 33 years old, and a native of England. Miss Daly is 37 years old, and a native of Ireland. As he left the Courthouse, the groom-elect said: "We have had hard luck in our efforts to be married, but if everything goes well this time, we may still have some years of happiness."

RECITAL POSTPONED.

The faculty recital of the Occidental School of Music has been postponed until Thursday night, on account of the death of the father of Herr Oscar Werner, which sad event occurred in this city on Sunday.



B. K. Singha, of the Sikhs, the fighting tribe of British India, who is here with the hope of improving the condition of his people.

DENIES DEBTS TO DISCIPLES.

RUSSIAN MYSTIC QUESTIONED IN BANKRUPTCY CASE.

Snaps at Attorney and Asserts That Women Named Are Not His Creditors for the Thousands Mentioned. Dr. Orlow Says He Will Tell of His Persecutions.

Dr. Orlof N. Orlow, whose soul is filled with the mysticism of the Indias and whose days are full of debts, had to go before the Referee in Bankruptcy again yesterday.

This time he was asked embarassing questions about the women disciples who are alleged to have loaned him large sums of money, and who are said to be the chief creditors among his $40,000 worth of debts.

Dr. Orlow had to take the witness stand again and the attorney for the creditors asked him severely: "How much do you owe Mrs. Lowell?"

"I don't know the lady," snapped Dr. Orlow.

"Isn't it a fact that you borrowed $1000 from her?"

"It's a lie."

"Isn't it a fact that you owe Miss Blythe $10,000?"

"It's a lie."

He denied owing "Mrs. Beckwith" $1000; Miss Irene Pool of this city, $500; Mrs. Hildebrand of this city, $500.

When he was asked about owing "Mrs. Hickcox" of Pasadena, $2000, the last of the illustrious Orlof line became hugely excited and cried out: "This is a dastardly outrage."

He was asked about various other women, but denied owing them money. When the attorneys got to "Mrs. Carpenter of Workman street," he turned with a puzzled look.

"Carpenter? Workman street?" He said he never heard of her, which must have been an awful jolt to Mrs. Carpenter.

The examination brought out several new creditors of Dr. Orlow, with claims aggregating $2000. One of these is Charles N. Cortright, who claims he gave the doctor $200 for an interest in Orlow's business and that Orlow did not keep the bargain.

To the horror of the doctor's disciples, one of the witnesses testified that most of the Orlof $80,000 collection of art curios were articles manufactured in this country. Thomas Kalujian, the rug dealer, testified that Dr. Orlow bought most of his "imported curios" in Chinatown, San Francisco.

Thomas B. Clark, the auctioneer, gave it as his opinion that some of the doctor's prized Japanese prints could not be sold at more than 25 cents each.

The testimony was declared to be concluded, but the bankruptcy petition is yet to be argued.

Dr. Orlow says that "when this is over" he will give out such a statement about his persecutions that strong men will shudder.

WOMAN SUES CITY.

Owner of Apartment House to Test Ordinance Regulating Construction of Buildings.

To test the validity of the ordinance regulating the construction, alteration and repair of buildings, Mrs. Florence B. Crampton of Vermont brought suit against the city yesterday in the United States Circuit Court. As owner of the Brownstone, an apartment-house at Fifth and San Pedro streets, she alleges that she has been damaged $2000 because of notice served on her to put more standpipes on her premises.

The bill in equity sets forth that the ordinance, passed in 1906, and numbered 12,800, is unconstitutional, and an arbitrary exercise of the powers of the Board of Public Works. Inasmuch as her building does not come within the class named in the ordinance, it is further alleged that she is discriminated against and is liable to lose the use of the property unless she complies with the instructions of the building inspector.

ALPHA PHI ALUMNAE.

The Alpha Phi Alumnae Association of Southern California held a bimonthly meeting at the Y.W.C.A. building Saturday. Luncheon was served in one of the beautiful private dining rooms. The table was decorated with marguerites and ferns, and a delightful afternoon was enjoyed. Those present were: Mrs. Robert J. Burdette of Pasadena, who is the president of the association; Mrs. J. M. Monning, Miss Florence Foy, Mrs. P. C. Tower and Miss Florence Wiley of Los Angeles; Mrs. Mable Cartwright of San Gabriel; Miss C. E. Stone of Santa Monica; Mrs. E. N. Woodward of Altadena and the Misses Alabaster of Pasadena.

CLASH OVER "TO BE" TAX

City Auditor and Attorney Locking Horns.

Delinquency Sale Legality Under Dispute.

Property of Los Angeles Railway Involved.

The protest of City Auditor Mushet, yesterday, prevented the City Council from releasing all claims by the city against the Los Angeles Railway Company for a "franchise to be" tax amounting to nearly $35,000 levied in 1907. The release was advocated by the City Attorney's office in an opinion prepared by Deputy Shenk and approved by Chief Deputy Wilson. They held that the tax sale, which resulted from the refusal of the company to pay the tax, had been illegally made.

Knowing that this action was to be taken by the legal department, Mr. Mushet prepared a long statement, which he read to the Council. Last year the assessment of $7,500,000 against the company included two-and-a-half millions on the basis of a "franchise to be;" that is, a franchise to have legal existence in a particular city. Before the Board of Equalization the company pleaded that this franchise could only be assessed at $500, because it represented nothing more than an incorporation. The board sustained the assessment of the City Assessor and nothing more was heard until the company refused payment on the ground that the tax was invalid as the "principal place of business" of the company was in San Francisco and not here.

But the city went ahead when the tax became delinquent and sold property of the company in Power Plant tract valued at $280,000 for taxes. This sale has since remained a cloud on the title of the company, and two weeks ago it presented a petition to have the sale canceled.

The City Attorney's office held that the assessment and subsequent sale were illegal as the principal place of business of the company was in San Francisco, and, therefore, a "franchise to be" tax could not be imposed in Los Angeles. The cancellation of the bond sale meant that the city would surrender its only color of right to the taxes assessed.

Mr. Mushet did not dispute the conclusion of law, but opposed cancellation on the ground that it would be a moral wrong to give up. The company, he declared, kept the "principal place of business" card up its sleeve, until after the assessment was confirmed. Then, fearing the San Francisco assessor would attempt to fix a high value, the company moved its "principal place of business" to Santa Barbara, for the law says a corporation may only be taxed on its "franchise to be" at its head offices.

"As they were required by the law to hold a meeting there," said Mr. Mushet, "they had a special car attached to a train leaving Los Angeles, made a trip to Santa Barbara, held their meeting in this car, had the car attached to a Los Angeles-bound train, and thus fulfilled the letter of the law."

Mr. Mushet said no trace of a San Francisco office or any meeting could be found. He said the value of the assessment would have been imposed on the "franchise to be" if there had been any question as to the "principal place of business" of the company.

By its trick the company had saved the real question until too late for the assessment to be revised, and had later been assisted, strangely, he said, by city tax collection officers, who had received part of the taxes and not that on the "franchise to be" assessment. All others, he declared, had been required to pay under protest, but an exception had been made of the Los Angeles Railway Company.

Mr. Wallace supported the Auditor. He said he had opposed the "franchise to be" tax before the Board of Equalization in good faith, but that he would not countenance the action of the company. It was like asking a receipt in full without paying a disputed debt. He moved that the petition be denied.

The Council thought differently, however, even after hearing Assessor Mallard in support of the Auditor. Believing that City Attorney Hewitt personally should review the subject when he returns from the East, action was postponed for a month.

Mr. Mushet does not contend that the legal decision is wrong, but holds that the company has forfeited all its rights in an equity proceeding by its trickery. In the meantime the taxes of 1907-8 were without the $35,000 due from the company, which, with interest, now approximate $35,000.

"'Tis better to have fought and lost than to be a party to such a deal," was the parting thought of the Auditor.

"FRAT" BOYS TAKEN BACK.

Kappa Delta Branders and Initiates Accept Conditions Laid Down by School Authorities.

Final sentence was pronounced yesterday afternoon in the case of the seven boys from the Polytechnic and Los Angeles high schools recently suspended for participation in the Kappa Delta fraternity initiation, in which the new members, Frank Rouse and Edgar Lusk, were branded on the forehead with the letter of the frat in a weak solution of nitrate of silver.

The seven lads are: Will Brown, Frank Rouse and Edgar Lusk of the High School, and Raymond Taylor, Blake Smith, Chester Crank and Guy Boynton of the Polytechnic. The Superintendent of Schools received them in a star-chamber session yesterday afternoon and explained to them the conditions on which they will be taken back, and to which they agreed, though very much dissatisfied because they do not share quite equally. As it is the two undergoing initiation will be allowed to return to their classes next Thursday, by agreeing to take no active part in the fraternity, and not to wear the pin while they are students at the school. Blake Smith and Raymond Taylor will be allowed to go back next Monday on the same conditions; Guy Boynton in two weeks from yesterday, and Chester Crank and Will Brown in three weeks.

AERO CLUB'S MEETING.

On account of election, the Aero Club of California, which was to have met tonight, will assemble tomorrow evening at its Bimini Baths quarters. All persons interested in aeronautics are welcomed.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The City Council has authorized the letting of the contract for the new Main-street bridge, for the construction of which the Los Angeles Railway Company will pay $20,000.

Dog catching has finally been placed in the hands of the Humane Animal League, and will be begun on a new basis next week.

Supervisor Eldridge and Chief Deputy District Attorney Shaw testified yesterday about the private sale of the good roads bond issue at the hearing before Judge Bordwell on the Germain injunction suit.

NEW BRIDGE'S WAY CLEARED.

COUNCIL AUTHORIZES LARGE MAIN-STREET IMPROVEMENT.

Los Angeles Railway Company's Offer of Twenty Thousand Dollars Is Accepted and Contract Will Be Signed — Five-cent Fare Effort Again Meets Failure.

The new Main-street bridge over the Los Angeles River will be built without delay, as the City Council yesterday authorized the Board of Public works to accept $20,000 from the Los Angeles Railway Company as its share of the cost of construction. The city had fixed the company's proportion at $30,000, but the railroad refused to pay, on the ground that its right of way did not require such expense, and that it could build a separate bridge for less than $20,000.

Last week the Council asked the City Attorney to define what rights the city has in connection with the bridge. Yesterday his opinion was read, and it showed that the city has the right to assess the company, because it would occupy any new structure just the same as the old, and the franchise provided that it should pay its share of rebuilding.

Mr. Wallace was opposed somewhat violently to the $20,000 offer at the last meeting of the Council. Yesterday he saw things differently, for he moved that the amount be accepted, and the Board of Public Works authorized to execute a contract. He said the payment was more to the city than a separate roadway for the cars. The Council unanimously concurred. The board will execute a contract at its next meeting. The bridge will be of concrete, and will cost about $140,000.

Mr. Wallace, for a committee which tried to secure 5-cent fares for the people living south of Manchester avenue on the Pacific Electric lines, reported complete failure. He said the company held that any concession would be misconstrued and result in litigation, and that the city must soon have its right to require 5-cent fares on all lines within the city limits determined by the courts. The sessions of the committee were attended by W. E. Dunn, representing the company, and L. R. Works, representing the city, and they agreed that it was desirable that the fare question be speedily taken into the courts.

On recommendation of the Finance Committee, the Council appropriated $1000 out of the appropriation for public celebration for the Elks committee, which is advertising the Grand Lodge meeting here next July. The Finance Committee was visited by Postmaster Flint yesterday morning and promised him the gift.

The veto of Mayor Harper on the penny-in-the-slot drinking fountains in the streets was not sustained by the Council. Six members voted to pass it over his veto. Councilman Healy, who opposed it, declared that seven votes were needed, and will continue his opposition. The ordinance gives R. A. McCracken permission to establish drinking fountains under the direction of the Board of Public Works, and he may charge a penny a glass for ice water—other water to be free.

Marshall Stimson and Fielding J. Stilson were at the head of property-owners protesting against the assessment for the Lake Shore drive sewer. They said the assessment was unusually high, and that a portion of it should be distributed through a district or be borne by the city. Mr. Clampitt moved that one-fourth of the cost—$11,600—be paid by the city, and the rest by the property owners, but the Council, after long discussion, decided it was against precedent and denied the appeal.

The Council received eleven bids for 12,000 feet of fire hose at prices ranging from 58½ cents for single-jacket hose to $1 for double jacket. The bids were referred to the City Attorney to ascertain if they conformed to the specifications, and will be acted on by the Supply Committee next Friday, under his advice.

It took just one minute for the Council to swat the unionist barber ordinance, which came up for passage. Only one member voted for it. There was no one present to harangue in its interest and reintroduction of it will not be tolerated.

Councilman Wallace was granted thirty days' leave of absence. He will visit the East on business, leaving today. Until his return the report of the Gamewell Investigating Committee will not be divulged, whatever it may be.

Protests against the improvement of Diamond street from Figueroa to Beaudry, and Orange street, from Second to Figueroa, were sustained.

New Dog Ordinance.

Dog-catching and pound-keeping in Los Angeles is now on a humane basis a la Pasadena. Dr. W. A. Lamb, head of the Humane Animal League, is the authorized preceptor of the new scheme, for the Council yesterday enacted a new ordinance, practically the old one, regulating animals and their licenses. Next Monday a contract between the city and the Humane Animal League will be executed, and then the millenium for the hobo ki-yi is to begin. Under the new contract the league is to receive 75 per cent. of the receipts from animal licenses. This is to support its work.

Grand Avenue "Lid."

Ernest R. Werdin, manager of the Western Paving Company, is off the lid. The building of the concrete base for the Grand-avenue pavement is going forward rapidly under the indefatigable Bristow without the bellicose contractor on the curbstone. But the lid is still tight for J. R. Miller, representing a committee of property owners, who have to pay for the pavement, is in Werdin's place, and is checking every inch of the work. Werdin promises to keep his eyes on the job frequently. There have been no more complaints to the Board of Public Works.

ANGER-STIRRED, HE EXPLODES.

SUPERVISOR RESENTS USE OF TERM, "SOLID THREE."

Sees Figure in Dreams, Eldridge Says—Testifies as to Private Sale of Roads Bonds and Denies He Is Guilty of Dishonesty, or Improper Conduct.

Quivering with wrath at the remembrance of his newspaper flagellation and consequent broken slumbers, Supervisor Eldridge finally exploded, yesterday afternoon, in Judge Bordwell's court. He was under examination by Attorney John D. Works as to his knowledge of the various steps of the private sale of the good roads bonds. The inquisitor casually made use of the words, "solid three," in putting a question and Eldridge gave free vent to his feelings.

"Hold on!" he exclaimed. "I want to say right here, Your Honor, that I don't know about any 'solid three' on the Board of Supervisors. Patterson Wilson and Eldridge are accused of being the 'solid three' when the minutes will show that we vote with four on a side more often than three. Yet the newspapers say 'solid three' and since this newspaper agitation against the good roads bond sale began, I have woke up often in my dreams and seen a great big three before me just as plain as a figure can be. That's true, Your Honor, I have. That dirty, measly sheet, The Examiner, only sells its papers on that, and the Express, published by the uncrowned Earl, also prints it. It isn't true and it isn't fair. Why, I've heard about the 'solid three' on the Board of Supervisors for the last eighteen years."

Eldridge was examined as to his knowledge of every step in the negotiations for the private sale of the bonds to the Los Angeles Trust Company and J. H. Adams & Co., and explained his reasons for the terms of the public sale that, he admitted, were advised by himself. His examination will be resumed Wednesday morning.

"I never gave my promise to be governed by the Advisory Committee in selling the good roads bond issue," the witness said in substance. "I did understand that committee was to be consulted about the letting of contracts for the road work, and I was ready, and am ready now, to act with it on that matter, but not on the bond sale.

"I honestly believe, and still believe that we got as good a price as possible from the private purchasers. Time saving seemed to me to be most desirable. For those reasons I favored the private sale. Mr. Shaw told us that we had the right to make a private sale, and I trusted Mr. Shaw. The San Francisco bond issue was sold at no better advantage, and the public wanted us to get to work on the roads without delay. I saw no reason, with my business experience in contracting work, why the roads should not be finished in two years. In our conferences with the Advisory Committee, I found that some thought the roads should be completed in five years; others, in two. So I hit on an average of two and a half years and in framing the advertisement for the public sale of the issue, I specified that bond deliveries shall cover that period. I gave a week's notice of my action to the other Supervisors. I believed that we ought to have at least $700,000 on hand at the start to save discounts on the contract work.

"It was about August 24 that Mr. Shaw invited all us Supervisors into the private room adjoining the Supervisors' room. I didn't know what he wanted and when Manning, Patterson and I got in there and Shaw told us that Martin wanted to talk about a sale of the bonds, I said at once that I didn't care to take up the matter until all the Supervisors were present. I never talked with Martin or any one about the private sale of the bonds before that time. I never inquired about bond prices on the outside, and there was never any conspiracy or corrupt dealing by me at any stage of the matter. I don't remember what Martin said to us at that first short meeting, but Patterson notified the clerk to notify Alexander and Wilson to be present at the next private conference, a week later.

"At the next meeting, Alexander, Patterson, Wilson, Manning, myself, Shaw, Daggett and Martin were present. Martin then offered us, I understood, tentatively, one-quarter point premium on the first $1,000,000, and one-half point premium on the rest of the issue, he to pay for printing and legal opinion. Patterson said he had talked with bankers about the proper price of the bonds. They informed him that a quarter point above par would be good. He and Wilson both favored a private sale if we could get enough. Manning and Alexander both favored a public sale. I though, in view of the aqueduct bond sale, we would do best by the county to sell privately, if we could get one-quarter point premium for the first $1,000,000, and one-half point for the rest. But we took no action that day.

"I did not talk with any one about the bond sale before our next meeting, on Labor Day, when Drake, Martin, Shaw, Adams, Patterson, Wilson and myself were present. Adams said he could not offer more than a quarter point premium for the whole issue, and could not agree to a later delivery than January, 1910. After much talk, we finally thought it a desirable offer. Adams asked Shaw to visit his office that afternoon and frame the bid, and he did so. Some reference was made to the Manning memorandum, but it was not discussed much. Neither Alexander nor Manning were present that day. It was understood that Wilson, Patterson and myself considered the offer a good one. The next day, at the public meeting, the formal offer was made and accepted. Alexander wanted delay, but Adams said that delay meant the withdrawal of his bid. Martin had asked us at previous conferences to make no mention of the terms of his bid, and we thought it but right not to make it public, as his competitors would thus know it. I understood that the entire issue would not be demanded by Adams except in case of an impending panic, when it would be best for the county also that the bonds should be sold quickly.

"At our first meeting with the Advisory Committee things got hot, with charges of grafting and conspiracy, and Patterson said that he guessed the Advisory Committee wanted to be the Supervisors and the Supervisors be the Advisory Committee, but he didn't propose to stand for that. I agreed with him. We refused to rescind the private sale until that amended complaint was withdrawn, for it contained mean, contemptible, untrue charges against us. Alexander fathered the Advisory Committee movement. I understood it was to eliminate politics from the good roads matter, but I found out that the City Club, a political organization, was in it right away. I told the Advisory Committee that I never understood they were to be consulted on the bond sale, and Beveridge was honest enough to say he so understood also. The contract for the final sale was never signed, because the corporations got cold feet. I always believed it ought to go through, and that we ought not to hesitate, no matter how great the public clamor, if we acted, according to our judgment, within our rights.

"I never at any time consulted with Jefferies, Adams, Drake, or any other person about the private sale outside these meetings, and in no way, shape or manner did I do anything that was open to a charge of dishonesty or improper conduct."

Deputy District-Attorney Hartley Shaw said that he accepted the responsibility for the private meetings of the Supervisors. He thought that the constant interruptions of a public meeting made it advisable for the Supervisors to retire to the private room to expedite business, particularly as the representatives of the engraving firms wished to make their offers without having them known to competitors. He thought it time saving that Martin's proposal to buy at private sale should be brought before the Supervisors at that time.

Mr. Shaw said that before the bond election he had talked with J. H. Martin and Mr. Drake about the nature of the good roads bonds, and that he had had many conferences with Mr. Martin. He could not say how many. Mr. Martin inquired the conditions under which the Supervisors must handle the bond issue. Mr. Shaw said that Adams, at his first meeting with the Supervisors, stated that Martin had exceeded his authority in offering a half point premium on the last half of the bond issue. Shaw suggested to the Supervisors that they would get their money from the private purchasers more rapidly than they could use it. He went over each step of the negotiations, telling a story that agreed in essence with that of Supervisor Eldridge.

J. C. Drake, president of the Los Angeles Trust Company, occupied the stand a few minutes, identifying a letter from his eastern associates, in which they withdrew from the bond purchase.

GRAND JURY IN SESSION.

WEST SIDE BANK'S AFFAIRS.

The grand jury yesterday examined Attorneys S. J. Sullivan and W. E. Mitchell, and Charles Ewing, Homer Hansen and R. E. Dobbs before adjourning at noon to meet again tomorrow morning at 1 o'clock.

It was reported that the witnesses were questioned as to the affairs of the West Side Bank, of which Homer G. Taber was president at the time of its failure. A receiver's report, made to Judge James in June, showed that the liabilities of the institution were about $51,000 and its assets about $17,000.

Taber went East last spring to raise money with which to meet claims against the bank. Attorneys Sullivan and Mitchell and Hansen, it was reported, were summoned to give information as to an agreement drawn up between Taber and Hansen in settlement of transactions between them.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

ROAD BONDS BIDS. The Supervisors yesterday extended until the 9th inst. at 3 o'clock the time for receiving bids for the good roads bond issue. They decided upon a $1500 appropriation toward the entertainment of the Grand Lodge of Elks at the convention of the order in Los Angeles in July. Motley H. Flint, chairman of the Committee on Arrangements for the convention, asked that appropriate action be taken in this respect, in view of the importance of the occasion to the county at large. The County Surveyor was authorized to plot the County Farm Cemetery, that the location of each body may be marked.

ROBBER CONFESSES. After a jury had been selected yesterday morning in Judge Jamison's court to try Benjamin Wyatt on a charge of robbing W. L. Sibley, a veteran, of $20 in Santa Monica Cañon on March 21, the defendant entered a plea of guilty and applied for parole. The case was continued until November 9. R. E. Neary, the companion of Wyatt, was convicted on his trial last March, and was sentenced to five years in San Quentin. Wyatt was released on his preliminary examination at Santa Monica last spring, but was rearrested in view of Neary's statements when the latter applied for probation before Judge Wilbur.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED. Edward McGrath and Michael McMahon, arrested on a charge of embezzling $25 from David Leahy of Pasadena, gave $100 bail each in Justice Pierce's court yesterday, pending their trial on November 13.

LAWYER DEFENDANT. Attorney A. D. Warner's arraignment on a charge of uttering a worthless $200 check to A. D. Myers in August was continued to Wednesday morning by Justice Summerfield yesterday.

BURGLARY. Justice Selph yesterday set for Thursday morning the examination of Ray Watson, charged with burglarizing the home of W. E. Howell and the store of R. H. Condenbouch at Hollywood. Bail was fixed at $1500.

HORSE DEAL. A jury in Judge Houser's court yesterday awarded W. A. Choate $127 judgment in his suit against Moore Brothers to recover $275, alleged due as the price of a pair of unsatisfactory horses bought from the defendant last spring.

SUES STOCKHOLDERS. G. B. Richmond, as assignee of the American National Bank of Pomona, yesterday filed in the Superior Court a limited liability suit against L. Butman, W. H. Holcomb and fifty other stockholders in the Julian Consolidated Mining Company, to recover about $22,000, alleged due on notes and obligations of the corporation created during 1906 and 1907.

WILL FILED. Robert Strong, executor under the will of Mrs. Mary E. Boynton, who died in Massachusetts on October 23, leaving a $25,000 estate to relatives, yesterday filed the will in the Superior Court for probate.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday with the County Clerk by the Glendora Water Company, capital stock $25,000; Glendora Irrigating Company, capital stock $150,000; Southern California Congregational Conference, no capital stock. The Glenwood Park Land Company gave notice of a decrease in capital stock from $50,000 to $20,000. The Traders' Bank of Los Angeles gave notice of an increase in the number of directors from seven to twenty-three.

FEDERAL COURT CLOSED.

There will be no session of the United States courts until Friday morning. The Federal court will open at Fresno next Monday morning and will continue in session about three weeks. Judge Wellborn, United States Dist.-Atty. Oscar Lawler, and one of his assistants; Circuit Court Clerk C. N. Williams and assistants, and Chief Deputy Marshal Sittel and assistants, will leave here Saturday. During the Fresno sitting, routine business will be transacted here as usual.

Man Charged With Stealing Newspapers Forfeits Bail—Lawyer Provides for Client's Wife.

Rather than face a charge of stealing newspapers from his neighbors, C. M. Secor, 35 years old, of No. 414 South Grand avenue, forfeited $20 bail, yesterday. He did not appear in Justice Chamber's court when his case was called.

It was said by police officers that Secor and his family had planned to move to Seattle yesterday. A bench warrant was issued by the Justice, and if the man can be found, he will be arrested.

Many complaints of stolen papers were made at the police station by Secor's neighbors, some time ago, and an officer was detailed on the case. This officer, in his complaint, stated that Secor arose at an early hour every morning, took papers from in front of neighboring doors and returned to his home.

The accused man, until a short time ago, was a clerk in a local jewelry house.

Saves His Client.

When the case of failure to provide brought against Count George De Trost, by his wife, was called for hearing in Justice Austin's court, yesterday, the defendant was not present. Deputy Dist. Atty. Joseph Ford asked that a bench warrant for his arrest be issued, but to avoid this, the Count's attorney, Le Compte Davis, gave $5 for the immediate support of the wife. A postponement was then granted.

Married at Last.

For the second time within a week, Clinton A. Pedrick and Louise Mottral were, yesterday, pronounced husband and wife. Last Thursday, the young couple took a boat ride on the high seas. When they had reached a spot that they thought was far enough distant from land to make their marriage legal, they requested Rev. Mr. Bugbee to perform the ceremony. The couple then repaired to a hotel in Pasadena. The girl's father asked the police to help locate his daughter.

Yesterday, Pedrick and his wife appeared before Deputy Dist. Atty. McCormick, who told them the law of the State does not recognize a marriage on the high seas. Pedrick replied the minister had told him such a marriage was legal.

The attorney decided that the best thing to do under the circumstances was to have the ceremony performed again. Pedrick secured a license and a lasting knot was tied.

The young husband, who is an electrician by trade, was employed as piano player in a moving picture show when he first met Miss Mottral. Her parents objected to the match because of her youth.

Assault Charged.

On a charge of having assaulted Frank Ertobeles with a deadly weapon, John Silver was arraigned in the Police Court, yesterday, and his preliminary examination set for November 27. The assault is alleged to have taken place in a pool-room at Buena Vista and Ord streets, on June 30.

NEW INDICTMENTS.

New indictments charging Jesse D. Button and G. J. Patch with conspiring to introduce Chinese illegally into this country, were filed in the United States District Court, yesterday. The defendants appeared with their bondsmen and signed new bonds. The indictments are substantially the same as those formerly returned against the same men, but are said to be more explicit in certain particulars. Button has a livery stable on North Main street and also conducts an undertaking establishment for Chinese patrons. Patch is owner of an automobile livery.

It was reported at Madrid, yesterday, that the copper miners in the Rio Tinto district will go on strike. Detachments of cavalry, infantry and gendarmes have left Huelva for the district to maintain order.

What do I want with Torrey?

What do I want with honesty?
What do I want with decency?
What do I want with temperance?
What do I want with right living—with heaven and with eternity?

These are questions that are staring every Los Angeles man square in the face today—questions that must and will be answered some way some day. Why not now?

Suppose you were to be suddenly called from this life today—would you be ready to face your hereafter—or would you wish you had given these questions some deep, solid thought, years ago?

Dr. Torrey is coming to Los Angeles to help men to live so they'll be prepared to die—to show men, what they need with right living and eternity—not to dictate—not to force—but to show to fair-minded, unbiased men what right living has to do with business life, with social life, with home life and with eternal life.

If you want to know these things—if you want the help of a man who has been through it all—who has himself been one of the most destructive critics of the Bible the world has ever seen—make it a specific point to go and hear Dr. Torrey.

MINES AND MINING.

MAY ADOPT AN EASTERN RULE.

Los Angeles Stock Exchange Appoints Committee.

Will Restrict Transactions to the Floor.

California Hills Will Send Shipment to Needles.

In an effort to force all trading in mining securities onto the floor of the exchange, the Los Angeles Stock Exchange is considering the inauguration of rules similar to those in vogue on the New York Stock Exchange, and by which members are prohibited from dealing off the floor. The rule does not apply to bonds, and it is expected that local bank stocks will also be excluded. The matter is now in the hands of a committee, consisting of Joseph Ball, John Earl Jarvis, O. H. Burbridge and D. A. McGilvray, and an official report is expected within the next week.

Those who are in favor of the suggestion point to the fact that daily conditions are now used, both by brokers and by the fraternity of curb brokers, to close business on the exchange, and, as a result, the prices which should rightfully be given by the exchange sheets is seriously curtailed. There is no question but trading has shown an enormous increase within the past year or so, and yet a great portion of it goes through secret channels. In this way brokers are enabled to make large commissions on their orders, but the public does not obtain the same protection as would be accorded by the operation of the new rules.

In opposition to the suggested rule are those from those members who are called "dealers," as distinguished from "brokers," and whose commission connections on the floor are only a very small portion of their business. They look upon the innovation as a handicap, and it is probable that its adoption will result in their withdrawal from the exchange, and the delegation of their business to floor brokers.

It is generally conceded that the exchange, in order to accomplish the greatest benefit for the local financial world, must command the unqualified confidence of the public, and it is believed that the suggested rules will work toward that end. At the present time there are about 120 brokers doing business in this city in stocks, bonds and securities, and of this number only thirty-two are members of the exchange. The forcing of all trade through the exchange will have a tendency to force curbstone dealers on the market or compel them to apply for membership in the organization.

At the present time banks and other large financial institutions enter largely into the commission business, and in many cases securities are dealt in through those channels. This is said to be the case of Home Telephone, Union Oil and other leading securities. One instance known of a broker who made over $60 on one transaction, involving 10 shares of a leading stock. The transaction was closed off the exchange, and the buyer had no means of knowing what price his order was executed at. It is believed that the rules, if adopted, will cause a cessation of what is manifestly unfair methods of business.

California Hills to Ship.

According to information just received by the local office of the California Hills Mining Company from H. E. Wood, president of the company, who is now on the ground superintending the resumption of active operations, sacking of ore on the dump and from the sixty-five-foot level will be commenced on Wednesday, and it is expected that a shipment will reach the Needles smelter within the next one or two weeks.

A contract to sink an additional 100 feet in the Gold Dollar shaft, which already been put down 108 feet, has been let and work already commenced. Drifting is going on on the 100-foot level, and, upon the advice of President Woods, values running $100 are now being encountered at points on the surface trenches. Having developed the existence of a large body of ore, and it is believed that the pay shoots are contained within the company's lines.

During the past few weeks arrangements have been perfected by which a large amount of unissued treasury stock, in the neighborhood of 200,000 shares, has been contracted for by a local syndicate, which includes among its members the well-known Colorado mining man of Colorado Springs, who is identified with the development of the famous Gold Coin mine; A. A. Hayes, cashier of the Bank of Victor, Colo.; a Mr. Buck, a capitalist of Denver, and several capitalists of Chicago.

President Woods will remain on the ground until next week, by which time it is expected that all arrangements for an active campaign of development will have been made. A 100-pound shipment of samples of ore will be shipped from the property on Monday, and may be seen at the company's local office.

First National Listed.

An article which appeared in this paper last Saturday with reference to the calling of unlisted stocks on the Los Angeles-Nevada Stock Exchange, in the name of the First National Copper Mining Company was among those that have negotiations refused to make statements for publication purposes. This was manifestly an error, as the company has been for some time after filing statements of its financial and general condition.

The company owns fourteen full claims adjoining the property of the Gold and Copper Mines at Ventrigger, near the Nevada, and four full claims adjoining the property of the Lloyd Mining Company at Goldfield. A shaft, 108 feet in depth, has already been sunk on the property ground, and it is the stated intention of the company to prosecute the work as rapidly as possible. The company is entirely free of debt, has 60,000 shares of stock still unissued in its treasury, besides a large cash. Negotiations are now being carried on for a ten-stamp mill to be installed on the ground.

Ashenio Directors Meet.

At a recent meeting of the directors of the Ashenio Mining and Milling Company, J. K. Turner, consulting engineer for President A. D. Myers, was elected agent for the company in the state of Nevada. Byron L. Oliver, the company's attorney, was instructed to file papers in California, and in every way under the State laws the new stock is being made out as rapidly as possible, and will probably be ready for delivery tomorrow or the next day.

Promotions of Mining Men.

W. H. Porter, formerly manager of the Bonanza mine, has returned to the city, after a trip of mines in Oregon and other points to the north.

J. R. Talpey, interested in the Skidoo Bluejay and other Nevada mines, has returned from a lengthy stay in New York and other eastern points, and is now at the Hotel Leighton with his family.

L. C. Dillman of the Alaska United Company, operating in the Copper River country, has returned from a three weeks' trip to Seattle, San Francisco and Fresno. While in Seattle he met the returning prospecting parties sent to the North by his company last summer, and received the manager's report of operations for the year. He will leave for Duluth and Chicago on Thursday.

Capt. W. R. Wharton, connected with the Skidoo Mines, has returned from a month's trip to mines of Plumas and Butte counties. He visited Greenville, Seneca and Prattville districts, and reports large bodies of low-grade gold ore that will exert a noticeable bearing on the market when the completion of the Western Pacific Railroad permits of cheaper transportation facilities.

Gen. Charles S. Warren of Butte, Mont., one of the most picturesque characters in the western mining world, and who is known in every camp in the country, is one of the three Presidential electors on the Republican ticket of Montana. He reached Butte in the very early days, and was the first Sheriff of Deer Lodge county. Since then he has filled many public offices, and recently served as police judge of Butte. In his judicial capacity he laid down the maxim that any miner who had paid his legitimate monthly expenses was entitled to one "drunk" a month.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

ONE NEW WELL IN CITY FIELD.

UNION CONSOLIDATED DRILLS ON OCEAN VIEW.

Old Districts Show No Sign of Disappearing—Santa Fe Making Deep Test at Fullerton—Many Angelenos Get Circulars from Company Drilling Wildcat Well in Coalinga Field.

The city oil field is holding its own very well. Not only does it show no signs of dissolution, but old wells are being pumped to the limit, and a new one is being drilled by the Union Consolidated on Ocean View avenue. It is down about 500 feet, and will go between 1500 and 1600. It is right in the heart of the oil district, surrounded by producing wells. Another was completed here about nine months since. About four years ago a hole was sunk to 2200 feet and a stratum entered, but the tools were lost and the well ruined. This was the deepest ever sunk in municipal limits.

Drilling is almost impossible under present city regulations. It can be done only when the property is located and arrangements such that no new permits are needed for new engines or cables across streets. Deep development has been entirely prevented by the city authorities.

To estimate the output of the old wells for the year is almost impossible with any degree of accuracy. There are hosts of small producers, working as individuals and in partnership, who render no statements. Some do their own pumping and field work. Deliveries are all by wagons, no pipe line entering the districts. All sorts of guesses are made, the general view of operators being about half a million. Since being cleaned out and deepened, in some cases 50 to 100 feet, old wells have been raised from an output of five to fifteen barrels a day.

They are operated cheaply by pumping with a jack and one engine. A single employé can handle almost any number when they are close together. Some owners are themselves practical workmen, and so have almost no expense. Ten wells yielding ten barrels each with oil selling at 75 cents means $75 a day, or when the yield is half this per well, as is apt to be the case, $35 a day.

At present prices an individual having a few wells right around his home is well fixed. He has a good income assured with very little efforts. There is a good market for every barrel he pumps. Oftentimes he gets a contract ahead for all, then does a good deal of the field work in person. There are but a few stock companies in the city field, all of them old ones.

The Union Consolidated refinery has been leased to the Turners, owners of the Densmore-Stabler refinery, for a term of months, with the privilege of purchase.

More Stock Faking.

Burr Bros. of New York have sent many Angelenos literature of the People's Associated Oil Company, which is drilling a wildcat well in the south end of Coalinga. The Burrs have been sending The Times two or three statements from men at Coalinga, in an effort to convince this journal that they have good prospect land. These, at their face value, simply show a difference of opinion on the subject, equal authorities being found on the other side.

Even if the land is a good prospect, it does not in any way justify the ridiculous and exaggerated statements made by the Burrs in their literature. No man can see into the ground, and therefore when a prospect of this kind is represented as a certainty those doing so are telling an untruth. The deliberate statement that the People's Associated "controls, all told, 120 acres of the most valuable land in the Coalinga district," is absolutely false. Should a good strike be made, it may become very valuable, but at present it is not. Its value is not to be compared with that of scores of small tracts in the proven belt, some of them with producing wells.

Such methods do great harm to the oil industry. This is but one of many exaggerated statements made. For instance, they talk of 500-barrel wells as though certain and very common. They are rare indeed, although there are such miles from the Burrs' location.

About a year ago Burr Bros. incorporated themselves, and they boast that no company they have floated as a corporation has failed. Probably few have had time to do so, but they are very silent about those they put out as individuals.

Fourth Well in Coyotes.

The Murphy has its fourth well in the Coyotes about to the oil sand. For the first time in this region the water has been shut off, and indications are for a good well. No. 3 is not so far down. On account of its location it will be deeper. The exact depth is not made public, but it is known that this is about 2000-foot territory.

In No. 2 the casing has collapsed, and in No. 1 the water has never been shut off. It can only be separated from the oil by a long period of settling, after which the product is good for fuel. If a good, dry producer can be brought in it should pay well, as the oil is 30 gravity, and a very good refining product.

The Union's failure to get this stratum so far on the Bastanchury lease points to either a decided dip or broken formation.

Deep Fullerton Well.

The Santa Fé's No. 29 at Fullerton is the deepest to date in that district. It is below 2900 feet, and still drilling. For the last 500 feet no oil has been encountered. The hole went through the usual strata satisfactorily, and is being driven down as a thorough test.

The Graham & Loftus well, half a mile from the Hall wells, is down between 2600 and 2700 feet. Indications are reported to be very good. This is on a tract of 2000 undeveloped acres, and the line of the Pacific Electric's La Habra Valley road. Success will prove a large area.

To Drill on Water Front.

The Harbor View Oil Company, a recently organized concern, has secured 4000 acres on the Bixby ranch, near San Pedro, to drill on. The terms allow the well to be sunk on this tract, and when oil is found the company has the option of leasing 1280 acres, two sections, in a continuous tract not less than a mile wide.

Pittsburghers at The Palms.

A Mr. Greenlee of Pittsburgh, Pa., son of a prominent oil magnate of the Keystone State, has leased 320 acres near The Palms, adjoining the Amalgamated and the Pacific Light and Power Company's tracts. He has organized a close corporation of four eastern friends, and will start a rotary at once.

LOSE THEIR JOBS.

Carpenters Quit Work Because They Get Money Semi-Monthly by Check—Places Filled.

Seventeen carpenters employed by the F. O. Engstrum Company on a building under course of construction on South Main near Seventh street, quit work, yesterday, because of dissatisfaction with the semi-monthly check method of payment. Their places were immediately filled and the disgruntled workmen will have to seek other jobs. F. O. Engstrum stated that the action of the carpenters could not be designated as a strike. "These men didn't like our system of pay and quit. There are more men available than we can use at the present time," said he.

The company has paid employés on outside work by check for some time, and there has been no dissatisfaction before, owing to the large number of men employed by the contractors, it was found inexpedient to pay in cash each week.

Constitutional Amendment No. 31.

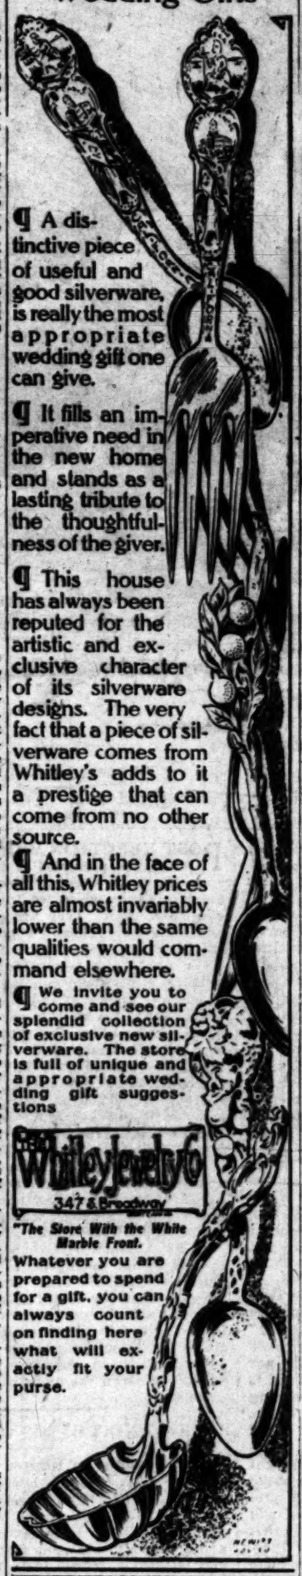
Be sure and vote for this amendment November 3.

Distinctive Silverware

Appropriate For November Wedding Gifts



¶ A distinctive piece of useful and good silverware, is really the most appropriate wedding gift one can give.

¶ It fills an imperative need in the new home and stands as a lasting tribute to the thoughtfulness of the giver.

¶ This house has always been reputed for the artistic and exclusive character of its silverware designs. The very fact that a piece of silverware comes from Whitley's adds to it a prestige that can come from no other source.

¶ And in the face of all this, Whitley prices are almost invariably lower than the same qualities would command elsewhere.

¶ We invite you to come and see our splendid collection of exclusive new silverware. The store is full of unique and appropriate wedding gift suggestions

We Are Selling Office Furniture Fast

WE were not surprised at the hearty response accorded us last week on account of our announcement that our office furniture was to be closed out at actual cost.

We expected that the public would believe our statement and take advantage of the price. We could hardly afford to say that we were selling office furniture at cost if we were not. We do not want you to connect this sale of ours with the "Continued Performance" sales. You know that we are unalterably opposed to the usual sale methods. We have a genuine purpose in this sale, and that purpose is to dispose of all our office furniture.

These office desks and other furniture have not been priced up in order to allow a 50 per cent. discount, but every office desk, table and chair has been repriced, and the price ticket now gives the actual factory cost to us with the lowest net car freight; that is to say, the quantity price laid down in Los Angeles.

You are thus able to secure a single article at the price we pay when ordering large shipments. Any article that we can land here at 15 per cent. freight charges, we do not assess 25 per cent.

There never has been a time in the history of this city when a man could equip his office for so little money as now.

Remember, our stock of office furniture is the finest in this city. We handle nothing but dependable lines.

TAFT AND SHERMAN.

For President. For Vice-President.

Editorial Pen Points

This kindly greeting to all we waft;
Get a move on you and vote for Taft.

What's the matter with Bill? He's all right. Who's all right? Bill Taft.

Up to a late hour last night Norman Mack had not yet claimed Pennsylvania.

Missouri gave a Republican plurality of 25,000 four years ago. What will she do today?

The case has been submitted, the jury is in the box and the verdict is about to be handed in.

What this campaign really lacked was a little of the militant spirit of the British suffragettes.

It is reported that the Servian army has no powder. Fortunately, however, it does not need any.

The "doubtful States" have not much longer to remain that way. They must now show their hands.

It is regarded as a certainty that at least six of the candidates for the Presidency will be defeated.

Riverside county can claim the distinction of having produced the only real ginger jar of the campaign.

In Oregon it is against the law to make a political speech on election day. Why single out just that one day?

Notwithstanding that he has plenty of his own grease, it is not thought that Hisgen will be able to slide in.

Electricity is now used in agriculture. It ought to help some to hitch a live wire to the hired hands occasionally.

No doubt the evening papers will inform their readers as to the result some time before dark the day after tomorrow.

Two women kissed Bryan at a reception in New York, and still there are people who say he had a chance to be elected.

We shall know in a few hours whether or not the Democrats were justified in banking on the splits in the Republican party.

This new style of green hat that you see on the streets is probably nothing more than an election dodge to catch the Irish vote.

Great Britain is face to face with the problem of building more Dreadnoughts and providing more bread for the unemployed population.

The just-to-be-contrary vote will hardly help Bryan much today for the reason that people don't believe in that sort of thing any more.

Capt Hobson seems bitterly determined to pull off a war with Japan. Can't he be patient and wait a couple of thousand years or so?

A magazine writer says "Monte Carlo is not so bad," meaning, we suppose, that is is not quite as bad as hell or some of those other places.

We suppose there will be the usual citizen who will not have made up his mind how he will vote until about three minutes before the polls close.

There will be about 15,000,000 ballots cast today, most of them for the purpose of burying William J. Bryan out of sight for the third and last time.

The good Los Angeles citizen will arise this morning, say his prayers, take a bath, eat his breakfast, read The Times and vote for Taft. This will be a good start, anyway.

Chafin said he could carry Georgia if he had $1000. Does he mean to say that there isn't a Prohibitionist in the country with a thousand dollars worth of sporting blood in his veins?

Perhaps the people wouldn't mind turning over the government to the Democrats, once in a while, if it were not for the fact that it is always returned in a most dilapidated condition.

During the campaign the fact came out that Grove L. Johnson had resided in Sacramento during the past forty-three years. This relieves other portions of the State from any responsibility.

The Chinese bands did not play "The Star Spangled Banner" during the reception to our fleet. There were two reasons why they did not do so, the first being that the Chinese have no bands.

Senator Dixon asserts that our battleship fleet was sent to the Pacific at the request of the Mikado, who desired in that way to silence the jingo sentiment in Japan. He is a wise old Mikado.

About the first of next January prepare to witness the joke of a Republican Legislature in Oregon electing a Democrat to the United States Senate as a result of the direct primary election law.

The Times will tell you all about it tonight in the bulletins and in plenty of time for you to get home and have a good night's sleep that will be all the sounder for knowing that the country is again saved.

Taft, a Republican Congress and Uncle Joe Cannon again in the Speaker's chair will not only restore confidence but it is also a combination that will make the saddest pessimist in the country sit up and smile.

HANG TO THE ANCHORS.

The storm is at its height today. The ship of state rocks uneasily in the offing. A bit of torn sail is not to be considered. Never mind a bit of paint beaten from the sides of the old craft. In the conditions that prevail there is but one safe course to pursue.

Hold on to the anchors; let things be as they are. We are safe now, and this is no time to go out of port into a disturbed sea, bound for an uncertain harbor over untried seas and with a chart not tested by experience.

The anchors which hold us in safety are tariff protection, sound finance and courts of unimpaired validity. We may safely trust to these. They are holding well and have weathered every storm whenever safety has been sought in them.

If every voter who knows that the welfare of the country depends on tariff protection and sound finance and a valid judiciary will vote the Republican ticket today, California will roll up a majority of over 50,000. If that were to be done in Los Angeles county the majority would be 20,000 at least. There are no other issues before us today worth a moment's attention compared with these. They are the issues on which the election turns, and every vote cast on any minor issue is a vote thrown away. The voters might just as well stay at home.

To go back to our metaphor. Why venture out in such a time in any little cockle-shell of a boat sure to be swamped in a moment, when one is safe in the old ship? Yet there are political adventurers who will do just that foolhardy trick, and when the storm is over tomorrow they will have been swallowed up. There will be just one question tonight: Which has won, the Republican or the Democratic ticket? Which chart is to guide the ship in her four-year course, that of tariff protection, of sound banking laws and of valid courts, or that of free trade, unworkable financial dreams and shackled courts? All the small side issues on which some will venture forth, like ship-wrecked sailors on a raft in a storm, will be lost, and the fads will be forgotten.

In view of the fact that these senseless side issues will lead some astray, The Times makes a last appeal to all loyal Republicans to be sure to vote. Cast your ticket for protection of the industries of the State, for honest, conservative banking and for unfettered, free and impartial courts. Not only go to vote, but see that every Republican voter on the block where you live goes.

EVOLUTION OF DIALECT.

A large proportion of the people who now make up the population of Southern California came, as is well known, from the East and Middle West. With them they brought certain dialects in speech. Lettered or unlettered, the American is bound to put his own little twist on the pronunciation of what was once the King's English.

But it has been noticed that when the New Englander or Kansan or any of the other expatriated have been in Southern California for a period of years, their dialects undergo a change. The folk from the Cape Cod country make less use of their nasal organs when speaking, and the Middle Westerners drop the peculiarities of conversation that distinguish them. And it is not to be wondered at. Indeed it is all quite natural. These people undergo a change in their manner of expression as naturally as they undergo a change in their physical bodies and their mentality after they have lived a while in a new climate.

We can't see how there can be any dispute of the contention that the nasal twang of the New Englander is due wholly to the weather that obtains "down East." As for the peculiarities of speech which are denotements of the people of the Middle West, they can be explained perhaps on the theory that they are resultant from the wide spaces of prairie lands, the manner in which the wind speaks to the tasseled corn, and other conditions of their environment.

Now, when these persons are brought to a land of soft, sighing breezes and tender skies, and especially when they come into contact with the lisping cadences of the Castilian tongue, they soon begin to talk in an entirely different tone of voice from that which they have been accustomed. No more for them the nasal twang or the strident vocal note that springs from the thorax. They lose their interest in musical instruments that have the sound of brass to them, and take to guitars and the like. They are fascinated with the low musical tones of the pianos and of the descendant of the dons and the soft-spoken señorita. They no longer say "by heck" or "I jing" or "b'gosh" or things like that. But instead they fall into such phrases as "muy pronto," "Si, Señor," "gracias" and all that. We think it is for the best; at any rate it is interesting.

TALK CHEAP.

According to the newspaper men attached to Mr. Bryan's touring car, he speaks six to eight hours a day. He is said to utter more than 100 words per minute. This he has kept up for the last fifteen days. Place the average at seven hours a day and we have 105 solid hours of talk. Taking round numbers, this gives 6000 minutes of talk, and at 100 words to the minute we have 600,000 words uttered in half a month.

Some days the Bryan verbal delivery has been as high as 48,000 words.

Go into a business office and ask what it means to dictate 6000 words in a day. You will be told it means a very tired man at night. Yet the mental and physical strain of dictating business letters is like play compared to a speech made to a big audience whom the speaker is trying to move.

Clergymen speak perhaps three times a week in set discourses and the whole time is about an hour and a half. In ninety minutes at 100 per minute this gives 9000 words as the average weekly work of a hard-working pastor. Think of this compared with 48,000 in a single day. Yet most pastors complain of excessive work, and some who preach only one sermon of an hour's length in the week insist on the entire seven days to prepare their discourse and have no time to make visits.

The talking record of Mr. Bryan is marvelous, and when you think of how few votes he gets by it, surely his talk is cheap.

THE WEATHER AND THE VOTE.

The weather report in The Times this morning will be read more carefully than usual. Those who are much interested in the great campaign today and who know politics well will read every line in the weather report.

The total vote today should be 15,000,000 and will hardly be less than 14,000,000. In 1900 the total vote was 13,961,566, and in 1904 it was 13,523,518. The great electoral vote of Mr. Roosevelt owed its increase over that of Mr. McKinley to the abstention of Democrats from voting, rather than to members of that party voting the opposition ticket. This is shown by the popular vote of 1904 being nearly 500,000 less in the Roosevelt year than in the McKinley year. The natural increase in the vote in a Presidential term of four years is about 2,000,000. Should the vote cast today increase in that ratio, it should be 17,000,000. Surely there ought to be 15,000,000, and it does not seem reasonable to conclude that this total can fall below 14,000,000.

But the weather may decide the size of the vote to the amount of 2,000,000. For fifty years shrewd politicians have watched the weather reports on election day with great interest. In New York State it is a fact well agreed upon that good weather on election day is worth 50,000 votes or more to the Republican party. A severe storm up-State, where the party vote is heavy, deters many thousands from going to the polls. St. Lawrence and other counties are very broken and wild. Roads are bad, bridges dangerous in flood time, and voting places are often far away and hard to reach.

The same conditions prevail in many States, and the weather means much to the Republican party. Democratic strength is greatly concentrated in cities and towns where the polls are near the voters' domiciles and easily reached.

Thus all over the country the candidates will scan the weather reports with interest, and so will the party managers. Should a snowstorm sweep over New York, Mr. Bryan will think he is not like Sisera, against whom the stars in their courses fought. He will look upon himself in the light of a veritable Joshua, on whose victory the planets are waiting with a smile of light.

THE GATHERING CLOUD.

NOT FOR KATHERINE.

The bright society reporters, who are keeping an anxious world so well informed as to all the varying phases of the international wedding which keeps society agog, have found a new complication, or a way out of the maze, if you please to look at it that way.

The latest news from the seat of war in Rome is that the royal family will make no objection to the Duke contracting a morganatic marriage with the American girl. This is probably coupled with the proposition that Papa Elkins "comes through" with the check for $1,000,000 duly certified.

Well, we will risk a guess that neither girl nor check will "come across" on any such terms. It is reported that much indignation remains among European royalties, Italian and otherwise, at the mere thought of a royal duke forming so disgraceful a mesalliance as the marrying of a plebeian American girl. But the Roman proposition is a downright insult. A morganatic marriage may not make Rome howl, or any other royal capital; but a proposal of marriage in so "questionable a shape" will make Elkinsville's parlor conversation resemble that of the famous army in Flanders.

Morganatic matrimony? What is it? A mere form of semi-legalized breach of the Seventh Commandment, made and provided to throw a cloak over the just which in times past has made royal courts something similar to a Turkish harem.

Should Miss Elkins become Duchess of the Abruzzi in this way, the title would be merely one of courtesy and the Duke might cast her aside like any soiled glove whenever he might wish to attach a real duchess to his establishment.

If the Italian fleet comes to America to take away a morganatic bride, we shall feel sorry the American fleet is in the Orient, out of gunshot of the noble Roman on his Sabine mission.

KNOCK VICIOUS LEGISLATION.

The voter who is reading these words will be casting his vote in a few hours, perhaps in half an hour. Before you go into the booth settle carefully in your mind how you will vote on the too numerous amendments to the State Constitution. The Times thinks it makes little difference how you vote on some of them, or whether you vote at all. A few are far-reaching in their effects and most decidedly vicious.

Senate Amendment No. 1 should be voted down. If it carries, you will pay more taxes than you do now and corporations will pay less. Place the cross in the box after the word "no" on Senate Amendment No. 1.

Assembly Amendment No. 3, relating to primary elections, is one of the most vicious fads of this day of faddism. The effect of it will be, if carried, practically to destroy all party organization. That is what it has done in such States as have tried it. See the muddle in which it has put Oregon. It is a scheme to let the minority control the majority, to furnish material out of which to construct a political machine which the people cannot reach, to make public office the perquisite of the rich, who can pay the campaign expenses of running the machine. The Portland Oregonian advocated this scheme in the State of Oregon, but after experience of its mischievous working now condemns it.

Every man who believes in party, whatever one he may belong to, should vote "no" on Assembly Amendment No. 3.

See elsewhere in The Times a list of these measures and our advice as to each of them. If you are in doubt, vote "no." To let matters rest as at present is better than to take chances on some proposition whose effect is hard to see.

The real humor in the campaign consists of the efforts of Sam Gompers to deliver the labor vote to Bryan and the funny contortions of Herman Ridder to deliver the German vote to the same address.

POST-ELECTION WORK ELSEWHERE.

We have presented to the people of Los Angeles and of the Great Southwest a few of the many great things to which we are to turn now that the election is over. They are all works of progress, and all great. Those we present are only a few out of many.

We would also beg permission to suggest good work for the post-election days to some communities in our own sphere of influence.

We would be glad to see our friends in San Francisco go about the prosecution of the crooks who have so disgraced the State; go about it in a legal, sane and effective way and put them behind the bars, where they belong.

We would like to see our friends in Oregon get busy and free that State from the awful net of Populism woven around it, making progress hard, if not impossible.

We would like to see the good people of Kentucky and Tennessee get vigorously to work and rid those States of the gang of murderous night riders who have been destroying property so ruthlessly and taking life so cruelly.

If San Francisco is to be made a decent place to live in, her intelligent, sane, law-abiding people must wake up and make their views effective. If Oregon, Kentucky and Tennessee are to keep pace with the growth and progress of their sister States in this great twentieth century, Oregon must rid herself of Populism and the two Southern States of ruffianism. A regiment of rough riders who would ride down the night riders is what is needed down there.

MEN AND THINGS OVER THE SEA.

Editor Straight to Retire.

Sir Douglas Straight, lawyer, journalist, and editor of the Pall Mall Gazette ever since William Waldorf Astor has owned it, proposes to retire next March. Sir Douglas won his spurs, pension and a handle to his name first as a criminal lawyer and later as a puisne judge of the High Court in India. His first editorial service for Astor was in connection with the Pall Mall magazine from which he became editor of the Pall Mall Gazette.

Archaeology in India.

A renewed interest in the archaeology of India has developed since Lord Cruzon put an end to the vandalism that has been permitted for so many years that many of the most important monuments of the country had disappeared. The passing of the Ancient Monuments Act in 1904 was followed by the reorganization of the Archaeological Department. Apart from actual annihilation, extensive mutilation, defacement and depredation have been going on for centuries. The sculptures connected with ancient temples have regularly been mutilated by the Mahomedans, owing to their hatred of the use of images. Many statues of Buddha have been transformed by the use of paint into Hindu deities. A notable instance of this is to be found in the celebrated temple of Bodh Gaya in Behar. A large number of the finest specimens of ancient Indian carving, especially those of Graeco-Buddhistic art, have been carried out of the country by collectors of antiquities and are, consequently, lost to the student of archaeology, and the Public Works Department of earlier days, while engaged in the construction of roads, bridges and railways, utterly effaced many valuable relics of antiquity.

Lord Amherst's Library.

Lort Amherst of Hackney's library, which is to be sold at auction next month, is one of the most famous private collections in existence, and the sale is considered one of the most important for many years. The collection comprises the fifteen finest Caxtons in existence, three Wycliffe New Testament manuscripts, two splendid copies of the first Shakespeare Folio, the genuine first Robinson Crusoe, the 1465 Lactantius, which is the first book ever printed in Italy; the Gosford copy of the Mazarine Bible, and some superb specimens of the earliest issues from the presses of Guttenberg.

Hustling the "Tube" Trains.

So great have been the demands upon the underground service in London that a new vigor has been injected into the train service. Inspectors have been appointed to stop delays at the "lifts," and trains are to be run during the rush hours at intermissions of 1 3-4 minutes. Tickets are also to be sold in strips to save delay at the gates. The slow passengers are likely to have to take the next train and the women with babies will have to hustle to keep up with the innovation.

Plenty of Champagne.

Notwithstanding the reported failure of the grape crop of France there will be no failure in the supply of champagne. All the dealers in this wine have huge cellars wherein large quantities are stored from year to year. The reserve stock at the present is estimated at 112,000,000 bottles, or very nearly enough to meet the ordinary demand for four years. A four-year failure of the grape crop would therefore be necessary before champagne drinkers would have to forego their favorite beverage.

Families Must Have Children.

A new departure in apartment-houses has recently been opened in Paris. Too often the owners of such houses want no children about, but in this one no family can secure an apartment unless it has at least three children. The building contains forty-four apartments and affords accommodation for 220 persons, of whom at the present time 60 are children. Most of the apartments have large balconies with which large living-rooms communicate. The partitions between the apartments of the parents and the children extend only three-quarters of the height of the ceiling. The window sills are high enough to prevent the children climbing and a special stairway, in addition to the regular stairs, leads to it is a flight of steps of half height for the use of the children. The building is provided with a complete and commodious fire escape. The apartments rent at from $36.80 to $84.80 a year, and is especially intended for the benefit of poor people.

SCIENCE NOTES.

Worry and Ill Health.

A man in good spirits is usually a man in good health. The entire system seems to be in accord. At the same time there are men in good spirits whose affairs as business goes, prosperous and apparently everything in their favor, but at the same time in poor health. They are evidently just on the nervously unbalanced to prevent all the functions of the body working harmoniously. Their hidden worries, perhaps unconscious, wear them out. This worry causes physical derangements is described by a writer in Harper's Weekly. "That worry," he writes, "particularly over matters of one's environment, will cause the most positive form of indigestion is proved by a case recorded in Paris. For the purpose of experiment, several medical physicians arranged with the authorities to use as a subject a man condemned to death. He was promised allowed to hope for commutation of sentence until three days before the official date set for the execution, when he was informed that at the end of that time he would be guillotined. He had been always a healthy, rugged, athletic man, a heavy eater who had never known trouble with his digestion, gans or stomach disorders. Before being told his fate, he ate a hearty meal of various foods which a note was made at the time. Afterward ate but little, and in decreasing quantity as worry increased over his approaching end. When executed, the post-mortem examination covered the food he had eaten three days before still in his stomach and undigested. The organs were perfectly normal from a pathological point of view, but the depressing, prostrating effect of worry on the nerves affecting the digestive organs had prevented the stomach from exercising its functions of digestion."

Handicraft a Nerve Cure.

Dr. Herbert J. Hall of Boston has evolved a cure for patients with nervous systems worn to tatters that is proving very effective. Such persons are in imperative need of rest and quiet, and having decided to get them to woking with their hands to do this, he established some handicraft shops. Marblehead upon the water front, where the quaintness of the town and the restfulness of nature are in opposition. The industries comprise wood carving, metal work and pottery. Teachers and designers of the very highest ability are employed in each line, and nothing but the best standard in design and workmanship is allowed to pass muster. Then there is the financial end of the sale of products and the winning of favorable attention in the art craft exhibits to excite the ambition and interest of patients. Here business professional men who were on the verge of nervous breakdown have spent months working and been restored to health; and women with overwrought nerves have found that there was a cure in simple a thing as working with the hands.

Rendering Gasoline Tanks Safe.

The presence of a gasoline tank becomes a dangerous element during a conflagration. Experiments have shown, however, that this danger may be averted by burying the tanks beneath at least twenty inches of earth. In a great fire in Boston 30,000 gallons of gasoline lay safely in an underground reservoir beneath ruins burning for three four hours. Special reservoirs are constructed with a double delivery pipe, the upper part of which being filled with carbonic acid gas under pressure. This prevents the formation of any explosive mixture of inflammable gas and air, as well as any from expansion of vapor by heating. The inner pipe leads from the bottom of the tank to the self-closing delivery cock. The liquid being forced out by the pressure of the inert gas; and the outer pipe stops at the top of the reservoir, being, therefore, filled only with gas.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

"A Knight for a Day," the new musical comedy by Robert B. Smith and Raymond Hubbell, opened in the Mason Opera-house last night, and will continue for a week, with a matinee on Saturday. It has had a year's run in Chicago, with three months each for New York and Boston. This fact in itself would indicate qualities that make for popular applause—and "A Knight for a Day" certainly has them, though it can hardly be called a masterpiece of its kind.

It is a tuneful and agreeable diversion for an evening. There are a number of very catchy songs scattered through the piece, all of which are given with ecliat by the various members of the company. The work of the chorus is superb, and the figures and dances, which are many and intricate, are gone through with fine precision and effect.

The fun of "A Knight for a Day," however, is not particularly spontaneous nor original. Only occasionally does it effervesce and bubble over and show itself through the whole audience. This failure, of course, is due to the makers of the musical comedy, and not to its interpreters, for they have done wonders with it. In fact, when one harks back over the work of Wiley Barry and Elsie Herbert, one is inclined to reverse his opinion and say that 'A Knight for a Day" is a really delightful thing, after all.

Wiley Barry, who is undersized of form and quick of movement, and is, withal, past master of an endless variety of the grotesque in expression, comes fun enough in the course of an evening to lift any and every situation, no matter how trite or banal, to a triumphant success. His immense good-nature and rollicking humor flows on and on, carrying you with it and making you quite forget your grudge with the man who wrote the jokes Barry is compelled to utter. This comedian is remarkably well, too.

Miss Herbert's songs are delightful, and notwithstanding her good looks, she makes up into one of the most delicious figures ever seen on any stage. Her Tillie Day, a "servant girl," is a constant joy to one's risibilities. Nothing could be more laughable than the manner of her elopement with Jonathan.

There are many startling and realistic beautiful scenic effects in the musical comedy, and the costumes are as tasteful and as pretty as the graceful and pretty girls who wear them. Even, too, they are vividly picturesque in color.

Tonight election returns will be received from the stage of the Mason.

At first blush it would seem that the Orpheum Stock Company is putting its quality to a test this week, in George M. Cohan's "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway." A comedy with such a title as the programme names it, is not the vehicle one would choose for the serious actor, Lewis S. Stone. If it can only it be, no subtleties of situation go to make the story interesting. It is the Cohanesque dialogue that has made the piece its success. The musical numbers, with the style of verse and tune that catch popular favor, are quite essential.

They need the finish of a New York production, trained voices and good looking, to carry them off, and these qualities one can not hope a stock company to pick up in a week.

The cast is Kid Burns, and Miss Dolan as Mary, the housemaid, proceeds the Cohan witticisms trippingly on the tongue; and Miss Oakley is charming enough to make the young fellow, from Broadway and Forty, say, "That's a mighty fine girl, all right!" And in singing a good song, as the Miss Lewis does a good bit of work as an elderly gentlewoman of New Rochelle. Her clothes of the vintage of '75, say, and her on things from Broadway of In her wake come a crowd such as are not to be seen West, as Kid Burns assures us, of New Rochelle.

The hold-overs of the week are Vinie Daly, in songs and dances; Jane Courthope and company, in "Lucky Jim," a melodrama in miniature, and Hilarion and Rosalie Ceballos's "Phantastic Phantoms."

The Orpheum will have direct wire connections established today, and will read election returns between the various numbers on its programme.

Corset Demonstration

No woman can really know without seeing the Gossard just how perfectly this easily-adjustable front-lacing corset adapts itself to every movement of a woman's figure; and still, how it IMPROVES her figure.

The Gossards absolutely conform to the arch of the spine, thus insuring the fashionable habit-back, with side and front lines in artistic harmony.

The Gossard has special advantage in the graceful slope and snug hip-fitting effect—producing the long, willowy outlines of girlhood, even in the mature.

It avoids the well-known disadvantages of back-lacing corsets. There are no steels to irritate, no rivets to tear the flesh, no unsightly and unpleasant bunches of strings in the back.

The Gossard laces, as it should, in the front. There the lacing is soft and comfortable, while the spine, instead of being irritated, is supported. Free play is given to the vital organs, deep breathing is permitted and full comfort enjoyed.

Dressmakers everywhere favor the Gossard Corset, because it gives them perfect figures to fit.

Physicians prescribe the Gossard Corset, because it is positively hygienic.

Be sure to come in before the week is done. We want you to know Mrs. Redding. We want her to demonstrate to you just what the Gossard will do for you.

May we expect you?

The Cost Trifling; The Benefits Enormous

The Removal of the Capital to Berkeley Means

1. Economy to the State and Tax Payers.
2. Better and Cleaner Legislation.
3. The Great State Library brought to the State University.
4. The Matchless State Law Library made accessible to Courts, Attorneys and the University Law School.
5. The scientific knowledge and departments of the University at the command of the State Government and the State Legislature.
6. A Noble Capitol worthy a great State, adequate for the present and future.
7. Economy, Convenience, Progress and Development to Southern California and the State at large.

Let Not a Single Southern California Vote Be Cast Against the Best Interests of California

SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY.

DUCKS DIE OF WRONG GREEN.

They Swallow Paris Variety With Fatal Effect.

Wheat Treated for Rust Lures Thousands.

Perch Take to Kern County Water.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.] BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 2.—Deputy Fish Commissioner Tibbet has received word from San Francisco that seed wheat treated with Paris green for rust was responsible for the peculiar malady that affected the ducks at Tulare several weeks ago, causing their death by the thousands. A representative of the Fish Commissioner writes that until this fact was established it was supposed the malady was an epidemic. A strange fact in connection with the case is that a previous analysis failed to detect poison.

TO STOCK STREAMS.

The first shipment of foreign fish to be planted in Kern county streams in accordance with the plans of the State Fish Commission, arrived last night. It will be taken to Buena Vista Lake and lower Kern River immediately. The shipment comprises blue-gill sunfish and ringed and yellow perch.

To fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of W. W. Harris as editor of the Kern County Labor Journal, Ralph E. Galloway, a well-known local newspaper man, has been appointed.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ball celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage night before last. A Halloween supper was served, followed by whist.

WOMEN'S PROBLEMS.

The Woman's Club circles tomorrow will be mothers' day. Mrs. W. H. Wieman has the programme in charge, which is as follows: "A Problem in Science," Mrs. W. W. Kaye; "A Problem in the Rights of the Child," Mrs. F. Morgan; "A Problem in Purity," Mrs. W. H. Wieman; "Some of the Young Methods in Use," Mrs. W. L. Peck.

While at supper at the Greenfield ranch, twenty miles south of town, Pat Watkins, a peddler, was robbed of $35. The money was left in a drawer under the wagon seat.

FOUR ORDERS REPRESENTED.

The funeral of Jim Wills, who was killed Thursday by the accidental discharge of a shotgun belonging to Aurelio Serrano, the ex-prize fighter, and saloon-keeper, was held yesterday afternoon. The deceased was a member of the Bartenders' Union, the Eagles, Moose and Odd Fellows, and representatives from each organization attended.

Articles of incorporation of the Old Diamond Oil Company capitalized at $100,000, were filed here yesterday. The directors are E. A. Weaver, A. O. Marlen, C. S. Foltz, H. J. Brainard and R. E. Weaver.

NEW WELL.

O. Ashour, secretary of the Associated Oil Company, came down from Maricopa yesterday in his Oldsmobile touring car with S. A. Guiberson, Jr., the latter's superintendent at Coalinga, and William Maxwell.

The Elk Crude oil on section 2, in Round Mountain brought in a new well at 2,100 feet. It is well No. 5.

ONE BY TRAINLOAD.

Band of Colonists Yesterday, and Many More Due Today and Tomorrow on All Lines.

There was another rush of colonists to the three local railroad depots yesterday, and according to advance reports today's arrivals will be greater than ever.

The regular morning trains on the Salt Lake and Santa Fé came in two sections. Many homeseekers arrived from the north over the Southern Pacific in addition to twelve coach loads from Yuma.

There were fourteen coaches in the second section of Santa Fé overland train that arrived yesterday morning, and twelve in the second. A large party arrived on No. 7, and there were nearly eighty coaches on the California Limited last night. Twenty-four coaches full are due on this line today, and twenty-four Wednesday morning. But the general offices have been advised that only coaches will be turned over to them today which have been routed through the Middle West over various lines.

The Salt Lake's overland train came in Saturday in two fourteen-coach sections. Nearly all of the travelers were farmers, and their baggage was piled high on the station platform, showing that they came to stay.

RIGHT KIND OF STRIKE.

Railroad Man Files on Claims Near Caliente, Said to Be Rich in Gold Values.

C. W. Swayze, a conductor on the Salt Lake, reports that a number of railroad men, himself included, have located valuable claims near Caliente, and that a strike of rich ore has just been made.

The first location was made by Charles Rives of Colorado, a brother of T. Rives, who is also a conductor on the Salt Lake route. The claim is called Calderwell, and Calderwell is suffering with an epidemic of fever since the value of the ore came out.

The present strike was made on the Rives property, where an ore body forty-one-half feet wide and 100 feet long has been uncovered, which rumor places $500 or better to the ton. In addition to this there is a twenty-inch streak, which contains free gold in considerable quantity.

Constitutional Amendment No. 31.

Legislature shall not extend any franchise or charter, nor remit the forfeiture of any franchise or charter of any quasi-public corporation existing or which shall hereafter be formed under the laws of this state. The charter existing under the laws of this state may be extended, at any time prior to the expiration of its corporate existence, for a term not exceeding fifty years from the granting of such extension, by the vote or consent of stockholders representing two-thirds of the capital stock or of two-thirds of the members thereof. A certificate of such vote or consent shall be signed and verified by the president and secretary, and by a majority of the directors of the corporation, and filed and certified in the manner and upon payment of fees required by law for filing and certifying articles of incorporation, whereupon the term of the corporation shall be extended for the period specified in such certificate, and such corporation shall not be required to pay all annual or other fees required by this amendment to be paid by corporations.

Miss Bessie Bartlett,

who will entertain with a fashionable musical Thursday at her beautiful Hollywood home, "Vista del Mar."

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

MISS KATE VAN NUYS of No. 1445 West Sixth street, assisted by her mother and sister, Mrs. I. N. Van Nuys and Miss Annis Van Nuys, entertained with a smart dinner dance last evening in compliment to Miss Mary Hubbell, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Stephen C. Hubbell, and members of her bridal party. Invitations were issued to about 150 guests, who included members of the younger set and a few of the young married couples. Dancing was enjoyed in the lower rooms, while supper was served above stairs in an apartment that was converted into a bower of pink blossoms. The centerpiece of the table at which Miss Hubbell and her bridal party were seated consisted of little cupids nestling amid a profusion of tiny pink rosebuds. Below stairs the decorations were also of pink roses, which were arranged in great clusters about the rooms.

Miss Macneil Hostess.

Another fashionable affair given for Miss Hubbell yesterday was the luncheon presided over by Miss Marion Macneil, a talented débutante, who was for the first time allowed to be hostess at a formal function. She received her guests at the home of her mother, Mrs. Hugh Livingston Macneil, of South Figueroa street.

Large Function.

A large musicale will be given Thursday at the beautiful home of Miss Bessie Bartlett of Hollywood. This will be the second of a series which Miss Bartlett and Mrs. Philip Zobelein are giving this winter. The event will be a "Rudolph Friml Afternoon," and the guests will be received from 3 until 6 o'clock.

Wedding Announcement.

Interesting to local society folk will be the announcement of the wedding of Earle Le Roy Venre, a prominent young member of the Jonathan Club, and Miss Anna Mary Heim of Santa Rosa, Cal. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heim, of Santa Rosa. Mrs. Venre is a society favorite, and her husband is a graduate of Hanford University. They will make their home at No. 649 Chicago street, where they will receive friends after November 15.

Afternoon Wedding.

Yesterday afternoon took place the marriage of Charles Howard Mills and Miss Bertha Knight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Knight, of No. 621 Witmer street. The service was read in the garden by the groom's father, in the presence of a few relatives and friends. A reception followed, and later Mr. and Mrs. Mills left for a wedding trip. After November 9 they will receive their friends at their new home at the Municipal Recreation Center, of which Mr. Mills is manager.

At the close of the Mills-Knight wedding a surprise was sprung upon the assembled guests when Samuel Whittlesey and Miss Ruby Constance Journeay, both of San Diego, stood forth, and were united in matrimony by Mr. and Mrs. Mills. The bride wore a cream voile, empire gown, and carried a large bouquet of cream roses and maidenhair fern.

Among the guests were: Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Knight, Dr. and Mrs. T. Percival Gerson, Rev. and Mrs. Reynold E. Blight, Mrs. George Journeay of San Diego, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Stokes of San Diego, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Padelford, Miss Milly Theal, Mrs. George Addington Eastman, Miss Vera O. Hileman, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Finch, Miss Ellyn T. Hill, Miss Winifred Smith, Miss E. Holmes, Miss Martha D. Dougherty, Miss Frances McHarlan, Miss Ethelwyn Mills, Miss Faith Mills, Miss Mary Mills, Emerson Knight, Eli Carlson and Henry Mills of San Diego.

Paymaster's Romance.

Rishworth Nicholson, paymaster in the United States Navy, and son of Mrs. J. H. Nicholson of Oakland, will be married this month, in that city, to Miss May Annette Luttner, a prominent society girl of New York. The paymaster arrived in San Francisco, yesterday, from San Diego, where he arrived from the Philippines on the United States relief ship Solace.

The exact date of the wedding has not been determined. The groom-to-be met Miss Luttner in the Philippines when she was touring the islands with her aunt. He is well known in this city.

To Paris.

Gen. and Mrs. Robert Wankowski of No. 2548 Normandie avenue will leave, today, for Paris, where they have been called by the illness of Mrs. Wankowski's mother, Mrs. J. M. Davies.

Chadwick-Collier.

Mrs. Ada Belle Chadwick was united in marriage last evening at No. 1115 West Thirty-first street to Robert Melville Collier at 8:30 o'clock.

At Home.

Mrs. Lee C. Gates and daughter, Miss June, have returned after a three months' visit in New York City.

Chafing Dish Supper.

Mrs. J. Wesley Sprague of Fourth avenue, West Adams Heights, was hostess, Sunday evening, at an informal chafing dish supper. Her guests included Mr. and Mrs. Cateseby Thom, Mr. and Mrs. W. Ona Morton, Miss Clare Park and the Misses Smith of Pasadena.

House Guest.

Mrs. Louis Ghirardelli, who has been enjoying an extended eastern trip, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday, and is the guest of Mrs. Henry Crane of Seventh and Coronado streets.

To Receive.

Mrs. C. P. Waterman and daughter, Mrs. N. M. Kinney, will be at home to friends the first and third Fridays in November.

Engagement Announcement.

Mrs. Martin Joseph Golden announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Jane Josephine, to Kimball Carter Mooers of Richmond, Va. The wedding, which will take place next month, will be a quiet event, owing to the recent death of the bride-elect's father.

Announcement Party.

In honor of the announcement of the engagement of her sister, Miss Laura M. Preston, to Ralph Chase of this city, Mrs. Frederick Brewster Preston of No. 973 Western avenue entertained, Saturday afternoon, with a delightful buffet luncheon. The wedding will be solemnized in December and Mr. Chase and his bride will live in a beautiful bungalow now being completed on Harvard boulevard. Miss Preston is a popular Washington girl, who is well-known in Los Angeles. The groom-to-be is a prominent lawyer of this city, and a member of the Phi Delta Phi "frat." Decorations at the luncheon were most artistic. A large golden pumpkin ornamented the center of the table, and attached to it were tiny imitation pumpkins, tied with yellow ribbon.

Yacht Club Dinner.

Members of the South Coast Yacht Club will give a dinner at the Hollenbeck on the evening of November 13.

Merry Evening.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Barlow at No. 428 East Twenty-fifth street was the scene of a merry evening party recently, when Miss Gladys Barlow was hostess. Those bidden were Miss Lucy Dunham, Miss Alta Condon, Miss Clara Hauser, Miss Mary Koenig, Miss Alice Soule, Miss Esther Boaz, Miss Mae Crow, Miss Gladys Ennis, Miss Gladys Strang, Miss Mignonette Miguel, Miss Boyd, Miss Florence Black, Miss Gertrude Softhouse, Ralph Maskey, Albert Haskell, Clarence Tilson, James Leech, Eddie Milner, Walter Masher, Joseph Longenow, Clarence Koekenberger, Valentine Montgomery and C. Bleck.

Novel Shower.

A novel shower was given by Miss Blanch Carr of Harvard boulevard in compliment to Miss Louise A. Bonsack, a charming young girl whose wedding to the hostess's brother, Hugh Carr, will take place in January. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. Bonsack, Mr. and Mrs. B. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Bonsack, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sturgeon, Mrs. C. Doll, Miss Anna Plummer, Miss Hazel Ralphs, Miss Mildred Bonsack, Miss Grace Matteson, Miss Cassa Bell, Miss Lena Perry, Miss Geanette Crawford, Miss Lou Gould, Miss Hazel Cliff, Miss Louise Bonsack, F. Munsic, Mr. True, W. Johnston, W. Marsh, C. Beasel, W. Ralphs, E. Ralphs, R. Matteson and H. B. Carr.

"Through Hades."

A pretty Hallowe'en party was tendered guests at the Hotel Figueroa by Mrs. Edel Pierson and her daughter, Miss Clara, assisted by several of the young men residing at that place. One of the novel conceptions for entertainment was a "trip through Hades," which ended in a room of blazing red and sulphurous fumes, in which a demon and other fantastic figures moved. This was followed by dancing in a ballroom illuminated only by candles, a short musical programme and a luncheon. Forty guests were in attendance.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

"Buy and Boost."

The opening boom for "Prosperity Week" among the women's clubs of the city was heard yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Frank Wiggins made a short but convincing talk on the "buy and boost" proposition before the members of the Ebell Club.

The householders represented by such women as the Ebell members have the key to the situation when it comes to the practical observance of such a week, and a resolution was passed at the close of the talk, thanking Mrs. Wiggins, and pledging the members to further the cause by every means in their power.

The speaker explained at the beginning that the boosting of home products is by no means intended to injure any of the worthy importations which benefit the community, but as an eye-opener to the virtues of the many articles of home manufacture.

She said that the Chamber of Commerce has lately listed every Los Angeles enterprise that comes under the definition of factory, and that there are 1811 concerns on the list in Los Angeles, which are running factories, manufacturing everything from ant exterminators to automobiles and portable houses.

She reminded the club members that not only articles of food are to be included in the purchases of "Prosperity Week," but that the beautiful pottery and glassware are worthy of attention, and that artists, playwrights, actors, musicians and authors in our midst should come in for meed of recognition.

"One woman whom I know," said the speaker, "has declared that from sunrise on the opening day to sunset of the closing day of 'Prosperity Week,' her family shall not have a single article served on the table except home products, and that the home products shall be accompanied with a continual flow of conversation about the merits of the said products."

Mrs. Wiggins spoke of the window displays of the week, which should attract much attention, of parade day, and factory-visiting day, when 400 factories will keep open house.

"If you buy home products during the week set apart for their special purchase," said Mrs. Wiggins at the close of her talk, "they will be certain of your patronage ever after."

The Play "Chivalry."

Yesterday afternoon a remarkable play was read to the members of the Ebell Club by the author, Alfred Allen. It is called "Chivalry," and it is the play that won a prize of $1000 in a competition, conducted by a New York magazine when more than 1000 were submitted for consideration. Mr. Allen's voice was in poor condition, and the fact injured the appreciation of the full merit of an astounding piece of dramatic work. Like the new type of drama that has risen in Europe to grapple with problems of state and society, this play has seized upon the most sinister and horrible phase of the race question in the South, and illumined it that all the world may see, and sense the situation. The delineation of the various types of character with which the tragic drama deals is strong and true. The negroes are real instead of grotesque. The play is strong and terrible, and perhaps too somber in its truth to ever become a popular or successful theatrical production.

Needlework Guild.

The Needlework Guild has issued an invitation to the public to attend its reception this afternoon from 3 to 5 at Kramer's Hall, to inspect the thousands of garments which the members have gathered, and which will be distributed to fifty or more philanthropic institutions tomorrow.

The members worked like beavers yesterday getting the garments listed and laid in neat piles on the counters, which extend around the large hall which Kramer puts at the disposal of the guild every year. Among the piles are many warm garments for women and children, as well as men, and the tiny babies have not been forgotten. Over 5000 have been listed. This is a splendid showing, but the ladies feel as though they would like to own a magic wand to double the number, for the requests this year are more numerous than the guild has ever had before, except in the earthquake year, when special work was undertaken.

The Associated Charities, the Orphans' Home, the Children's Hospital, the Kaspare Cohn Hospital, Bethlehem Institutional Church, and other local institutions, over fifty in number, will receive these garments, and they feel specially thankful for them, as each piece of clothing is absolutely new.

Three new sections will soon be formed, Mrs. Garcelon, Mrs. Wheland, and Miss Julia Burnand being the three ladies who have notified the president, Mrs. Salisbury, of their intention of forming new sections to aid this worthy charity.

College Women.

The College Women's Club will give a luncheon next Saturday at 12:30 p.m., at the Hollenbeck Hotel, when prospective members will be the guests. Mrs. Gertrude K. Bagley will contribute to the literary programme which will succeed the luncheon.

Averill Study Club.

The Averill Study Club recently gave a delightful reception in honor of the president, Mrs. Juliet Stiver, at the residence of Mrs. J. A. Smith, No. 2109 East Second street. The members and friends were entertained with a programme given by the children of the members. The numbers included: Violin solo, Arthur Carpenter; recitations by Miss Mabel Henry, Norman Averill and Frank Smith; instrumental number by Miss Mabel Henry; song by Miss Alice Glascock. Instrumental selections were also given by Mmes. Averill, Barton, Carpenter and Adams, and Mrs. Calvin Smith read an original poem.

DEATHS, INQUEST, AUTOPSY.

Coroner Signs Three Certificates, Including That of Girl Fatally Burned While Making Cake.

The Coroner signed three death certificates yesterday, held one inquest, and superintended an autopsy. The sad case of Mary Lalley, 16 years of age, who was fatally burned Saturday, while preparing a cake for a Hallowe'en party, was the first considered. The Coroner signed a certificate to the effect that the child's life was lost through accidental causes.

A certificate of suicide was signed in the case of Mrs. Helen Southerland Douglas, who shot herself in the throat Saturday. The remains are at the Bresee morgue, where funeral arrangements are being made.

A Coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death in the case of John Fahrenkrug, 11 years of age, who was killed by a freight train Friday night. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the family home, No. 831 McGarry street, interment being made in Evergreen cemetery.

A suicide certificate was signed in the case of Fritz Ammann, who disappeared July 2, and whose body was found near Hollywood several days ago. The remains were cremated yesterday afternoon.

Heart disease caused the death of Mrs. Maggie Clark, according to an autopsy held yesterday. She was found dead in bed at her home, No. 1712 East Twenty-fourth street. The remains will be sent to San Jacinto for burial.

PROMPTLY CURES STOMACH MISERY

ALL STOMACH DISTRESS AND DYSPEPSIA VANISHES IN FIVE MINUTES.

You can Eat your favorite foods without dread of indigestion or an upset Stomach following—Let Diapepsin digest your meals until your Stomach gets Strong—Regulates the digestion before you realize it and makes you feel fine.

There would not be a case of Indigestion here if readers who are subject to Stomach trouble knew the tremendous digestive virtue contained in Diapepsin. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the sourest, acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all foul, Nauseous odors from the breath.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on each 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily understand why this promptly cures Indigestion and removes such symptoms as Heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, Belching of Gas and Eructations of undigested food, water brash, Nausea, Headache, Biliousness and many other bad symptoms; and, besides, you will not need laxatives to keep your stomach and intestines clean and fresh.

If your Stomach is sour or your food doesn't digest, and your meals don't tempt you, why not get a 50-cent case today from your druggist and make life worth living? Absolute relief from Stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and, besides, one case is often sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.

Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Diapepsin, which will always, either at daytime or during night, relieve your stomach tasery and digest your meals, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

LARGEST PICTURE FINISHED.

Canvas Portraying Scenes Along the Los Angeles Aqueduct in Place for Exposition.

A. R. De Rostaing and E. L. Scoville, the well-known landscape artists, yesterday completed the painting of the principal scenes along the Los Angeles Aqueduct, which will grace grace the lobby of the Made in California exposition, and today they will begin work upon the panoramic view of Los Angeles county, showing the 200 miles of good roads to be constructed by the county.

The aqueduct painting is not only a work of art, but it is the largest canvas on the Pacific Coast. It extends the entire length of the lobby, and is 100 feet long by about twelve feet high. The painting will be of historic import and it will probably prove not only the largest but most valuable painting west of the Mississippi.

Work in all departments of the exposition, including the theater which will be run for the exclusive benefit of patrons of the exposition, is progressing rapidly, and, everything is expected to be in readiness for the formal opening of the big industrial show a week from next Saturday.

Various exhibits are being installed, and it is expected that the experience of last year, when there was a rush of applications for space during the few days remaining before the opening, and no space to be had, will be repeated, although the floor space is twice as great as that devoted to exhibits at the initial exposition.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES

[The Times freely publishes the views of correspondents without holding itself responsible for writers' opinions. Be brief, write plainly, state clearly. The space of 250 words, on the average, is sufficient for the point. Well-written letters are liable to be declined merely on account of their length.]

Trust Company and Bank.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your yesterday's issue you quoted J. C. Drake as testifying in the bond case that "The stockholders of the Los Angeles Trust Company and the First National Bank are the same, just as the stockholders of the Southern Trust Company are the stockholders in the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank."

If J. C. Drake so stated, even under oath, he was very much in error. The statement is not the truth. The First National Bank of Los Angeles, through a committee of its stockholders, owns the Los Angeles Trust Company, body, breeches and boots. The Southern Trust Company and the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank are separate and distinct institutions, and, to some extent, are rivals for business. The Southern Trust Company has at least one hundred stockholders, including among its number Stoddard Jess of the First National Bank, who have no interest whatever in the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank.

PASADENA.

RUSH WINDS UP WARM CAMPAIGN.

FINAL ASSAULT IS MADE IN OPPONENT'S STRONGHOLD.

Altadena People Will Vote in the Cemetery—Follow the Advice of The Times Is Dr. Burdette's Suggestion Regarding Constitutional Amendments—Crown City Notes.

Office of The Times, No. 25 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Nov. 2.—The best estimates last night were that 4500 votes will be cast in this city, which is 80 per cent. of the total registration. The Democratic leaders claim 1000 votes and the Prohibition forces as many. The Socialists are allowed fourth place, and Hearst's Independence party is counted a curiosity.

The Republican majority for Taft is expected to be large, but the local ticket will be split in the race for Congress and Assembly.

Judson H. Rush, the Democratic candidate, has been making a warm campaign, which he ended here last night in a three-cornered debate with representatives of the Republican and Socialist parties. Guy R. Crump, a young attorney, represented the Republican side.

FIGHT IN LA CANADA.

Probably the biggest local fight of this end of the valley will develop today in La Cañada, where the liquor question is at issue. The district is strongly Republican, but there is considerable of a Schwamm following.

Two years ago an attempt was made to vote this precinct "dry," and it is not improbable that the ballots tomorrow will mean the passing of the license in this district.

The changing of the polling place from the postoffice to the cemetery in Altadena should be noted by all Altadenans.

Pridham is said to be strong in North Pasadena, the district being claimed by Republicans.

DR. BURDETTE'S VIEW.

Asked last night what advice he had for the humorists and near-humorists, Dr. Burdette said: "Tell them to vote for Taft, and when it comes for amendments, just to follow the way The Times suggested. If the election of a Republican Legislature means that Perkins will again be elected Senator, I say vote Democratic. I think that's about all."

REALTY MEN'S BANQUET.

The question of the collection of taxes in the city was taken up at a meeting of the Pasadena Realty Board last night at La Casa Grande Hotel. Mayor Earley advocated the consolidation of the county and city systems, while former Mayor Vedder favored the appointment of three assessors in the city and the continuance of three men to collect taxes. The board, as a whole, was in favor of Mayor Earley's scheme, though no vote was taken.

On account of the date conflicting seriously with that of the Los Angeles Elks' festival, the Pasadena Lodge, No. 374, has changed the date of its annual festival to January 25, 26 and 27. On Wednesday officers of the local lodge will go to Los Angeles and will assist in initiation exercises.

ELECTION DANCE.

Over 150 people will join in the election dinner and dance at Hotel Maryland tonight. Manager Linnard said last night that he was much pleased with the way in which people were responding to the invitations sent out and that guests already at the hotel were anticipating with much interest the receiving of election news from the old home.

The month of October at the Maryland was a surprise to all interested, for the patronage during the past four weeks exceeded that of any similar period since the hotel opened. The management has received many reservations which insure a big month for November and the rest of the winter.

TO SEND BEST TEAM.

Throop Institute will send a combination of the best players of the college and academy football elevens to San Diego next Saturday to meet the Y.M.C.A. football team of that city. The men have not yet been picked, but it is expected that the All Throop eleven will be one of the best turned out in several years.

OPPOSE UNIFORM PARKING.

Local nurserymen, in a petition to the City Commissioners yesterday, took exception to the city planting uniform shade trees in the street parkings and charging the expense to the taxpayers. They based their complaint on the ground that the city puts in small trees, many of which die and that the average cost is more than it would be to buy larger and stronger trees of the nurserymen. They claim that the same amount of money spent in the public parks would add much more to the beauty of the city while the street improvement associations can adequately take care of the street parkings. They complain that the taxation system is unjust as it causes people who already have trees to pay for others. They advocate regulation but not installation by the city.

PASADENA PARAGRAPHS.

Samuel Moore died at his home on Mundell Drive Sunday afternoon. He leaves a widow, Mrs. C. D. Moore, two daughters, Mrs. R. P. Congdon, Mrs. F. Dwight Burnham, one son, S. W. Moore, and a stepson, W. H. Walker.

In a political debate at the High School yesterday afternoon speakers represented each candidate's interests. Following the addresses a straw vote was taken which resulted as follows: For Taft, 87; for Bryan, 43; for Chafin, 23; for Debs, 11, and for Hisgen, 1. Mary Driscol and Roy Allen spoke for Taft, Freeman Mason and Irene Bowen defended the Democrats, Jennie Bartlett and Otis Castle backed the Prohibitionists, Fred Hart spoke for the Socialists, Carol Green for Populism and fiat money. Harold Morrison for the Independence party and Lois Curl for the Socialist-Labor doctrines.

William Brichtholle yesterday morning paid a fine of $250 for selling liquor at an East Colorado-street hotel between lunch hours.

Senate Amendment No. 1 was the subject before the Men's Club of the West Side Congregational Church last night. Dr. Scherer of Throop Institute led the discussion and Dr. R. R. Meredith, pastor of the First Congregational Church; Superintendent A. L. Hamilton, Superintendent of the City Schools, and B. B. Freeman, president of the club, spoke on the subject. The consensus of opinion was against the amendment.

Rev. Matt Hughes, pastor of the First Methodist Church, made a most interesting and inspiring talk on the values of fraternalism before Pasadena lodge of Masons last night.

JAIL WALKER AS VAGRANT.

Boston's Way of Welcoming Men Who Tramps There from Long Beach.

LONG BEACH, Nov. 2.—Word comes from Boston that after having walked from Long Beach, adhering to a schedule of seventeen miles a day, taking this means to reach a cattle steamer to take him to his home in England, Henry Stewart, aged 58 years, proud and penniless, was locked up there today for vagrancy. When his story was told in court he was discharged. He refused aid tendered him by officials. A water bottle and blanket is all the old man carried.

WIN FOR SWEETZER.

Attempt to Force His Resignation at Santa Monica Is Deferred—Question of Finance.

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 2.—The City Council's purpose to request the resignation of E. H. Sweetzer as member and secretary of the Park Commission was frustrated when the entire matter was carried into the meeting of the committee of the whole. There has been friction for several months between the finance committee and Sweetzer, but as the Park Commissioners hold their office by virtue of appointment by the Mayor, the subject of forcing resignations is one not easily handled. It is contended that Sweetzer is not economical and that in selling wood and other city property he has violated the spirit of the charter, even though the money received from such sales has been placed in the general fund or been expended for trees or maintenance of the public parks. The committee's decision will be precented before the Council at the next regular meeting.

MAIL DELIVERY.

Santa Monica is encouraged to believe that the city delivery system will be inaugurated at the postoffice without further delay. First Assistant Postmaster General Grandfield has acknowledged a telegram protesting against the consolidation of the beach postoffices and in favor of the immediate installation of free delivery. The letter states that an investigation is in progress as to time relative to the city delivery, but the report has not yet been received by the department.

Election returns will be received tomorrow night at the City Hall, where the latest news will be served to the waiting crowd. The Edison Electric Company has promised to turn its calliope steam whistle loose just as soon as it is definitely known that Taft is elected. There will be a smoker at the Elk Club-house during the evening, and at this place the returns will also be posted.

MATERIAL FOR BULKHEAD.

Lumber for Ocean Park Improvement Is Being Unloaded at Port Los Angeles.

OCEAN PARK, Nov. 2.—The steam schooner Helena is at Port Los Angeles unloading a cargo of 275,000 feet of lumber that is to be used in the construction of a bulkhead along the ocean front of Short Line Beach. The contract for this work, which is being done by the city, was let some time ago. The construction is needed to protect the ocean frontage property from the inroads of the high seas of spring. The job will be completed in time to hold the waves back next spring.

SOON TO HAVE DEPOT.

Assurances have been received from the Los Angeles Pacific Company that work will soon be commenced on the long-promised passenger station. Plans have been completed for a commodious structure to be erected at the intersection of Pier avenue and Trolleyway for the accommodation of the Santa Monica-Ocean Park traveling public. There has been need of the building for several years, as the travel to and from this point is heavy.

Huntington Park Trustees Make It Illegal to Supply Minors—Water Question Next.

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 2.—The Trustees tonight passed an ordinance prohibiting the sale or giving away of cigarettes or cigarette papers to minors.

An ordinance ordering the vacation of portions of Mindora and Santa Fé avenues for street improvement was also passed.

Trustee Clark petitioned for the changing of Nadeau avenue to Miles avenue to prevent confusion. The matter was laid over.

An interesting time is promised for the next meeting which will be held on the 9th inst. The South Los Angeles Water Company will then be prepared to answer to the report of the Water Committee which was presented last week.

The Republicans are out in full force tonight and they expect a landslide at the polls tomorrow.

"DUDS" OF MEXICAN ASTONISH WHITTIER GIRL.

With Much Finery She Goes on Visit to Long Beach, But Suit Cases Get Mixed on Car and Now Some Sonoratown Belle Sports a Directoire.

LONG BEACH, Nov. 2.—Miss Strobel of Whittier came to Long Beach yesterday on a visit, but when she reached her friend's house and opened her suit case to get a fresh dress, she almost fainted because she found it full of men's apparel. From all the circumstances it appears that a Mexican on the car exchanged suit cases and his girl is probably the envy of some Sonoratown in feminine finery. Miss Strobel has a job lot of Mexican male apparel she has no use for.

Roy Ballou was arrested by Detective Phillips today charged with the theft of a coat, revolver and two cans of tobacco, belonging to B. A. Grant of the launch Elliott, of which boat Ballou was in charge during the summer months. The coat and revolver were recovered.

MYSTERY CLEARS.

A mystery of two and a half years was cleared up today, and joy came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Eaton, on Railway avenue. They for two years have mourned as dead their son, Charles. This morning's mail brought a letter bearing an Australian postmark, which when opened was found to be from the lad, written at Albany, September 14. It simply said that he was well and was working as a baker on the battleship Wisconsin and that he would write a long letter explaining all as soon as the vessels reached Manila. In a postscript the lad wrote that he had joined the navy because he wanted to see the world.

This afternoon Mr. Eaton received a letter from the commander of the Wisconsin corroborating the good news and adding that as soon as the fleet returned to the Atlantic Coast, young Eaton would be given a furlough and could come home for a visit.

The disappearance of young Eaton from Los Angeles, May 23, 1906, was one of the sensations of the year.

THE REAL THING.

Harry Hains, the actor who stole Dr. Perce's overcoat last week from a hotel and who was arrested yesterday for stealing a bicycle, entered a plea of guilty and was given a jail sentence of ninety days.

LONG-SIGHTED CHIEF.

Yesterday was the thirty-ninth birthday of Chief of Police Williams. His men today presented him with a pair of fine field glasses once the property of "Death Valley Scotty." They are very powerful and have a range of eighty miles.

Judge James this morning ordered Receiver Kelsay of the Citizens' Savings Bank to pay a dividend of 10 per cent. to depositors who are stockholders, as well as those who are not. It will be paid at once.

Three Long Beach boys, Morris Brashear, Roy Hughes and Lesley Freeman, returned last night from a 100-mile bicycle trip through Pasadena, Monrovia, Sierra Madre and Whittier, returning by way of Downey. Below Sierra Madre Hughes's valve stem pulled out and he rode home on Brashear's handlebars, with Freeman leading the damaged wheel. The trip took about twelve hours.

OPERATES ON TROUSERS.

A sneak thief entered the office of Dr. H. O. Bates last night and frisked three pairs of trousers, but the pockets were empty. Nothing of value was taken from the office. The trousers were found on the operating table this morning, with the pockets turned inside out.

A resolution was introduced in Council today looking to securing a statement of all companies and firms, located on the east side of the bay of the value of their wharves and slips and the revenue derived. The idea is to collect wharfage heretofore taken by the county. Before the resolution is passed the city attorney will confer with the supervisors and their legal department.

The Council this morning started on its passage an ordinance calling a bond election, December 15, for the purpose of acquiring a municipal water plant. The city is divided into eight municipal election precincts.

WHITTIER LETS CONTRACT.

City Is to Install Fire Alarm Which Works on Central Energy System.

WHITTIER, Nov. 2.—The City Council tonight awarded the contract for a fire-alarm system to the National Electric Works of this city for $1200. The system is to consist of thirty boxes and is the first of the kind ever installed in the world. It is the invention of Mr. Sohm of the National company and works on a central energy system. Its efficiency is not confined to the thirty boxes, which are distributed about the city, as the central office is located in the Home Telephone Central. Therefore any one of the 600 or more 'phones in the city can get instant action and the alarm is rung on the tower bell and repeated, automatically, ten times. The effect is not the same as when pulled in from one of the thirty boxes. One of the beauties claimed for this system is that it consumes current only when an alarm is pulled in. It requires no supervision and is not in the least complicated.

As this alarm is the only one which comes in competition with the general system its operation will be watched with interest even in Los Angeles.

SMALL BLAZE.

Fire broke out at the gas plant of the Edison Electrical Company this afternoon, but did very little damage owing to the prompt action of Mr. Bloomfield, the operator. The fire department made a record run, but was not needed.

Election returns will be thrown on a screen at the "Wigwam" Tuesday night. Arrangements have been made for full service and for music.

SIERRA MADRE.

SIERRA MADRE, Nov. 2.—The Civic League, which died a-borning some time ago, is struggling to have a resurrection. Marcus W. Copps of Lincoln-Roosevelt fame is seeking to raise the coffin lid. BUSY REHEARSING FOR ELKS' ANNUAL BENEFIT.

Well-Known People Will Appear in Production the Scenes of Which Are Laid Near Havana—Over Seventy Conversions Obtained at Revial Services in Tent.

POMONA, Nov. 2.—The cast that will appear at the Elks' annual benefit in a musical comedy in two acts entitled "The Military Mascot," is diligently at work rehearsing under the direction of Prof. Stanley F. Widener. The production, which will be staged soon, promises to be one of the best amateur musical events ever given here. The scenes are laid near Havana, and the time deals with the period from the Spanish-American War to the present. The following well-known local amateurs comprise the cast: John R. Lewis, an American lieutenant, Harry Hickok; Capt. Goinez of the Cuban Guards, Carrol Wilkinson; Alexander J. von Splits, "Foolosopher" and bodyguard to Lieut. Lewis, Fred T. McLeod; Señor Yarba, landlord "La Cubanola Inn," France Fuller; Castro and Parro, Spanish spies, B. Leigh and Leslie Elliott; Uncle Sam, Stanley Twomey; Cuban sentinels, Leslie Watts and Fred Brown; Señor Scotty, basso cantante of the Metropolitan Operahouse, Victor Young; Señor Robusto Carouser, Carroll Wilkinson; Marguerite, the military mascot, Miss Leona Warren; Mme. De Burgraff, supervisor of school for American girls in Havana, Miss Nettie McFarland; bridget, wife of Von Splits, Mrs. Fred T. McLeod. There will also be a "Knights of the Road" double male quartette, composed of Messrs. Elliott, Leigh, Wire, Sacre, Stembridge, Hill, Brown and Anderson, while the American and Cuban girls will be impersonated by Misses Owen, Greenleaf, George, Richards, Wright, Clark, Ewart and Hall.

WOMAN PURCHASES.

Mrs. Jennie Cole has purchased a lot on West Holt avenue in the Ganesha Park tract, and will at once begin the erection of an artistic bungalow thereon.

Nelson Wells was knocked down and seriously hurt by an automobile driven by James Kelly of Narod, at the corner of Pearl street and Garey avenue Saturday.

Mrs. N. W. Miller, who has been visiting friends and relatives in the East, has arrived home.

Roy Harris, who is attending Throop Polytechnic School at Pasadena, was here to spend Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Harris.

Miss Ethel Mast, who is attending school in Los Angeles, was the guest of her sister, Miss Maude Mast, of Seventh and Parcells street yesterday.

SEVENTY CONVERSIONS.

There have been over seventy conversions during the past week at the Christian Church revival meetings at the big tent at the corner of Center street and North Park avenue, conducted by Rev. Herbert Yeuell, evangelist from Washington, D. C. The tent, which seats 1000 people, was crowded on both Saturday and Sunday evenings, and much interest is being manifested.

Mrs. Harriet N. Dean of No. 532 North Gordon street, has arrived home after a summer spent at Norah Springs, Iowa. She was accompanied by her brother, George B. Birdsall, and her niece, Mrs. M. Roberts.

The local office of the Western Union Telegraph Company is now located in the Board of Trade rooms on South Thomas street, opposite the postoffice.

Roy C. Ramsey, has sold to Miss Lena McCormick, through the agency of F. E. Harrison, a plot of ground on North Park avenue opposite Preciado street and a little east of Ganesha Park, 280x156 feet, for a reportedc onsideration of $2100. Miss McCormick buys as an investment in this rapidly growing section of the city.

Preston J. Tarr is home from a trip to Elsinore Hot Springs, where he went for the benefit of his health.

NOTHING OFFENSIVE.

Some time ago Mrs. W. M. Drumm, who lives on Garey avenue east of the city stables made a complaint to the Trustees regarding the manner in which the stables where the city's horses and implements are kept, and conducted. The Trustees turned the matter over to the city Board of Health for investigation. The matter was taken up by that body and a satisfactory report of the condition of the premises was given. Today, however, the county health officer came out here from Los Angeles, having been sent by the District Attorney, Mrs. Drumm having complained to that official. The county officer found nothing offensive about the premises and returned to Los Angeles.

Meetings of the Pomona Valley Medical society will soon be resumed for the winter. Dr. Clarence G. Toland is president of the society and Dr. Joseph K. Swindt, secretary.

INGLEWOOD FOR TAFT.

INGLEWOOD, Nov. 2.—The grammar school held an election this afternoon, conducting it just as nearly according to law as conditions permitted. All students of the grammar and High Schools were invited to take part, there being no restrictions as to age or sex. The result was an overwheyming victory for the Republican ticket, with an almost unanimous vote against issuing licenses. The result is as follows. Taft, 70; Bryan, 35; Debs, 1; Chapin, 8; Melvin, 64; Murasky, 33; McLachlan, 66; Rush, 31; Atwood, 5; Leeds, 66; Creller, 32; Gillespie, 6; Wilbur, 65; Willis, 65; Monroe, 12; Conrey, 64; Jamison, 64; Stephens, 33; McCaslin, 7; Potter, 7; Stewart, 7; Blanchard, 7; Nellis, 68; Haddock, 30; for license, 3; against, 69. The election proved highly interesting and instructive.

GLENDALE.

GLENDALE, Nov. 2.—As election day is a legal holiday, the schools will be closed.

C. F. Royce, wife and two sons, who have been visiting Dr. and Mrs. Robert Blackburn, have left for San Francisco.

The Hurtt block, on Fourth street, is about finished. The building, 50x75 feet, is of pressed cream brick, lower floors of cement.

GORGEOUS FLOATS PROMISED.

Elks Making Elaborate Preparations for Next Summer's Parade—To Be "Best Ever."

With the arrival here of Fawcett Robinson, the expert float designer, work will be begun at once on the electrical floats for next summer's Elks' parade. F. J. Zeechandelaar will have entire charge of this feature of the festivities and he stated yesterday that the display will be the most gorgeous ever seen in the city.

There will be fifteen electrical floats. One will be an exact representation of an enormous elk, with the antlers illuminated with tiny globes; another will represent the B. P. O. E. dial, with the hands pointing eleven, and other features typical of the hour, sacred to all members of the order. Other floats will be in imitation of a circus parade, with animals pacing back and forth in their cages.

REPUBLICANS HAPPY.

for judges appear in the Republican column and the ballot reads "vote for four." Each voter is entitled to vote for five, as long as he stays in the Republican column. The name of Judge Jamison appears as candidate for the "short term". This is independent of the four regular terms, a Republican can vote for him and for the other four. The Democrats are basing their hopes on the possibility that many Republicans in voting for Jamison will fail to stamp one of the other judges in the Republican column.

EIGHTH WARD.

The Eighth Ward has come back to its own; its departed political glory has returned for the present election with increased splendor. Down in "De Ate" today there will be a memorable battle between the half-world and the respectable element. The old Eighth Ward Democratic machine started to work at sunset last night to carry the ward for Tony Schwamm for Supervisor. There will be other candidates, of course, for other positions, but they will play no part in the main struggle.

Back of R. W. Pridham, the regular Republican nominee in the Fifth District, are the better elements in the Eighth Ward, and the Republican organization of the county. There will be Pridham men in every precinct on the firing line. Most of these will be supplied by the Republican County Central Committee; it will be their part to guard against the voting of any of the 500 fraudulent registrations in the ward. The resident property owners in the Eighth insist that the ward has existed too long under the domination of the "liberal element." They say that the time has come to show the city and the world that there is no longer a Tenderloin east of Main and north of First streets.

Pridham's victory in the Fifth District was practically conceded last night by the conservative supporters of Schwamm. But the Eighth Ward must settle its own fight for supremacy outside the Supervisoral squabble.

TONY DIDN'T KNOW.

Outside "De Ate" there is little contest in the Fifth District. Schwamm has found to his own sorrow that his mixed promises are coming home to roost before the ballots are cast. The Republicans in the San Fernando Valley tell a good joke on Schwamm illustrating how thoroughly (?) he understands the duties of the office to which he aspires.

Recently he addressed a meeting in the country district. "If you will elect me Supervisor," he asserted, "I will see that you get a new schoolhouse and electric lights out here."

The voters of this district are still wondering whether Schwamm thinks he is running for a place on a board of education. They know a Supervisor has nothing whatever to do with either schools or electric lights.

OTHER SUPERVISORS.

Frank Haddock, Democratic candidate for Supervisor in the Fourth District, has made a better, a more consistent campaign than any other Democrat except Jud Rush. During the last week several inquiries have come to the Republican League concerning the normal Republican majority in this district. When the interested ones discovered that the Soldiers' Home is in the Fourth District, their fears were quieted. Nellis should carry the district by at least 2000 plurality; but with that he is likely to run several hundred behind the head of the ticket.

H. J. Woollacott has made a strong personal campaign against H. D. McCabe, in the Second District. He has been handicapped by a lack of knowledge of practical political methods; he has taken too many promises as deliveries. Woollacott has received little support from the Democratic League; in fact, its indorsement has been a hindrance all over the Sixth Ward. When the votes are counted tonight Woollacott is likely to find that he has run at least 2500 behind McCabe. This looks to be the easiest victory for the Republicans in the Supervisoral campaign.

While the Democrats claim to have an organization in every precinct in the city, their weakness has been pretty fully exposed by the Republican field workers. These know a great deal more about the condition of the Democratic campaign than do the young men in the Democratic County Central Committee. There will not be a contest today in a ward west of Main street; in the whole western part of the city it is only a question of majorities.

The Republicans expect to do some hustling here to get out a good Republican vote; it might be needed to counteract a false movement north of Tehachepi. For this reason it is of supreme importance that every Republican shall go to the polls.

There has been a great deal of disputing over the actual growth in the population of Los Angeles county. A number of wagers has been offered that the total vote cast here will be less than that in San Francisco county, although this county leads by several thousand registrations. A failure to vote today will mean just that much loss of prestige to Los Angeles county.

IN THE SEVENTH.

In the Seventh Ward there will be a warm contest. The Republican workers have set forth to carry this ward in order to secure proper recognition in the city campaign next summer. The registration gain here is about seventy-five in favor of the Republicans. There are about 350 false registrations in the ward.

THE MOTOR CARS.

Automobiles will play a prominent part in getting voters to the polls today. In an exciting campaign the auto is supreme. The Republican County Central Committee will have the direction of 100 machines inside the city limits. These are not enough and the committee is making a last appeal for volunteers with machines.

The Democratic Committee has a number of machines at its disposal, but not nearly so many as its leading opponent.

The entire vote polled in the county today, it is estimated, will be about 65,000.

Prohibitionists and Socialists assert that they will cast a heavier vote than ever before. If their claims all make good, the Republican plurality should be 20,000, but the conservative Republicans place it at 15,000.

McLACHLAN'S ELEVENTH HOUR ATTACK ON RUSH TORN TO SHREDS

Mac, As Usual, Plays to Both Sides on The Liquor Question.

To the Voters of Los Angeles County:

My attention has just been called to an advertisement in the morning papers in the interest of the candidacy of James McLachlan, reciting certain statements alleged to have been made by Mr. Jules Hugues of Pomona, whom I at one time defended. The facts are as follows:

On June 21st, 1907, Mr. Jules Hugues of Pomona, accompanied by a friend who had formerly been City Recorder of Pomona, came into our offices and asked to interview some member of our firm. I was the first one who was disengaged and asked them to state their business to me. Mr. Hugue's friend introduced him and stated to me that Hugues had been arrested and charged in the Recorder's Court of Pomona with the violation of the Pomona liquor ordinance, and said that he had had trouble before and if convicted the court would certainly sentence him to a term of imprisonment. This he desired to avoid and wanted to know what we would charge to undertake to keep him from going to jail, asserting that he was willing to pay a fine in any amount. We discussed the circumstances of the case, and I assured them that it was apparently a hopeless case, and that I could not offer them even a reasonable hope of success. They insisted, however, that we should undertake the case and wanted to know what the fees would be. We agreed that Mr. Hugues should pay for his defense in the Recorder's Court of the city of Pomona, $350.00, and $175.00 of which was paid in cash at that time and the balance was to be paid the day the case came to trial, and it was so paid.

Mr. Hugues was tried before a jury which, after remaining out for some time, returned a verdict of guilty. He was afterwards sentenced to pay a fine of $300 and serve 100 days in the city jail of the city of Pomona.

We then at his request undertook to and did appeal the case to the superior court of this county. I assured him, however, that he could scarcely hope for a reversal. He insisted that I postpone the matter as long as possible for the reason that he was engaged in the manufacture of wine and must take care of the grape crop then about ready, and also that he expected a visit from the stork in his family in October or November, and didn't want to be in jail at that time.

The matter was delayed from time to time, was argued at length before Judge Wilbur in the superior court, was under submission for some time. Judge Wilbur finally decided against Mr. Hugues, and along in the latter part of December, 1907, or the early part of January, 1908, Mr. Hugues having read in the newspapers of the decision, telephoned to me about it, and I told him that the court had decided against him and that he would be compelled to serve his time. He asked me if I could have the matter delayed for a day or two until he could arrange some business matters, and I told him I would try, and did, and the mater was delayed for a few days. He was afterwards arrested and imprisoned.

All of these matters, are, I believe, familiar to Mr. E. J. Fleming, who was then deputy district attorney of Los Angeles county and who prosecuted the case, and who, I am certain, will vouch me out in the foregoing statement.

I have never seen Mr. Hugues since that day until this and he has never made any complaint to any member of the firm to which I belong concerning his treatment in the matter. We never had the least disagreement about financial affairs. On the contrary, Mr. Hugues offered to pay me on account of fees for the appeal of his case which I undertook it, but I refused, telling him to wait until the matter had been determined.

It is not true, as stated in the ad, that I was at that time attorney for the Los Angeles County Retail Liquor Dealers' Association. I was not then, nor have I been since, nor am I now the attorney for that or any other liquor dealers' association or combination, and am not in connection with this publication concerning the Hughes matter, strongly indicates that they are attempting to deceive the public as to the real facts.

The truth is, that I am not directly or indirectly the attorney for any liquor dealers' organization, association or combination whatever, and am in no way connected with the liquor interests, and that the Evening Express, a recognized organ of the liquor interests of Los Angeles city, is strenuously opposing me and vigorously advocating the election of James McLachlan.

While I do not have the right or desire to undertake in this connection to criticate the policy of any newspaper, I must insist that it is not fair for Mr. McLachlan to accept and use the columns of a recognized organ of the liquor interests to further his candidacy, and then have sent to the people whom he believes to be opposed to the liquor interests an ad. the special representative of the liquor interests.

I submit that the circulation of such reports in this manner and the publication as a paid advertisement of the statement above referred to in the morning papers on the last day before election is cowardly and contemptible. If Mr. McLachlan had any charges to make against me personally he might at least have had the courage and decency to have published them two or three days before election, so that I could have had the opportunity to reply. He seeks, however, to obtain my condemnation upon statements which in his heart he knows to be false, without giving me a fair opportunity to be heard. This may be Mr. McLachlan's idea of an honorable campaign and a square deal, but I cannot believe that it represents the views of, or will meet with the approval of, the fair-minded and intelligent voters of this magnificent congressional district.

BRIDE SUES FOR I

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 2.—As a sequel to the elopement of Miss Rove Colburn and Glenn Shaw, a few weeks ago, the bride today filed suit in the Superior Court against her parents to gain possession of some personal belongings which she alleges they have refused to give her.

The bride, who is barely of age, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Colburn, well-known residents of Riverside. Soon after her graduation from the local High School she was secretly married in Los Angeles to Glenn Shaw, a waiter in a Riverside restaurant, the elopement creating consternation among her friends and bringing heart-breaking grief to her devoted parents, who were at the time

MILES FROM AND CAN

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 2.—B. F. Pratt, an aged miner who had been missing since last July, met an awful death among the Argus mountains, wandering Death Valley sink. His skeleton has been found by S. Shankland of Mojave, and will be properly buried. Shankland was prospecting among the Argus mountains when he came across a human skeleton. The garments which had clothed the unfortunate were weather-beaten but intact.

A search of the pockets brought to light papers wrapped in tinfoil, which revealed the identity of the deceased.

FLEET ARRIVES AT MAGDALENA.

TARGET PRACTICE WILL START NEXT WEEK AT THE BAY.

Ordnance Officer Arrives at San Diego En Route South—Seventy Tons Expired Men Are Paid Off and One Receives Over Thousand Dollars—Clever Capture.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While the ships of the Pacific fleet are now at Magdalena, official target practice will not begin until some time next week. Lieut. Thomas Caldwell, ordnance officer, has arrived here from Washington and will not leave for Magdalena until the transport Solace sails, which is set for next Thursday. Lieut. Caldwell is to be one of the reporting officers as to the result of the practice. Outside of the fact that he will be one of the judges, he has nothing to say. He is a guest at Hotel del Coronado. The soldier saturn will not leave here until November 15. It is announced by wireless that the crews of the cruisers will not in the next week overhauling the different ships and bringing them up to standard for target work.

GET GOLD COIN.

Sunday was pay day for sixty-eight sailors of the American navy, whose terms of enlistment have expired. They were brought here last week on the transport Solace and waited until yesterday for the appearance of Paymaster Zane with the gold coin of the realm. Zane paid out a total of $23,000. One individual sailor, who had been frugal during his term, had $1,000 coming to him. As soon as he received his money he hiked to the railroad station and bought a ticket for home, somewhere in the East. The pay of each man averaged about $300.

CAUGHT RED-HANDED.

As a result of good detective work by Officer William Smith of the police department, William Converse was last night arrested in the act of dispensing liquor at a club on Columbia and Date streets.

Recently the police department received to close the joints engaged in violating the Sunday law and the task of breaking up the practice was assigned to Detective Smith.

Last night, disguised as a ranchman, Smith took up a position outside a building which had been suspected as being a booze joint. Soon thereafter a negro came out and Smith asked him if he could get him a bottle of beer. "Certainly, boss," was the answer. Smith gave him the money and then ushered the negro into the room. As the beer was handed over the counter the negro Smith arrested Converse and took him to jail. He was required to put up $200 bail money to appear in the Court.

DISCUSS CIVIC MATTERS.

Pastor L. T. Guild of the First Methodist Church discarded usual services last night and invited prominent citizens to discuss the proposed charter amendments. Philip Morse presided. The changes, as proposed in the ordinance presented to the Council tonight, were explained by Councilman A. E. Dodson. Attorney A. H. Hutton discussing the effect of reducing the number of Councilmen from nine to five. Chairman Morse and Rev. Guild were also speakers on the same subject. All commended the Des Moines plan of municipal government.

BRIDE SUES PARENTS FOR DOLL'S TRUNK.

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 2.—As a sequel to the elopement of Miss Rovena Southern and Glenn Shaw, two weeks ago, the bride today filed a suit in the Superior Court against her parents to gain possession of some personal belongings which she alleges they have refused to give her.

The bride, who is barely of age, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Southern, well-known residents of Riverside. Soon after her graduation from the local High School she was secretly married in Los Angeles to Glenn Shaw, a waiter in a Riverside restaurant, the elopement creating a sensation among her friends and causing heart-breaking grief to her parents, who were at the time planning to send her to college to complete her education.

Among the articles which she asks for in her complaint are the novels, "For Love's Sake" and "St. Elmo," a gilded horse shoe above the door, a Bradbury piano and music, a black horse, saddle, riding whip and bridle, antique oak dresser, bed, washstand and writing desk, a doll trunk covered with tin and painted brown, a green doll dresser and contents, a diploma from the Lowell school at Kansas City, a china vase, shell inkwell, Ocean Park souvenir, opera glasses, High School books, dumb bells, photographs and a canary bird. The valuation placed on this property is $718.50. Further damages of $100 are asked for. Clifton Axtell and Edw. L. Payne of Los Angeles are attorneys for the plaintiff.

DREADFUL DEATH ON DESERT.

MILES FROM WATER AND CANTEEN LEAKS.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 2.—B. F. Pratt, an aged miner who had been missing since last July, met an awful death among the Argus mountains, entering Death Valley sink. His body has been found by S. E. Shankland of Mojave, and will be properly buried. Shankland was prospecting among the Argus mountains, when he came across a human skeleton. The garments which had clothed the unfortunate were weather-beaten, as to color.

A search of the pockets brought to light papers wrapped in tinfoil, which revealed the identity of the deceased. A diary which Pratt had been keeping during his few days of awful wandering indicated that he had lost his way, and without water was tramping across the blistering hills, realizing that soon would come delirium and death.

Pratt had prospected over the desert for a quarter of a century. He was supposed to know that country like a book. His first trouble came from a leaky canteen, as mentioned in his diary, which left him without water, and miles from a waterhole. He had been searching for three hours for a spring, when he seemed to realise that the end would be death, for he then commenced his diary.

CAUGHT RED-HANDED.

As a result of good detective work by Officer William Smith of the police department, William Converse was last night arrested in the act of dispensing liquor at a club on Columbia and Fifth streets.

Recently the police department received orders to close the joints engaged in violating the Sunday law and the task of carrying up the practice was assigned to Detective Smith.

Last night, disguised as a ranchman, he took up a position outside a place which had been suspected as a blind tiger joint. Soon thereafter Converse came out and Smith asked him if he could get him a bottle of beer. "Sure, boss," was the answer. Converse gave him the money and then called the negro into the room. As the bottle was handed over the counter the negro Smith arrested Converse and took him to jail. He was required to put up $200 bail money to appear in Police Court.

FIRES AT WIFE AND TWO MEN.

PEATLAND FARMER TRIES HIS BEST TO MURDER.

He Is Now in the County Jail at Santa Ana With Two Charges Laid Against Him of Assault With Deadly Weapon With Intent to Kill.

SANTA ANA, Nov. 2.—G. G. Southern is in the County Jail, and that there are not three persons dead is not because he did not try to kill them. Two warrants were issued today by Justice of the Peace Smithwick, charging Southern with assaults with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder. On Saturday night last, in the peatlands, five miles south of Westminster, while in a drunken condition, he fired at his wife. Hearing cries, a Mexican, who lives in the neighborhood, ran to the house to help the woman. He was greeted with a shot from the revolver, and retired. A. J. Langto, a resident deputy sheriff, of Westminster, was called. Langto stepped into the house, and Southern took a shot at him, the load passing within a few inches of Langto's head. The latter disarmed Southern and arrested him. Mrs. Southern and Langto swore to complaints against Southern today.

Southern was at one time under sentence of twelve and a half years from this county for the murder of Mariano Cuero, a lower country Mexican, here on October 12, 1894. On appeal he got a new trial, the jury disagreed and the case was dismissed. In April, 1895, he was charged with burglary, and was found not guilty by the jury.

Southern has been farming in the lowlands country for a number of years. His preliminary hearings are set for November 9 and 11, the bail being $1000 in each case.

GETS GOLD BAR.

Maj. L. L. Vestal, Seventh Regiment, N.G.C., has forwarded his revolver scores to Sacramento that will entitle him to the highest decoration for the revolver shooting given by the State guards. He made 215 points out of a possible 250 at fifteen, twenty-five, fifty and seventy-five yards. Last year but three men in the State received the gold bar for revolver scores over 200.

James H. Barbour, keeper of the Lomita Gun Club, paid a fine of $25 today to Justice of the Peace Smithwick for killing a dog belonging to Fred Nelson of Garden Grove. Barbour claimed to be acting under instructions from the club members. He thought the dog was running over the grounds to scare up ducks that hunters outside the preserve might get a shot at them.

WEDS TRAVELING MAN.

Los Angeles Girl Becomes Wife of Rochester Drummer at Riverside. Three Couples Licensed.

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 2.—Miss Stella Westfeldt of Los Angeles and Charles R. W. Vient, a travelling man, whose home is in Rochester, N. Y., were married at the parsonage of the First Methodist Church, Saturday afternoon, Rev. R. S. Fisher officiating. The early part of their honeymoon was passed at the Glenwood Mission Inn.

Marriage licenses were issued by the County Clerk, today, to Peter Macdowell Hannay, aged 38, and Margaret W. Reid, aged 34, both natives of Scotland, and residents of Riverside; to James West Morris, aged 23, a native of Indiana, and Margaret Imlay, aged 29, a native of Ohio, both residents of Banning, and to William Glen Buehler, aged 21, a native of Kansas, and Florence Evelyn Sargent, aged 22, a native of Minnesota, both residents of Redlands.

Riverside was chosen for the nuptials of Miss Florence Evelyn Sargent and William Glen Buehler, both of Redlands, who came to the City of Oranges this morning, and were quietly married by Rev. Dr. J. H. McLaren, pastor of the Congregational Church.

CORONA.

CORONA, Nov. 2.—Republican enthusiasm reached its height Saturday evening, at the big rally, the closing one of the campaign, held in the opera house. R. G. Freeman acted as chairman, introducing the following speakers: Clyde Bishop, Republican candidate for the Assembly, from Orange county; District Attorney Lyman Evans of Riverside, and A. F. Call of Corona. Music was furnished by the Indian band from Sherman Institute.

The Corona Home Telephone and Telegraph Company will give the election returns tomorrow on a large screen opposite the central office. All patrons who wish can have the returns wired to their homes.

THROWN FROM BICYCLE.

Superintendent of Ontario Schools Seriously Hurt—Soldiers' Retreat Is Opened.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 2.—Jefferson Taylor, father of Deputy County Clerk Frank Taylor, superintendent of Ontario schools, is laid up with serious injuries, sustained a few days ago, by being thrown from a bicycle. Owing to his age the outcome had worried his friends, but word received today states that he will soon be able to resume his duties.

Capt. C. J. Baker of Co. K, N.G.C., has arranged to open a "soldiers' retreat," in the armory. The plan is to make it possible for militiamen out of work, to have a home without the expense of paying rent, the cost to them being the bare cost of provisions.

A decree in the case of the Leland Stanford University, settling the question of how much of the estate of the late Senator and Mrs. Stanford was comprised in the trust, has been recorded here. It is in book form, and shows evidence of having been recorded in almost every county in the State. The Stanford estate owns 380 acres near Redlands.

HUNTER LOSES EYE.

Holtville Man Receives Charge of Shot Intended for Dusk—Brothers Sustain Injuries.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL CENTRO, Nov. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William Hollingsworth, 22 years old, of Holtville, but recently of Los Angeles, lies in the Central Hospital here with an eye shot out as the result of Sunday's hunting. He and a companion went to Water District No. 7 to shoot ducks. Separating, one went on the lower side of the lake, while the other went on the other side. Hollingsworth arose from behind a sand mound just as his companion fired at a duck, and was hit.

PAINTERS INJURED.

C. L. Moore, a painter, fell from a scaffolding on Main street today and both arms were broken. He was taken to the Central Hospital and his brother, Marvin Moore, went on with the injured man's work. In a few moments a ladder collapsed and Marvin received serious injuries and was deluged with paint.

ELSINORE.

ELSINORE, Nov. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Boston, after spending six months here, left today for their home at Ocean Park.

The masquerade ball held Saturday evening in the Bank Hall was largely attended. Many young people from Perris and Murrieta were among the guests. Miss Lydia Kellum, Gus McClintock, Mrs. Charles Graham and Harold Brown captured the prizes.

Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Haughawout and son, Leo, of Los Angeles, who spent three weeks here as guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Louisa A. Houghawout, returned home yesterday, making the trip in their auto.

Mrs. R. L. Brown, who has spent the past year here, will leave tomorrow for Long Beach.

SANTA BARBARA.

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 2.—The unusual sight of a cash register under a palm tree, lead to the discovery today, that an attempt had been made to burglarize the Plaza bowling alley last night. Investigation revealed the fact that the register was carried outside the alley, after an unsuccessful attempt to wreck it with a bowling ball. The proprietor removed most of the money before leaving.

In a raid on a "blind pig" last night, a Japanese was arrested and fined $100. It is believed other arrests will follow.

CURRENT LITERATURE.

Personal Interest Features of the November Magazines.

Coincidences will happen even to the best regulated millionaires. Shortly before Mr. J. P. Morgan sailed from New York on a recent European trip, Mr. Samuel Untermyer, the eminent lawyer, was at Mr. Morgan's house one evening to put into proper shape certain important business papers.

Just before they began their night's work, the butler announced the arrival of a dealer in curios who said he had something of significance for Mr. Morgan to look at. Mr. Morgan knew the dealer, as he knows many others in that line, and asked that he be shown in.

The dealer made himself comfortable while the two working men proceeded with the business in hand. They sat at a table before an open wood fire, and presently a spark darted out and lit somewhere on the fine rug. It was apt to do considerable damage, and both Mr. Morgan and Mr. Untermyer jumped up to find it and prevent harm to the rich fabric. As they chased it Mr. Untermyer quoted from Longfellow:

"I shot an arrow into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where."

Mr. Morgan smiled.

"Last night," he said, "my daughter and I were quoting that same couplet and talking about its application to a recent occurrence in our knowledge. It's rather odd that you should quote it now."

The dealer roused himself from his reverie almost abruptly.

"I beg your pardon, Mr. Morgan," he said, "I have something even stranger to tell of it. What I have brought to show to you to-night is the original manuscript of the poem in which the couplet appears."

Which turned out to be true, and Mr. Morgan looked over the precious manuscript before he proceeded with his legal business.—[From Collier's for October 24.

Woman Only a Pawn.

"While woman's demands occupy so large a place in the industrial world, it is noticeable that she is herself only a pawn in the industrial game played by man, says Professor Thomas in the November American Magazine. Her individual possessor uses her as a symbol of his wealth, and the captains of industry make her and her changeable and expensive fashions the occasion of a market for the costly and changeable objects which fashionable habits force her to accept. New fashions are not always beautiful; they are even often ugly, and women know it; but they embrace changes as frequent and as radical as the ingenuity of the mode-makers can devise. Women do not wear what they want, but what the manufacturers and trades-people want them to wear. The people who supply them also control them.

"This does not, however, alter the fact that the general tone and pace of social life are deeply influenced by woman's emphasis of finery and form. There is an old story of a lady who purchased a pair of brass andirons, and then by degrees persuaded her husband to refurnish the whole house to match them. Just so, when silks and furs and gems and lace and the unmixed gold are attached to the person of woman, it follows also that the household and the world in which she moves are transformed to harmonize with her showy taste and appearance. Beginning with the rugs, tapestry, porcelain, silver plate, fine linen, and the rich and gaudy furnishings of the home, the factitious personality of woman pervades and bedizens everything. The baffling array of silver at the twelve-course dinner and the costly box at the costly opera are equally a part of woman's dress. This situation is the despair of men, but it is 'society.'"

Wireless Time for Ships.

In a memoir recently submitted to the French Academy of Sciences, Professor Bouquè de la Grye offered a very valuable suggestion that met with a rather favorable consideration.

According to this suggestion there would have to be created universal signaling posts for transmitting, by the aid of wireless telegraphy, the time corresponding to the meridans of the earth, to vessels sailing on the high sea.

A daily signal given out at midnight from the Eifel Tower would thus transmit the time corresponding to the first meridan to vessels located on the Atlantic and Mediterranean. Captains would thus be kept posted exactly as to the point on which their vessel happens to be. This, however, would mean a material advance eliminating any danger, while dispensing with any laborious time calculation.—[November Technical World.

How the Russian Throne Got Its Heir.

A curious light on superstition in high places is related in the Woman's Home Companion for November. In this issue Kellogg Durland, writing of the Czarina of All the Russias, tells the following:

"When three children had been born, and no heir, the Czarina turned an open ear to various men who claimed supernatural power and control. Before the birth of Anastasie the aid of eminent medical and scientific men had been sought to influence the sex of the child, but all to no avail. And so, when science failed, religion was appealed to.

"The example of their trust in miracle working which history has been called upon to remember, is that of the dead and buried priest, who was supposed to have finally brought them a son, and who was canonized by the Emperor! The day of St. Seraphim is now one of the holiest of days in Russia, and is celebrated throughout the empire.

"Seraphim was an old priest of Saroff, in the interior of Russia, who, according to local tradition, was a kind of soothsayer and local medicine man. His particular power is said to have been in endowing barren women with children.

"Seraphim had been dead seventy years, but the Czar was now anxious to leave no stone unturned to procure a son, and encouraged by the Czarina, Seraphim was canonized!

"When the remains of the old priest were unearthed it was found that the body was badly decomposed, and to canonize a man whose body yields to the influence of decomposition is contrary to the traditions and customs of the church. The Orthodox Bishop Dmitry of Tambof ventured to call attention to this and protest the canonization to the Czar, but for his temerity he was deprived of his see and exiled to Viatka. Nicholas held that the preservation of bones, hair and teeth was sufficient qualification for saintship.

"So Seraphim was canonized with great pomp and ritualistic solemnity, and the next child born to the Czarina was a son! If anything were needed to fasten the belief of the Czar and Czarina in these extreme forms of religion, it was an answer to their prayers at this time. The boy was called Alexis, and he was born on July 30, 1904, according to the Russian calendar, and ever since the Czar and Czarina have been given more and more to the pursuit of spiritualistic religion."

Is the Home Disappearing.

One woman in five in the United States has abandoned the domestic life and has become a wage-earner. Even this does not accurately state the situation. In country districts only two women out of every eleven are at work, but in cities, that is, wherever industrial opportunities are present, two women out of every seven are at work, nearly one-third of the total woman population. How far the father of the family has ceased to be the sole supporter thereof is shown in the statistics gathered in twenty-seven cities and tabulated by the Census Bureau. The total number of women at work in the twenty-seven cities is 904,695. Of these 173,080 are boarding or living in the families of their employers. Out of the remaining 731,665 women at work 98,861 are supporting the family, and between 218,415 and 532,804 are contributing to the family income. Remember that these are city workers and represent nearly one-third of all the women in those cities. At last accounts the number of women in industry was increasing faster than the birth rate. How long will it be before the home, except for rich people, will be as obsolete as stage coaches, hoopskirts and merry Christmas? asks Rheta Childe Dorr, in "The Wreck of the Home," in Hampton's Broadway Magazine.

The Leaves of Fall.

The best things are forever new, and of the blessings of this, our fleeting pilgrimage, none arouses in us devoutier happiness than the multiform colors of the autumn; the sober browns, the changing yellows, the hectic reds. Nature takes us on her knee and improves us with serious discourse. In no other season does she lead us so inevitably to look before and after; and there is a joy even in pining for what is not. There is happiness in being tormented by the infinite. There is reflected everywhere the music of humanity, still and sad, but music always. The birds sing less often than they sang in spring. There is in autumn no anodyne like the summer haze. It is the season when our knowledge of life and destiny is with us always; when our sense of tragedy is most awake. Tragedy is not the worst of life, for tragedy is filled with beauty and significance; and in autumn lie the tragic beauties of the year.—[Editorial in Collier's for October 24.

An Endless Chain.

Suppose a tax of $15,000,000 was levied upon the banks of New York State in order to maintain a deposit insurance fund; where should that fund be deposited?

In the State treasury?

Then it would be just so much money withdrawn from circulation.

The State treasury itself deposits its money in the banks. Suppose the deposit insurance fund was also deposited in the banks.

Why not? The fund is supposed to make the banks absolutely safe against loss. That being so, why shouldn't the fund be deposited in guarantee banks? If they are safe for the money of the ordinary depositor, why not for the money of the fund?

If the guarantee fund were deposited in the banks, then we would have a beautiful endless chain, wonderful to look at, but so weak in its links that it would break under the slightest pressure of disaster, when we should all go down together.—[Wall Street Journal.

A Correct Answer.

The morning class had been duly instructed and enlightened upon the subject of our national independence. Feeling sure she had made a real and lasting impression with her explanations and blackboard illustrations the young teacher began with the usual round of questions:

"Now, Sammy Smith, where was the Declaration of Independence signed?"

Sammy, with a shout of glee: "At de bottom, ma'am—that's what you said!"—[Exchange.

HOW TO ACQUIRE A GOOD COMPLEXION

The following formula for a toilet preparation that is probably the most effective known to the profession for producing the rose tinted complexion now so desirable and enabling the discontinuance of all cosmetics and powders:

Two ounces Rose Water; one ounce Spirits of Cologne; four ounces Sartoin. Put the Sartoin into a pint of hot water (not boiling) and when dissolved and cooled, add the Rose Water and Cologne Spirits; then strain through a fine cloth. Any large bottle will serve as a receptacle.

These ingredients can be gotten from any well stocked druggist and easily mixed.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The market box exchange started up with a whoop yesterday morning and dealers were kept more busy explaining their situation in regard to selling old boxes after they were selling goods. It will be some time before the box exchange is well understood, particularly by the housewife. Please gentlemen and buyers. The idea is to sell the box and all that it contains and not only the contents, as has heretofore been the case, with an extra charge on the box, this to be refunded when the return is made. The exchange will pay a fair price to holders of all boxes, and will "bear the brunt" of the matter. It has been the first need the boxes, demanding from them a fair price.

The egg market was quiet, with arrivals of only 38 cases over Saturday and Sunday. The few locals that were put up were held beyond the bidding. Some eastern stock was offered.

Butter receipts were 13,488 pounds. Listlessness prevailed in this commodity, as well as in all others listed on the Produce Exchange.

Cheese arrivals were 44¢ pounds. There were a few offerings, but buyers were not on hand, and prices remained about the same.

Constantation returned among the potatoes when receipts of 14,623 sacks were reported. The supply has been large right along, and with the North dumping them into the market, the price is bound to go smash. Yesterday there was slashing of current quotations on the street in order to move stock standing on railroad tracks or already in the warehouse. Another feature of the market was the offering of the first full car of Oregons, to arrive during the middle of this week.

Onion receipts were 417 sacks. Prices were very weak on account of these good receipts. There were light offerings of Australian Browns on the exchange.

White arrivals of 529 sacks of beans, that product showed little improvement in values. Limas were offered at a considerable cut, while other varieties of beans were weak.

Sweet potato arrivals were 240 sacks. On the street they moved slowly and the late arrivals were not of particular grade.

Apple arrivals totaled 11,355 boxes, a feature which in no way assisted in raising the value of the fruit. Pears were about the same, while only a few peaches were obtainable. Grapes of the black Morocco variety advanced to 90 cents. Missions were lower on account of the increased receipts. They sold down to 40 cents per box. Quinces jumped to 1.25 per box.

Fish from the North, particularly carp, were very plentiful. There was no superabundance of local fish. Abalones from San Diego and crawfish were well represented.

MINING STOCKS HIGHER.

Combination Fraction and Daisy Score Advances on Sales—Election Bets Offered.

While prices on the leading stocks on the Los Angeles-Nevada Mining Exchange, yesterday, were materially higher, trading was light and unimportant. Brokers were busy talking politics and offering bets on the outcome of the election.

Combination Fraction sold at 1.27@1.28 on the early call, a total of 200 shares changing hands. Six hundred shares were sold at 1.30 on the informal, the price having edged up on good returns from the San Francisco market, and it closed with a strong undertone. The close on the informal was at 1.30@1.31, up 3 points in each quotation.

Daisy sold at 1.00 on the early call, and closed at 1.02@1.04 on the informal, after sales of 500 shares at 1.01, regular, and 500 at 1.02, buyer thirty days. The close showed a net gain of 4 points in each quotation.

FIRM TONE IN WALL STREET.

PRICES ARE LIFTED PERSISTENTLY DURING SESSION.

Some of Leading Stocks Sell at High Level for Year and Market Is in Readiness to Take Advantage of Result of Presidential Election. Speculators Clean Up Accounts.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The tone of the stock market today was reflective of the determination to meet the situation after the election from the greatest possible vantage point. Prices quietly and persistently were lifted during the session, some of the leading stocks selling at the high level for the year and the movement of the active list coming to the election period not far below that. Union Pacific rose above 174, compared with 173¾ on Friday, when the extraordinary net earnings for September were made public. The clearing up of speculative accounts on the part of operators timid about carrying over the election, which was in evidence Friday and Saturday, seemed to be completed and the way was opened to an easy advance. The professional element about the stock exchange is confident that a further demonstration for higher prices would be made after the election as an attraction to an outside speculation and also for the purpose of realizing.

The comment of those operating on the market concerned itself almost entirely with consideration of this kind. The Union Pacific September earnings was made the nominal reason for the recovery in that stock to the highest price of the year. There was more or less discussion, however, of the effect of this favorable showing on the plans of the railroads to affect an advance in freight rates after election. Further reports for September showed gains in gross earnings of the western grain carriers. The heavy and early grain movement was given credit for this showing. The case of the great eastern trunk lines was different. The New York Central and Pennsylvania statements for September were both given out today and both showed heavy declines in gross earnings and the cut in operating cost sufficient only partly to offset this loss. The same thing was apparent in less degree with the minor trunk lines.

Copper rose again at the local metal exchange. A stock market holiday abroad subtracted something from the day's dealings.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $4,714,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

WHEAT MARKET LACKS SUPPORT.

PIT TRADING IS LISTLESS AND BEARISH ALL DAY.

Decline Sets in Early and Prices Fail to Rally to Any Great Extent. Close Is Unchanged and a Shade Lower Compared With the Final Quotations on Saturday.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—The wheat market was a listless affair all day, and, with the exception of a little firmness at the opening sentiment was bearish the entire day. At the start prices were 1-8 lower to 1-8@1-4 higher. During the first few minutes of trading all of the opening gain was lost on selling by some holders who did not wish to hold their lines over the holiday tomorrow. The market lacked any good support and price failed to rally to any great extent from this early decline. At the close prices were unchanged to a shade lower compared with Saturday's final quotations, with December at 99 7-8@1.00 and May at 1.03 3-8. Absence of export demand, liberal primary receipts and continued excellent weather news of the crop of wheat in this country offset bullish advices from Argentina and Australia and discouraged new buying for long accounts. Favorable weather for the new crop induced considerable selling of corn which resulted in slight weakness, but prices at the close were unchanged for all deliveries compared with the previous close. Oats displayed moderate firmness at the start but soon eased off and continued weak the balance of the day. Trade in the cash market was dull but prices were steady to ¼ higher. Cash interests were the principal buyers throughout the day. At the close prices were 1-8 to ¼ lower with December at 48 1-4@48 3-8 and May at 50 1-8. Provisions were rather weak at the opening, but the market soon rallied sharply and continued firm the remainder of the day. At the close prices were 4@7 cents to 15 cents higher. The butter and eggs exchange will be closed tomorrow.

Cash quotations were as follows: Flour was steady; No. 2 spring wheat, 1.03½@1.03½; No. 3, 92@1.02; No. 2 red, 1.00¾@1.01¾; No. 2 corn, 66@66¼; No. 2 yellow, 70¼@71; No. 2 white oats, 49½@50; No. 3 white, 48¾@50; No. 2 rye, 74@75; good feeding barley, 52@53½; fair to choice malting, 60; No. 1 northwestern flaxseed, 1.28½; prime timothy seed, 3.75; short ribs, sides (loose), 8.50@8.12½; mess pork, per bbl., 14.37½@14.50; lard, per 100 lbs., 9.42½; short clear sides (boxed,) 9.25@9.50; whisky, basis of high wines, 1.27.

New York Cotton Market.

(By Private Wire to E. F. Hutton & Co., Bankers and Brokers, Members New York Stock Exchange, No. 111 West Third street.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Cotton opened steady, 4 to 8 points higher. Trading was quite heavy, but not very active. It was more of an evening up over-holiday affair. Reports are that the leading Wall street operator was a heavy seller on the theory that a reaction is due. The movement is very heavy. Estimated receipts tomorrow are expected to be largest of the season. Spots were quiet and firm with a fair demand. Advices foreshadow more active market is expected, and sentiment, on the other hand, is very bullish on the outlook. Liverpool will be the only market open tomorrow.

Dick Bros. say: "Cotton was quiet and steady, and higher today on strong cables and a better feeling regarding the strike situation in Lancashire. Masters and operatives will meet tomorrow, and it is expected that an early termination is likely. Trade news shows still further improvement, with buyers operating heavily, and the prospect is good for high prices for nearly all lines of dry goods. There was more or less evening up over election, but the undertone was steady.

Hill says: "I am not afraid of the cotton market, nor am I afraid of the probability of American politics, but I do fear hysterics and misrepresentations and most mistaken ideas immediately following the election, when it may appear that chaos rules. With these ideas in mind I am telling those with nerve and means to buy cotton confidently as it cannot hurt badly, but people of weak nerves should buy only after election, although at higher prices."

Greene says: "The feeling here is quite bullish; there was heavy selling of near months, and buying of the distant options on Saturday, and as we have said all the time, there is plenty of money in doing this. New Orleans was closed. The next ginners' report will be out Monday next at the opening. There is plenty of January for sale above 90 and above this figure we would sell it for turns."

Following is range of quotations today:

The Spanish Necklace.

By Bertha N. Croker.

[Copyright, 1908, by B. N. Croker. All rights reserved.]

Hester leaned back against the tree trunk and put her hand over her face, which was working convulsively. He saw the tears trickling fast under her pretty unglazed fingers.

Paul de Sarazin had taken part in various love scenes, but never in one approaching this. He had held tender interviews in dim rooms, behind large fans, on moonlight nights, on terraces, in corners of conservatories, even in the daytime on a motor car; but on no occasion had he experienced anything of a similar description—a lady receiving his vows in a storm of tears.

"Will you not trust me? Will you not believe me?" he pleaded. "I swear I will be true. Of course, I have been wild and foolish—all the world knows that; but I will turn over a new page, and you, beloved lady, will make me good." As he spoke he took her disengaged hand in his. "What do you say? Speak to me."

"I will speak—I do love you"—her voice was half a sob. "Oh, you know that! But I am afraid."

She hesitated, her mind filled with the poignant memory of the anguish of jealousy this handsome lover had already occasioned her; of the mysterious story of the duel, a fiction—yet it had hurt as sharply as a fact—the vague whispers that went round Biarritz, his unknown past, including the siren Dolores, the unknown future, and its pitfalls.

"I am afraid," she repeated. "Let us wait a month—so as to know one another better."

"And to prove me your true knight always."

She made no reply for sometime. At last she said: "Let us remain unbound in any way, and at the end——"

"The end," he interposed, "will be the beginning of my happiness. But, dear lady, you have told me that you care for me; this I cannot forget; this fact, though it binds you not, binds me to you for ever."

And as he spoke he stooped down bareheaded, and kissed her hand.

"Tell me one thing," he asked, after a silence. "Why should we wait? What is it that you fear?"

"I am afraid of myself," she answered tremulously—"yes, and of you. I am jealous. When Mrs. Tudor told me of the duel, I was secretly distracted. Yes, I was, and we left Biarritz at once."

"Madre Santissima," he exclaimed. "Was that what sent you into Spain?" And he pressed her hands tightly in his.

"It was," turning away her face. "I realized then how horribly, horribly jealous I could be."

"And yet you had no reason—you know that!"

(Oh, what a charm in the low, vibrating voice.)

"No," and she drew away her hand and met his eyes steadily. "But I warn you—it must be all or nothing."

"It is all. Surely you will believe me? Tell me how I shall prove it to you? What can I offer, or promise, on my knees?"

"Prove it by waiting for one month before we are pledged to one another—before all the world knows. Grant me this favor."

"I see, you wish for a term of probation, the purgatory before heaven." He paused, struck by the pale intensity of her face. "Well, then, have it so."

"Yes, I will have it so," she murmured, as she slowly dried her eyes. "Now we will return to Mrs. Tudor, she will be wondering——" She could not complete the sentence.

"May I inform her?" he asked gravely.

"That you are free, of course."

"No, for I hold myself pledged to you—you have told me something that binds me to you, till the end of my life."

"No, no," said Hester, invaded by a spirit of perversity she could not analyze. "There is no pledge yet—we are both free."

Her companion received her verdict in disapproving silence; and in silence the two descended the woods to where a blue parasol marked the limit of their tete-a-tete. The girl's mind was a tumult of conflicting and self-torturing thoughts. Wretched, cowardly creature, surely she had done wrong not to snatch at this chance of happiness—perhaps her only chance. Why had she refused and thrust away with her own hand her heart's desire? Why steeped for years in the black gulf of misery, combated her sterner self, that dour puritan nature, with its old-world claims; the same that had held her in its grip on the bridge of Calahorra.

Oh yes, happiness was worth waiting for, and, after all, how little they knew of one another. La Pelota, his mother's reception, a dance, casual meetings in the streets or on the links, and those two happy days in Cordova, was the sum total. Now they were bound to at least meet and talk daily—heart stirring prospect.

For his part, Paul was reflecting. "So this English girl is aware of her own value; like all red-headed people, she is jealous—she has been hearing some tales of me. At least, I am the first man who has made love to her—one sees that, and I will wait. I will be good to her. I will marry her all the same." But in his heart Paul, the irresistible, was conscious of a certain sense of resentment—in short, he was both nettled and hurt.

If she had been a Spaniard, instead of weeping, making objections and difficulties, and talking jealousy and delay, she would have thrown herself into his arms with impassioned abandon. However, she was not a Spaniard, but an English girl.

Mrs. Tudor, sitting alone, was busy, too, with more complacent reflections. How furious some people would be if her matchmaking—a match forced upon her—was crowned with success. To think of the poor, shrinking creature she had befriended some months ago blossoming into the fashionable and important Marquesa de Sarazin.

Well, Hester, of course had always been secretly in love with Paul, and "ce que femme veut, Dieu veut." Ah, here they came at last. But Paul was looking unusually solemn, and Hester had undoubtedly been crying. Was Paul responsible for her tears?

With a murmured excuse about a telegram, Hester left the others alone, and turned towards the hotel, whilst Mrs. Tudor and her suitor followed her at their leisure.

The Marquis de Sarazin at once placed his companion in the position of parent to his future wife, although there was as yet to be no public or formal betrothal, and in his tone was a faint echo of disappointment and regret.

"No, we are not engaged," he concluded gravely.

"Oh, you can make love so well without being engaged, Pablo mio," muttered the old lady, as she peered up at him with her sharp blue eyes.

He assured her of his father's hearty sanction to the marriage, deplored the lady's invincible reluctance to bind herself to him at present, but declared that he knew she would eventually be his wife.

"And why are you so certain?" asked Mrs. Tudor.

"Because I venture to think that she loves me. She is cold and she is formal, but she truly does care. And—so do I."

"Now, I cannot imagine why she won't allow the engagement to be an fait accompli. I suppose the fact is she has been scared by your reputation as a flirt. She wishes to be sure that you are in earnest."

"I am certainly in earnest. By and by, I shall inform my father and family of my hopes, and at the end of my probation we will go to England, or to Spain, and be married. I do not believe in putting things off."

"No?" And she raised her eyebrows with an incredulous expression.

"There, you see, I am not a true Spaniard," he added, with his charming smile, "for you know our saying, 'Mañana—es otro dia'—There is always tomorrow.'"

CHAPTER XXXI.

THE UNOCCUPIED LOVER.

Paul de Sarazin came daily to Cambo, and Hester surrendered herself to the enjoyment of the fulfillment of her brightest dreams. He brought flowers and books, he also brought a fine ring, composed of one magnificent black pearl; but this the lady refused to wear, being for the present satisfied with a certain knot of ribbon and a bunch of dead primroses. Mrs. Tudor, therefore, took temporary charge of the proffered pledge, and acted, so to speak, as chaperon, adviser and referee; but in private she remonstrated with Hester in no measured terms.

"My dear," she said, "you are behaving in a most idiotic manner! I really thought you had more sense! You are fond of Paul—honestly, you care for him very much—at last you have your heart's desire, he asks you to marry him, and he is attached to you, as one can see, yet you put him off—there must be a period of waiting, of probation! Why are you playing with fate in this way?"

"Because I am afraid my happiness may not be real—may not stand the test of time."

"Fiddlesticks! Test of time, indeed! I think Paul, the spoiled darling of various nations, is not a little astonished and hurt by your reluctance to believe him. He cannot understand your attitude—you won't be engaged now, but some day! Have you heard the Spanish proverb—'By the street of By-and-by, one comes to the house of Never.' Take care!"

"I am taking care," she murmured.

"'Take care!' repeated Mrs. Tudor. 'You may be sorry for yourself yet. I know you are jealous. If you think you can pin a man down to never looking at or speaking to another woman, the sooner you divest yourself of that illusion the better. Paul will always be attracted—and attract. I expect the story of a demi-semi-engagement has already filtered out in Biarritz—people will know the much-in-request Marquis de Sarazin does not give up all his engagements and come out to Cambo for nothing. He has been here four times this week—he is here"—and she pointed to the red motor—"now."

Hester kept her suitor at a distance; he was never permitted to claim the privileges of an engaged man. A flower, a look, a faint allusion to the future, was bliss sufficient for her; and if there are songs without words, there are also looks without speech, and in this accomplishment the Marquis de Sarazin was, even as a child, unrivaled.

Although Mrs. Tudor disliked motoring, she dissembled her dislike, and accompanied Hester on various excursions in the red Mercédes car. What sacrifices was she not making for the girl!—her afternoon snooze, her little local drives, her correspondence—and yet there was a certain amount of stirring excitement in whirling through the country, goggled and veiled, in company with her interesting associates.

They visited the Pas de Roland and the quaint old Basque town of Saint Jean Pied du Port, built at the foot of a hill crowned by a fort. Here they lunched and inspected the primitive market, with its varied stock, the herds of cattle, lambs, goats and mules, and the black-browed dealers; true Basques with their funny short jackets and hardy physique. They also penetrated to Roncevaux, and saw the old convent and the relics of Charlemagne. This was a long excursion, and Mrs. Tudor felt, as a consequence, very tired and cramped; so the following afternoon they contented themselves with a short drive, which they concluded in the village of Upper Cambo. There is a straight shady road on the hill above the river; at the farther end is Old Cambo, with its convent, steep streets, and ancient Basque church, surrounded by a cemetery—the latter was one blaze of Spanish iris in blue and purple splendor. They bloomed on every grave, and had a wonderful effect, as the three visitors moved about, scanning headstones, and reading out the strange Spanish and Basque names. Here were Lecagnon, Gastel Hobia, Maria Hastoy, Noblia Antichuberria.

"Antichuberria was certainly my countryman," said Paul. "I suppose he came over the border, and settled here. Now, shall we go below the church to the platform which overlooks the river?" And he gave his hand to Mrs. Tudor and piloted her carefully down a few steps.

Here the trio halted high above the shining Nive, gazing on a valley which literally seemed to smile beneath them. There on the water was a boat, and a man fishing; in the fields beyond, great cream-colored oxen were working; a drove of small ponies were being driven over the bridge with the Basque cry of "Hu la! Hu la! Hu la!" a big dog and a small calf were coupled together—it was all so primitive, pastoral and peaceful. What a contrast to the glittering, restless world, to which the three spectators belonged!

DANGEROUS CODE.

THE SOCIALIST FEARS LABOR.

CHARGED WITH THREATS, SENT THROUGH MAILS.

Says His Comrades Will Flock to Rescue as He Only Obeyed Leaders in Dispatching Letters Containing Demands for Cash—Permitted to Secure Counsel.

Marshal G. Miller, alias Joseph H. N. Longy, who boasts of his socialistic principles, was in the United States District Court yesterday to plead to an indictment charging him with sending threatening letters through the mails. Upon his own motion, the case was continued until he could secure counsel. He stated that the Socialists of the city would flock to his rescue, as he had only put in practice what the leaders had taught him.

Under several aliases, Miller wrote to business men, demanding small sums of money. He stated that he would burn their houses if they did not comply with his request.

In one letter he wrote: "You know it to be desirable to go through this world along the line of least resistance. Therefore I have adopted this method to make a long story short. Now put $5 in an envelope and send it by return mail to me at No. 514 South Main street, Howell Hall (rendezvous of Socialists.) If you don't you will wish you had, as all others in other parts of the country. I don't like to do anything wrong, but business is business. If I don't carry out my threat, why I will have to go to work, and that is a very undesirable proposition."

In other letters Miller stated that he would throw a can of kerosene, with a bunch of matches attached to it, into the yards of men who refused to send him money.

When arrested the Socialist carried a gun designed to shoot inflammable liquids to a considerable distance. He is regarded as a dangerous character, who is ready to put his threats into execution if given an opportunity.

At first there was some doubt regarding the man's sanity, but his term in jail has given the officers a chance to observe his actions and they declare that he is merely steeped in the revolutionary doctrines of anarchists and that his whole purpose in life appears to be to obtain a living without work.

He came to this city from Chicago and prior to his arrest made his headquarters at Howell Hall.

FEARING ROPE, WELCOMES JAIL.

NEGRO WHO POSED AS WHITE SMILES AT SENTENCE.

Story of Attempt to Swindle Southern Family—When Arrested, Offender Is Told He Must Be Tried in Texas—Pleads Guilty to Be Imprisoned Here.

A broad grin appeared on the dusky face of Mack Harris yesterday morning, when he was sentenced to a term of nine months in the County Jail by Judge Wellborn in the United States District Court. Some one had told the negro that he would be tried in Texas for swindling a highly-respected southern family, and he dreaded the natural resentment of white men for his attempt to pass himself off as the son of a well-to-do resident of Johnson City, Tex.

The technical charge against Harris was using the mails to defraud, but the story of his attempt to pose as a white boy is an unusual one.

Through the error of a postal employé, Harris received a letter that was intended for Mackey Lee Harris, now living in Hollywood, and the son of S. H. Harris, one of the leading citizens of the little Texas town. The letter contained a reference to the proposed sale of young Harris's land and live stock. The father wrote for more explicit instructions, and the negro seized upon the chance to swindle the Texan.

He immediately wrote to S. H. Harris, urging him to sell or mortgage the land at once and to forward the proceeds to his address, No. 311 East Second street. As a shrewd stroke, the negro stated that he had dictated the epistle, as his hands had been injured, but at the bottom he signed, in shaky characters, "Your loving son, Mack Harris."

The family in Johnson City was astonished at the queer letter, and at first thought that the son had met with some accident.

This drew a tender reply from the mother, one of those letters that a young man considers sacred. She anxiously inquired about the health of her son, and added that if he needed the money, it would be forthcoming at once.

The negro wrote that he had a good business opening, and added: "Please mortgage the land for $900 and send it to me right away."

Mr. Harris, senior, became suspicious, and wrote to Sheriff Hammel, telling him the circumstances of the queer correspondence, and explaining:

"I am afraid that somebody has got hold of my boy's letters, and learning that he has some money coming, will try to put him out of the way."

The Sheriff sent the communication to Postal Inspector Wilson, who soon discovered the offender.

A trap was set to catch the negro. Mr. Harris was instructed to send a registered letter to his address, asking for power of attorney to sell the land.

The fellow "rose to the bait." He went to a negro lawyer, had a power of attorney drawn up and sworn to before a notary, and sent it to Johnson City. Then the chain of evidence was complete.

Harris and the negro lawyer were both arrested, but the attorney was afterward discharged. Harris was locked up in the County Jail in default of bonds. Then some one, possibly a fellow-prisoner, told him he would be sent to Johnson City to face the friends and neighbors of the Harris family. He pictured to himself what might happen to a negro who had posed as the son of white people and the brother of two charming southern girls. It got on his nerves. He intimated to one of the officers that he was ready to plead guilty to the charge, if he could be sure of imprisonment in this county.

WINE BOTTLES GO TO COURT.

LAWYER'S TALK ON VINTAGES THIRST-PROVOKING.

At Suggestion That Brands Be Tasted, Volunteers Step Forward Eagerly—Hearing on Demurrer in Case of Italian Colony Against Vineyard Company.

During a hearing before Federal Judge Wellborn yesterday on a demurrer in the case of the Italian-Swiss Colony against the Italian Vineyards Company of Los Angeles, a case of wine was taken into the courtroom by Attorney Frederick Lyon, of counsel for the defense.

The lawyer learnedly discoursed on the different brands of foreign wines in a way to make everybody thirsty. Samples of Chianti, Barbera, Gragano, Puglia and numerous Italian vintages were arranged in a row on the table.

The court decided that inasmuch as the argument was only on demurrer, he could not take judicial cognizance of the excellent brands, but the attorney explained that the bottles made their entry into court for the purpose of illustration. He suggested that if it was necessary to try the different kinds, there might be volunteers who would offer expert testimony. Several court officers made a simultaneous move toward the table, but it was decided that the wine tasting must be reserved for the trial.

Several interesting points were raised by opposing counsel. Attorney Shankland, who appeared for the Italian-Swiss Colony of Sonoma county, explained that the plaintiff has manufactured a brand of wine called "Tipo Chianti" for more than eighteen years without opposition. He said that the trade-mark has been copyrighted and that the defendant has no right to put on the market a brand of wine called "Tipo Barbera."

For the defense, Attorney Lyon maintained that the word "Tipo" is the Italian for type, and that it was used to express the idea that the wine was similar to the genuine article, which is made by Chevalier Pasquale Cianfanelli of Ruffina, Italy.

He explained that all imitations have to be branded according to the pure food law, and that the defendant manufactures wines that are merely "types" of the genuine Italian vintages. He held that this does not constitute an infringement of plaintiff's trade-mark.

The case was not concluded.

No imitation of Fels-Naptha will do what the original does.

The washerwoman's cold.

Do you know what it is? Did you ever have it?

This time of year the washerwoman's cold is epidemic among women who wash in the old-fashioned way.

Bending over steaming suds opens the pores. Rubbing on the washboard starts perspiration. And sitting in a draft to cool off closes pores and checks perspiration—suddenly.

Next day the washerwoman's cold.

With Fels-Naptha soap there is no boiling nor scalding. No hard-rubbing on the washboard. In half the time and with quarter the labor, the clothes are on the line—cleaner, whiter and sweeter than they ever were before. But cold or lukewarm water should be used.

You will know the genuine Fels-Naptha by the red and green wrapper.

Anty Drudge's Cure for Washerwoman's Cold.

Mrs. Hausfrau—"My arms were so tired, I sat on the porch for a few moments to cool off before putting the wash on the line, and here I am with a cold."

Anty Drudge—"It's your own fault. Why don't you wash the Fels-Naptha way? Here you've got to soak your feet an hour in mustard water, and your back's broken, when if you'd soaped your wash with Fels-Naptha, and set it to soak in cold water for half an hour, you'd have been spared the work as well as the cold."

Get genuine Fels-Naptha soap. Imitations are worthless.
